BORN UNDER THE BRIGHT LIGHTS

Employees at a San Jose department store have discovered a sparrow family roosting overhead in a fluorescent lighting fixture (circle). David Rixter (right), a lighting specialist, may be the adopted father for the baby sparrows, because when he whistles, four hungry heads pop up from the nest. Mother Sparrow and offspring are doing fine with Rixter's help.

Soviet Space Lab Manned, In Orbit

NASA Official: Major Milestone

MOSCOW (UPI) — Three Soviet cosmonauts docked their Soyuz 11 spacecraft with the orbiting scientific station Salyut today and then climbed int Salyut to establish the first manned orbital space laboratory.

The Soviet Tass news agency said the laboratory was about 60 feet long and 12 feet in diameter, with a total weight of 25 tons. Television transmissions showed a room large enough for the cosmonauts to spin, weightlessly, head over heels without touching any of the equipment lining the walls.

The feat climaxed a 49-day effort that included a linkup April 24 between the three-man Soyuz 10 and Salyut. But Soyuz 10 remained linked for only five and a half hours and hurried back to earth. Indications at the time were that one of the spacemen might have suffered space sickness. Salyut has orbited unmanned for the past seven weeks.

It was the first time a crew has been transported to an unmanned scientific station in space, and scientific sources in Moscow said one or more manned spaceships may go aloft soon to join the space complex as prelude to a permanent orbital laboratory.

In Washington, NASA Administrator James C. Fletcher said the manning of Salyut "is a major milestone in the exploration of space."

"It is a clear demonstration of the Soviet Union's continuing interest in manned space flight, and represents a further experiment to determine the value of manned earth orbital operations," he said. "We wish the cosmonauts every success in their mission."

"We are witnessing a qualitatively new step in cosmonautics — a long term orbital station has been built," space scientist Boris Rauschenback told the roundtable.

"The questions of scientific technical control of such stations present big complications...This station should permit multiple docking. They must sometimes receive not one but another ship... And it is necessary to control the docked apparatus."

Tass said the combined weight of Soyuz 11 and Salyut was more than 25 tons.

Soyuz 11 roared aloft Sunday and chased the unmanned Salyut capsule to orbital rendezvous today. Commander Georgi Dobrovolsky, 43, is a space rookie. Flight engineer Volkov, 45, was flight engineer on Soyuz 7. Test engineer Victor Patsayev, 37, also is a space rookie who is a pilot-trained design engineer.

Tass said the Soyuz made an automatic approach to within 100 yards of the Salyut and the cosmonauts completed the docking manually.

After the two vehicles were mechanically coupled, their electrical and hydraulic communications were connected. The crew then checked the connecting tunnel for air tightness and Patsayev led Volkov into the salute.

Tass disclosed the enormous size of the airtight portion of the space vehicle—about 60 feet long and 12 feet in diameter with a capacity of 130.80 cubic yards. In addition there were many scientific apparatuses outside the airtight compartment.

It said Salyut "consists of compartments fitted out with equipments and systems for scientific and technical experiments and studies, for controlling the station's flight and its position in space, as well as with systems ensuring normal conditions for the crew's work and rest."

Tass said during the manned flight the crew will carry out studies and experiments including:

—Trying out the methods and autonomous means of the station's orientation and navigation, as well as the systems of controlling the space complex when maneuvering it in orbit.

—Studying geological and geographical objects on the earth's surface, atmospheric formations, the snow and ice cover of the earth with the aim of developing methods of using this data in the solution of economic tasks.

—Conducting medico-biological studies to determine the possibilities of performing various jobs in the station.

Tass said "An important step has been made in developing space technique and manned flights. The use of the new space complex — orbital stations with transport ships to service them — opens broad prospects for further studies and the utilization of outer space in the interests of developing science and the national economy."

The report did not indicate how long the crew would remain aloft.

A commentary in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, said today, "The construction of permanent orbital laboratories and observatories manned by crews of specialists means the start of the epoch of the regular use of outer space for the needs of science and the national economy.

Strikers Try To Block New York Commuters

NEW YORK (UPI)—Thousands of striking municipal workers tied up traffic on heavily traveled commuter arteries today by stalling city-owned trucks on highways and opening drawbridges over the Harlem River.

"We are on strike. This is only the beginning. It's going to escalate," Bernard Stephens, a spokesman for District 37 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes said.

Three locals of the union, the largest in the state, and a Teamsters local began the surprise strike just before the morning rush to protest reports the union's pension plan had been rejected by the State Legislature in Albany as it drives toward adjournment.

Mayor John V. Lindsay directed City Corporation Counsel J. Lee Rankin to seek immediately an injunction against the union in State Supreme Court. He denounced the strike as "an irresponsible act" and said it was "doubly outrageous" that the union was taking its anger at Albany out on New York City.

A police spokesman said the department was taking "all necessary action," including towing away the stalled trucks but he urged drivers to leave their cars at home. Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy surveyed the tieups from a police helicopter.

The unions did not block the Queensborough, Triborough and George Washington bridges or the Midtown and Brooklyn-Battery, all major links to Manhattan, but police said in many cases traffic on highways leading to the bridges and tunnels was stalled.

Victor Gottbaum, head of the union's 120,000-member District 37, warned recently that if the pension agreement reached with the city was not ratified by the legislature members would stage a "job action" aimed not at city residents but at commuters.

Lindsay convened his Emergency Control Board Sunday night in response to reports of a possible strike.

"Although the unions' quarrel is with Albany and the anticity legislators, it is doubly outrageous that a heretofore responsible union is taking out its frustrations and anger on New York City and people who are for New York City," he said in a statement from his Gracie Mansion residence where he met again this morning with the board.

The workers on strike during the morning rush were members of District Council 37 locals representing laborers and motor vehicles and parks workers and a Teamsters local which operates the drawbridges.

Strikers handed leaflets to motorists on blocked roads, charging that "this strike comes to you courtesy of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller" because the governor had held up a

HUD Aide Says Road Needed At Marin City

Future development of Marin City may be doomed unless the county of Marin agrees to build a $160,000 connector road between Marin City and Tamalpais Valley, an official of the Department of Housing and Urban Development said today.

James Price, director of the San Francisco area office of HUD, told the Independent-Journal the road is "absolutely necessary to community survival" and essential for development of Marin City as "an accessible, unisolated community."

If community development fails to materialize, the government may pull out of the project, Price added. In that case, he said the county could be left in the position of having to repay a $1.3 million loan which the federal government originally granted for the Marin City project in 1963. Much of that money was used for streets, sidewalks and sewers to ready the land for development.

Price said that the funds which the county would spend for the access road are also needed as part of the local share to enable the Marin County Redevelopment Agency to obtain a $918,105 federal loan and a two-year extension to complete Marin City's development. The agency is currently seeking the added money and time.

The redevelopment agency is in a "very bad financial position," Price said, because development in the southern Marin community has been almost nonexistent for the past seven years. The agency cannot continue to function unless the

B Of A Increases Home Loan Rate To 7.5 Per Cent

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Bank of America, the world's largest bank, announced today it was raising home mortgage loan interest rates from 7 per cent to 7 1-2 per cent, and restoring interest paid on one-year savings accounts to 5½ per cent.

Bank of America cut its interest rates several months ago in line with general nationwide cuts.

Today's increases "are in response to recent upward movements in the money markets," a bank spokesman said.

Interest on savings accounts held for two years was increased to 5 3-4 per cent, the bank said.

Tomorrow Is Election Day In S. Sonoma

Southern Sonoma voters will go to the polls tomorrow to elect representatives to the Petaluma Board of Education and Petaluma Hospital District while Petaluma residents will also select four city councilmen and decide on a $2 million sewer bond issue.

(For city council candidates' background, see story page 8.)

A total of 9,588 Petaluma residents will be eligible to vote and 7,363 in Rohnert Park, Cotati and unincorporated areas. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Candidates for three four-year terms on the Petaluma City Council are incumbent John W. Cavanagh Jr., incumbent Robert E. Daly, Rodney L. Cameron, Dona Cook, Lawrence E. Forney, Clarence F. Hilgeford, M. Patricia Hilligross, William A. Perry Jr. J. R. Wages and Donald E. Waite.

Approval of the $2 million sewer bond issue would provide funds to begin construction next March on a new pumping station, oxidation ponds and additional sewer lines. The improved sewage treatment has been required by the Regional Water Quality Control Board in an effort to reduce pollution in the Petaluma River.

It has been estimated that the general obligation bonds will cost 27 cents per $100 assessed valuation at its highest point in 1977-78.

Lane Closure On U.S. 101 Tomorrow

Northbound traffic on Highway 101 between the central San Rafael exit and the Coleman School pedestrian overcrossing will be limited to one lane tomorrow through Friday while repaving work is done.

The California Division of Highways said the temporary lane closures will be from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. tomorrow through Thursday and 8:20 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Mid-Air Plane Crash Kills 50

AZUSA, Calif. (UPI) —An Air West DC9 jetliner collided Sunday with a Navy fighter plane 12,000 feet over Mt. Bliss, killing 50 persons, including two infants. A radar officer on the military craft apparently was the only survivor.

Heavy fog and low clouds prevented search and rescue units from moving into the rugged and nearly inaccessible area today until the sun had burned through the overcast.

The two planes plowed into the rugged mountain in the Angeles National Forest, spewing wreckage a mile.

The known survivor was a Marine first lieutenant who parachuted to safety seconds after the collision. The pilot of his Navy Phantom F-4B apparently was killed.

Sheriff's deputies quoted witnesses as saying the military craft apparently ripped into the side of the DC9, opening a gaping hole. Witnesses said articles apparently streamed from the big jet as it plunged toward the mountainside.

County Fire Division Chief Dean Russell, who flew over the wreckage several times, was asked by newsmen if there were any other survivors.

"If there are, it will be the greatest miracle I've ever seen," he replied.

"There was no room for it (the DC9) to skid, it just went straight in. When it hit the ground it broke all to hell," a sheriff's spokesman said.

There were 44 passengers and a crew of five aboard the DC9, which split in two major pieces in a wooded area about 20 miles northeast of Los Angeles.

The Federal Aviation Administration in Los Angeles said the crash was the first in the United States of a commercial airliner on regular scheduled service since 1969.

Sheriff's deputies flown to the crash area said the bodies of nine persons, all apparently thrown clear on impact, were found beside the tail section of the jetliner.

Because of heavy fog authorities said no attempt would be made until daybreak to remove the bodies and look for others in the wreckage.

One of the first persons at the wreckage was Gary Butters, 17, of Azusa. He said he heard something like "a sonic boom" and took off on his trail bike up into the hills behind his home to where smoke was pouring from the mountainside.

"It was about 15 miles. I was the first one there. I saw wreckage all over and broken parts of the plane were still burning.

"I saw nine bodies, mostly in one area by the tail. It (the DC9) was really destroyed. There was nothing left. I don't think anybody could have survived.

"I stayed there for a while and then an officer came and I helped him mark the bodies with white flags, then I left," he said.

The Federal Aviation Administration said the jetliner was flight 706 from Los Angeles International Airport to Salt Lake City and had taken-off minutes before the collision. The Phantom fighter was out of El Toro Marine Air Station near Santa Ana, Calif.

The survivor, Marine 1st Lt. Christopher E. Schiess, 24, of Salem, Ore., who was serving as radar interceptor aboard the Navy plane, declined to talk to sheriff's investigators. He was treated at Santa Teresita Hospital in nearby Duarte for slight injuries.

Marine Capt. Larry Karch, a safety officer from El Toro, said the military craft was returning from a routine training flight when the collision occurred. He said he could give no further information pending a military investigation.

The FAA said there were no radio transmissions from either plane to indicate a collision was imminent. An Air West official

Plane Crash In East Claims At Least 20

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—An Allegheny Airlines plane, with 29 persons aboard, crashed and burned today after slamming into five unoccupied waterside cottages during an approach to New Haven Municipal Airport.

At least 20 persons were killed. Witnesses said the twin-engine Convair 508 enroute from Washington, D.C., to Connecticut veered to one side after apparently hitting overhead wires.

The crash occurred shortly after the plane took off from New London, its first stop, 50 miles away.

The bodies were still strapped in the seats of the plane and police officials said they would remain there until the arrival of Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) investigators.

There were 26 passengers aboard the plane in addition to the three-member crew.

Visibility in the area was reduced because of mist. Three persons were admitted to Yale-New Haven hospital.

The plane was due to land here at 9:52 a.m. (EDT).

At least one fireman was injured in fighting the flames that could be seen for miles around.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

CRLA Probe Over

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The federal commission investigating the California Rural Legal Assistance program has ended hearings and will submit its findings to the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity June 25.

CRLA was given a partial grant until the three-judge panel finished its investigation and Carlucci decides whether to override the governor's veto.

In his veto, Reagan asserted the antipoverty lawyers failed to represent the poor of California. He based his finding on a report by his antipoverty director, Lewis K. Uhler, who made 160 accusations against CRLA.

Rebel Capture Told

CALCUTTA (UPI)—The rebel Bangla Desh (Bengal Land) government of East Pakistan has confirmed for the first time that its leader, Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, has been captured and imprisoned.

The clandestine Bangla Desh radio Sunday night broadcast the admission of Rahman's arrest. Rahman, the leader of the Awami League which captured virtually all seats in December's first popular election in East Pakistan, was the man who touched off the secession movement in the Bengal region.

Until Sunday's broadcast, the rebel government maintained that he had escaped when Gen. Agha Mohammad Yahya Kan's West Pakistani forces cracked down on March 25.

Etna Spills Lava

SANT'ALFIO, Sicily (UPI)—Rivers of lava rushed down one side of Mount Etna today towards two farm hamlets, frightening villagers who were told only four days ago that it was safe to return home.

Officials said neither Sant'Alfio or Fornazzo were in immediate danger because the lava was still far above them on the slopes of the 10,902 foot tall Etna which began erupting 60 days ago.

Murphy Buried

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Audie Murphy, America's most decoated hero in World War II, was laid to rest today in front of the tomb of the unknown soldier at Arlington National Cemetery.

Murphy, who died along with five other men in a plane crash near Roanoke, Va., was given full military honors including a 21-gun salute as the flag was lifted from his steel gray casket, folded and presented to his widow, Mrs. Pamela Murphy, of North Hollywood, Calif.

Drums rolled during the funeral procession that started at the yellow stucco chapel on the cemetery grounds. The caisson was led by a riderless horse.

Lindsay Undecided

GOFFSTOWN, N.H. (UPI)—Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York stood at the same lectern used by John F. Kennedy to start his 1960 presidential campaign and said he has made no political plans for 1972.

"I don't know what I'm going to do next year," he said Sunday before giving a commencement address at St. Anselm's College. "I haven't any idea what course I'll take by way of endorsements of candidates or involvement in the '72 picture on one side or the other."

Lindsay has been mentioned as a possible presidential candidate and some politicians have urged him to switch from the Republican to the Democratic party.

Lead Report Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The lead industry says the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) was dealing in "pure speculation" when it labeled automobile exhaust emissions a cause of lead poisoning in children.

Lead Industries Association, Inc., said in a weekend letter to EPA administrator William D. Ruckelshaus that the report on leaded gasoline was made without a "review of accurate scientific facts."

The EPA study released last Tuesday said higher-than-normal levels of lead have been found in the blood of some adults, such as traffic policemen and parking lot attendants, who are exposed to auto exhausts.

European Talks

LUXEMBOURG (UPI)—The negotiations on Britain's third attempt to become a member of the European Common Market will be completed this month, officials of the market's commission said today.

Britain and the six members of the European Economic Community —France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—today entered a crucial month of talks on the final problems outstanding.

The foreign ministers of the six were meeting first with delegations from Ireland and Denmark and then scheduled a policy coordination session before confronting British chief negotiator Geoffrey Rippon.

Spring Winds Blow

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Violent thunderstorms and high winds interrupted a record-breaking heatwave over the eastern half of the nation Sunday. Funnel clouds hovered above the Midwest and flash floods threatened portions of the East.

No injuries were reported.

Winds up to 80 miles an hour raced through Chicago, knocking out electrical service for some 25,000 residents. Trees were blown down, cars damaged and the roof of a photo finishing shop collapsed on the south side of the city.

The storm chased away huge crowds of Chicagoans enjoying a record 97-degree temperatures on Lake Michigan beaches. A tornado warning issued when a funnel cloud was sighted moving toward the metropolitan area sent some scurrying for shelter and the heavy rain, thunder, lightning and winds chased away the others.

Soviet Vessel Rips French Ship, Sails On

CARTAGENA, Spain (UPI)—French naval engineers today examined the hulk of the destroyer Surcouf which lost nine of its crew in a collision with a Soviet tanker to determine whether the vessel can be towed to a French harbor.

Spanish naval sources said they doubted whether this will be possible. If not, the 2,750-ton carrier escort will have to be dismantled at this Spanish base.

The Surcouf was towed into Cartagena harbor early today with a 150 foot long section, from the bow to the forward boilers, sheared off. Nine of its 336 crew were missing and presumed dead, and one was evacuated by air to a hospital in Lyons, France, to be treated for burns.

One question was puzzling Spanish naval authorities following the collision early Sunday in the western Mediterrenean —what happened to the Soviet Tanker?

The vessel, identified solely by its name, Boucharov, continued its voyage without requesting help or offering assistance to the Surcouf, they said.

Board Of Pilot Commissioners Are Appointed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Morris Weisberger, secretary-treasurer of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, and J. Warnock Walsh, a stockbroker, both of San Francisco, have been named to the Board of Pilot Commissioners for San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun bays.

Bort are Republicans.

They succeeded Robert E. Mayer of San Francisco and Capt. Joseph W. Dickover of San Rafael, whose terms expired. Dickover, a steamship company executive, also is a Republican.

MASS FOR ROBERT KENNEDY

Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy knelt in a moment of solitary prayer yesterday, then placed a rose at her husband's grave in Arlington National Cemetery at the end of a 45-minute folk-guitar Mass on the third anniversary of the senator's assassination. The Kennedy children ringed the grave, several of them participating in the Mass including Caroline Kennedy, daughter of John F. Kennedy, who stood on tiptoes at the lectern to say, "This is the word of the Lord." More than 3,000 persons attended the Mass including former Gov. Averell Harriman, Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., and former Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

Red Rockets Kill Three Civilians In Da Nang

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist rockets killed three civilians in Da Nang early today and fighting broke out again in an area near the demilitarized zone (DMZ) where the allies reported killing 308 Communists in heavy weekend fighting.

Military spokesmen said U.S. AH1 Cobra helicopter gunships were raking the area in the Cam Lo sector 4 1-2 miles south of the DMZ in support of government troops. 3

U.S. command spokesmen reported three B52 bomber missions Sunday and early today in the area and a fourth to the west near the Laotian frontier.

Military spokesman announced that the U.S. Marines, first American combat troops in Vietnam, have completed their role as a fighting force in the war zone.

The number of American troops in Vietnam has dropped below 250,000 for the first time in more than five years, military sources said. Official U.S. command figures showed 250,900 as of June 3, a reduction of 4,800 from the previous week, and the sources said the total has since dipped below the quarter million mark.

U.S. spokesmen announced the stand down today of the Head-quarters, 3rd Marine Amphibious Brigade, along with support units totalling 1,240 men. The outfits include a 585-man military police battalion.

Fewer than 3,000 Marines will remain in Vietnam with the latest announced withdrawals under the seventh phase of President Nixon's redeployment plan.

U.S. Seeks To Expand World Trade

PARIS (UPI)—Secretary of State William P. Rogers called today for the Western countries to set up special machinery to further expand world trade and avoid trade conflicts.

Rogers made the appeal at the opening of a two-day session of the ministerial council of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD).

Rogers also announced the American government's readiness to improve Western Cooperation in combatting recurrent monetary upheavals due to uncontrolled movements of short-term capital.

Rogers, launching a massive U.S. offensive to win a new expansion of Western trade, said Washington strongly endorsed a suggestion put forward by OECD Secretary General Emile Van Lennep for the establishment of a special trade group.

Van Lennep's suggestion was inspired, in effect, by the United States, and had the advance backing of leading OECD members, including Japan.

The organization of leading western industrial powers, expanded its membership today to 23 nations through the admission of Australia.

Urging a new drive for a trade liberalization, to be coordinated by the new OECD group, Rogers said the new unit "could examine current and prospective trade issues — including tariffs and tariff discrimination, no-tariff barriers, and agricultural policies —and develop action program guidelines for dealing with them."

Rogers said "sober thought and careful preparation now can prevent a cycle of restrictions which, in the end, would benefit none of us. On trade, as on the other economic issues we will examine here, let us take the open approach which our own national experiences have shown will best advance the welfare of our people."

Blaze In Queens Fatal To Four

NEW YORK (UPI)—Four persons, including a 7-year-old child, were burned to death today as fire swept a two-story frame dwelling in the Springfield Gardens section of Queens.

A fire department spokesman said the victims were identified as Williard Ponders, 53, his wife, Evelyn, 47, their grandchild, Robert Breen Knight, 7, and William Armstrong, 30.

Air Show Collisions Are Fatal To Six

By United Press International

Two of the collisions occurred within 10 minutes of each other Saturday during a race of World War II trainer planes at competition sponsored by the National Air Races Association in Wildwood, N.J. Four pilots died.

Stunt pilot Gilbert Gillette, 42, of New Haven, Conn., was killed Sunday when his biplane nosedived into a sandpit at an airshow in Planville, Conn., during a spin. Among the crowd of 5,000 were his wife and children.

J.W. "Bill" Fornof, 46, of Houma, La., died Saturday when his F8F "Bearcat" crashed after colliding with a plane piloted by his son, J. W. "Corky" Fornof, 25, in an air show held at Quonset Point, R.I., for the benefit of the Navy Relief Fund.

The two planes, both World War II single-engine propeller aircraft, touched at 200 feet altitude. The right wing came off the senior Fornof's plane and it crashed. His son's craft suffered no serious damage and landed safely.

No spectators at the two events were injured.

At Wildwood, two planes brushed each other during the first lap of the race, causing one to crash killing Richard Minges, 34, of Fayetteville, N.C. The other plane landed safely.

Two laps later, three planes collided on another turn and crashed. The victims were Victor Baker, 43, of Glendale, Calif.; Joseph Quinn, 39, of Saugus, Calif., and Edward Snyder, 47, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Egypt Talks Of Combat, Victory, Isreal Of Peace

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Egyptian War Minister Mohammed Ahmed Sadek talked of an "inevitable battle" with Israel but Israeli Deputy Premier Yigal Allon said peace is essential to both sides.

Sadek praised his troops in a message from Cairo late Sunday, telling them their diligence, in preparing for war in the four years since the 1967 Middle East war had astonished both their friends and enemies.

"You stand fully prepared to meet the call of duty," Sadek said. "You work day and night untiringly. You raise your combat efficiency and acquire every day new strength, science, faith and new weapons for the inevitable battle."

Sadek said Sunday in an interview in the Beirut newspaper Daily star that Egypt was capable of defeating Israel. "The military command is waiting for the green light from the political command," he said.

But Allon, in a weekend interview with UPI in Tel Aviv, said "I hate to be unrealistic but deep in my heart I do believe that peace will come because it serves the interest of all Middle East nations. The Arabs need peace not less than Israel."

Allon said the United States holds the key to peace in the Middle East because it is the only Western power the Arabs respect.

Diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said Israeli officials were "greatly concerned" about the recent Soviet-Egytpian friendship treaty and militant remarks by Egyptian leaders. Prime Minister Golda Meir met with her cabinet Sunday to discuss the pact and outline a major policy speech she will make to parliament Wednesday.

Man-made fibers have made possible many improvements in the performance and appearance of your clothing. And the future is bright for the increased production of clothing that should be easier and more fun to wear and much more easily cared for. Who could guess at all the processes that must be performed before that outfit is ready to wear? Our hats are off to the spinning mill, the weaving mills, the dyers and finishers, and of course, to those who actually sew the clothes?

Lot Split On List Again

The owners will try for the second time to win San Rafael Planning Commission approval for subdivision of a 2.6-acre lot on Makin Grade, at the commission's meeting, at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall.

Gibraltar Savings and Loan Co. was denied permission to divide the property into five lots, after hearings in March and April. This time, the application is for only four lots, each of at least 20,000 square feet.

Also on the agenda are use permit requests to legalize an existing Texaco gasoline service station at 917 Irwin Street and expand it by demolishing an adjoining residence, as well as replace the station's sign.

Plans for restoration of the Marin Medical Group's clinic, damaged last year in a $60,000 fire, will be submitted for architectural approval. The commission also will see plans for a 254-unit apartment project at 100 Channing Way, on the Shareholders Capital Programs, Inc. property and for a triplex addition to a single family residence at 37 Pacheco Street.

4 Vehicles Are Stolen In Weekend

Four vehicles were stolen during the weekend in San Rafael, police reported yesterday.

A 1968 Jaguar, license WLH 171, was taken between 6:30 p.m. Saturday and 5 a.m. yesterday from in front of his home at 16 Bolanos Drive, Steven B. Weiss reported to police.

His 1970 Chevrolet, license 366 AWH was taken between 8:45 p.m. Saturday and 12:50 a.m. yesterday from a parking lot at 175 Belvedere Street, Keith E. Caughie of 92 Louise Street, reported to police.

A 1964 Mercury, license MIL 221 was taken between 8:30 and 9 p.m. Saturday from in front of his apartment at 30 Novato Street, Apt. 313, Glen D. Melville, told police.

His 1970 Honda motorcycle was taken between 9 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday from in front of his home at 11 Allensby Lane, Charles E. Turkington reported to police.

Spring Concert Set For 8 P.M. Sunday

The College of Marin Community Orchestra, conducted by John H. Myers, will present its spring concert at 8 p.m. Sunday (June 13) in the college's Fine Arts Building.

Lora Adams will solo in Bela Bartok's first violin concerto. Other works to be performed are the Little Russian Symphony by Tchaikovsky and the Secret Marriage Overture by Cimarosa.

OUTSTANDING CITIZEN — Lt. G. Albert Howenstein of the San Anselmo Police Department has been awarded the Outstanding Citizen of the Year Award by Division 8 of the Kiwanis Club. The three-county division cited Howenstein for his work against drug abuse.

Recreation Offerings Are Listed

Signups for an extensive list of San Rafael Summer recreation offerings for all ages will be open through June 15, according to Andrew J. Snyder Jr., director of parks and recreation.

Mail registrations, postmarked no later than next Monday, will be accepted for all courses except tennis. Drop-in registrations will be taken in Room 209 at the San Rafael City Hall through June 15, Snyder said.

Activities will range from courses in acrobatics, dancing, swimming and musical instruments to special outings to Disneyland, Point Reyes and the Sonoma County Fair, plus a series of special events at city parks and the recreation center.

Small fees will be charged for some of the outings, and for signups in courses by persons living outside San Rafael.

Baseball instruction will be provided for boys 7 through 15 years old, and eight one-week sessions of day camp will be held at Boyd Park for youngsters 7 to 12 years old.

ROTC To Halt Salvage Drives During Summer

The Air Force Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps squadron at Novato High School, which has been collecting newsprint for salvage, has discontinued collection during summer months.

Judge Gerald Levin Succumbs At 65

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Funeral services will be held Tuesday for U.S. District Court Judge Gerald Levin, who spent 15 years on city, state and federal court benches in California.

Levin died Saturday in San Francisco's Franklin Hospital. He was 65. He was hospitalized Jan. 17 after suffering headaches and later underwent surgery for a brain tumor.

Born in Danville, Ill., he moved to San Francisco in 1910. He graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1927 and earned his law degree there three years later.

During his adult life, Levin was active in civic and charitable organizations and spent a good deal of his time working towards a rehabilitation program for alcoholics.

He was a former president of the San Francisco Bar Association, a past chairman of the San Francisco Heart Association, a chairman of the Council on Alcoholism, director of the American Cancer Society and active in many other activities.

Levin was named to the San Francisco Municipal Court bench in 1956 by then Gov. Goodwin Knight. Six years later he was elevated to Superior Court. President Nixon appointed him to the federal bench in June 1969.

Nearly two decades ago, when he was a private attorney, Levin championed the cause of setting up a public defender system for the federal courts.

He gained notice as a municipal judge when he once suspended the licenses of 11 traffic offenders during a single court session.

Levin was a partner in the Pillsbury, Madison & Sutro law firm when he accepted the governor's appointment to the municipal bench.

He is survived by his widow, Frances, a speech therapist for the San Francisco Unified School District; two stepbrothers, Madison and Donald Marcus; and a stepsister, Marilyn Baxter.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at the California Masonic Memorial Temple.

Mills Predicts Nixon Defeat

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., says President Nixon has blundered so badly with the economy that any Democrat nominated for president next year should win.

The chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee said he couldn't have made a prediction of Nixon's defeat six months ago, but he said, "now, it's possible."

Mills said Nixon "has made a number of mistakes" with the economy and has been "caught on the horns of dilemma" in dealing with unemployment that rose to 6.2 per cent in May.

He was interviewed Sunday on "Meet the Press," NBC-TV.

Five Injured In Weekend Accidents

James Harry Lawrence, 29, of San Bruno, was to see his own doctor for a cut left foot in an accident at 4:15 p.m. Saturday, California Highway Patrol reported. Lawrence drove his car off Shoreline Highway north of Olema, patrolmen reported.

William Thomas McQueen, 26, of 1 Cedar Avenue, Kentfield, was to see his own doctor for minor injuries received in a one-car accident at 4:15 p.m. Friday on Laurel Avenue at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, patrolemn reported.

Donald Rae, 22, of 16 Ross Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes and bruises he received in a motorcycle accident, at 5:45 p.m. Saturday. Details of the accident were not available.

David Gutz, 22, of Pacifica, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes and bruises on his left arm. Details of the 10:42 p.m. Saturday accident were not available.

Special Bonus Offer for collecting All-Aluminum Cans

Reynolds Aluminum and Union Oil Join to fight litter

Now, in addition to getting 10¢ a pound (about ½¢ each) for every empty all-aluminum can you collect, you can get a bonus certificate good for Union's new Anti-Pollution gasoline. Low-Lead regular 76.

CASH PLUS BONUS

Here's how it works. For every 15 pounds of aluminum cans you bring to any of the listed Aluminum Can Collection Centers, you get a free Union Bonus Coupon good for one (1) gallon of new Low-Lead regular 76 at any Union Station in the San Francisco Bay area.* You get this bonus coupon plus the 10¢ a pound in cash. Aluminum must be in increments of 15 pounds to qualify for the Union gasoline bonus offer good now through December 31, 1971.

STOP THROWING MONEY AWAY

Start collecting empty all-aluminum cans and other household scrap aluminum. You'll be making money for yourself, your club or your organization. At the same time, you'll be helping to keep our city, our parks, our beaches beautiful.

COLLECT THE CANS WITH ROUNDED BOTTOMS

All-aluminum cans are easy to spot. They all have rounded bottoms with smooth sides and no seams and are non-magnetic. Many of them say "all-aluminum" right on the can. Don't be fooled though, by some easy-open cans that say "aluminum" on top. This does not mean they are all-aluminum. Remember, battered, squashed, stepped-on or dented—empty all-aluminum cans are now worth more than ever.

TO HELP YOU COLLECT

Reynolds Aluminum—and the other companies listed here—have established collection centers throughout the San Francisco Bay area. Bring your empty all-aluminum cans to the one nearest you. And start collecting, today.

LOOK FOR THESE BRANDS IN ALL-ALUMINUM CANS. THEY'RE WORTH MONEY!

additional time and funds are granted by HUD, he added.

Approximately $600,000 will come from government sources and the remaining $300,000 must come from local sources, Price said. Approval of the loan and time extension will depend on the agency's ability to meet the local share requirements, he continued.

He said the agency plans to claim the Manzanita Center (which the county helped build) and the proposed $94,000 police fire station as part of the non-cash credits toward the local share. The access road would provide the rest of the local share needed, he said.

Price also noted the success of the development project depends on the redevelopment agency's ability to sell the approximately 180 acres in the community's redevelopment area. "Without the road, Marin City will remain an isolated enclave and marketing the land will go slower and the chances of failure will be much higher."

If the additional funding is not forthcoming from the government, Price said the Department of Housing and Urban Development may have to close down the development project and disband the redevelopment agency which will have no money to operate.

If the government pulls out, Price said responsibility for Marin City development and for repaying the original loan — plus interest — could fall on the county's shoulders.

Wallace K. Shepherd, executive director of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, will meet tomorrow with county supervisors to ask them to include funds for the connector road in the county's proposed budget for 1971-72.

Kidnapping Report Is False

A reported kidnapping of a Tiburon woman Saturday turned out to be a false report, Marin County sheriff's deputies said today.

Deputies said a man who identified himself as Ralph W. Hagen called the sheriff's office about 11:30 a.m. Saturday and reported the kidnapping.

The man told deputies that he had been in the apartment of a Jan Gregg, 26, of 9 Seadrift Landing, when another man came in armed with a pistol.

The second man bound and gagged "Hagen," he told deputies, and kidnapped the woman.

The man said he was calling from a nearby public phone booth because the alleged kidnapper had ripped out the telephone in the woman's apartment.

Deputies arriving in the area found no sign of Hagen. The alleged kidnap victim, it was learned, did not live in the apartment building, but in Mill Valley and was reported to have been in Southern California Saturday.

Larkspur Due Budget Review

The Larkspur City Council, meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at city hall, will continue review of the proposed budget for fiscal 1971-72.

Scheduled for discussion tonight is a 5 per cent pay hike proposal for city employees. The council held the matter over last week after refusing to grant increases to top administrators.

Next year's proposed budget totals just over $1 million and carries a tax rate of $1.995 per $100 assessed valuation. This year's rate is $1.895.

Cook Wins AP News Award

Stephen C. Cook of San Anselmo, a reporter for the San Francisco Examiner, has received first prize in the annual California Associated Press news contest, AP officials announced today.

Cook's award was for his coverage of the Aug. 7 shoot-out at the Civic Center and took first place in the spot news division for metropolitan dailies.

$5,600 For Novato In City Auction

Novato netted $5,600 at its semi-annual auction Saturday selling out all unclaimed and surplus items on hand, according to Patsey Medeiros, account clerk.

A dump truck and two pickup trucks, a sedan, three police patrol cars and 45 bicycles were among the items auctioned.

Two Parcels To Be Sold

Two parcels of undeveloped land, one in Tiburon and the other in Fairfax, will be sold at an auction tomorrow in San Francisco.

The Tiburon land consists of 3.5 acres on the west side of Marinero Circle, which is zoned for approximately 38 units, according to the auctioneer.

The sale will begin at 2 p.m. at Del Webb's Towne House and will be conducted by Marsh Dozar Auctioneers of Beverly Hills.

Dozar said the sale has been commissioned by a major bank which is providing 90 per cent financing.

PLANES

said the twin-engine jet, with a passenger capacity of 98, was "climbing to its normal operating altitude of 29,000 feet" when the collision occurred at about 6:08 p.m. PDT.

The final destination of the DC9 was Pasco, Wash., after stops in Salt Lake City and Boise and Lewiston, Idaho.

Mike Zarate, an Azusa fire dispatcher, said he was sitting in his home here when he heard the collision.

"I heard a loud explosion and saw a plane coming down in flames. Heavy black smoke followed the plane."

Mrs. Dorothy Greve of Azusa also heard it.

"It sounded like a bomb blast and then it rolled like thunder," she said.

The crash ignited three brush fires which were quickly controlled.

Boy Held In Theft, Drugs

A 15-year-old Santa Rosa boy was arrested Saturday on suspicion of burglary of a Petaluma school and of possession of dangerous drugs.

Police said Larry Steven Ball was found inside the office of Bernard E. Eldredge School, 207 Maria Drive, at 2:20 a.m. where a window had been broken to gain entry.

Officers said a large quantity of pills was found in his possession and that he was under the influence of drugs at the time. Police said Ball threatened to commit suicide and was taken to Community Hospital of Sonoma County for observation and to be held for Juvenile authorities.

Dixie Board To Clean Up items

Dixie School District trustees will clean up several business items in preparation for summer school, at their regular meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the board room at 35 Trellis Drive.

Ten library assistants, two school secretaries, some 40 teacher aides and three teachers are on the list for summer school and music camp hiring approval.

District staff also will seek authorization to set a sale of used typewriters and surplus desks, and review the timetable for construction of additions to Oak View and Miller Creek schools.

Petaluma Budget To Be Presented

The preliminary Petaluma city budget for fiscal 1971-72 will be presented to the city council at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. today.

The council will receive the budget for study and set study sessions for discussions for the next several weeks. The council will also consider the adoption of a development policy as approved last week by the planning commission and consider awarding a contract for a box culvert and widening of East Washington Street near Maria Drive.

Man Booked In Police Assault

A 20-year-old Fairfax man was arrested yesterday morning on suspicion of assaulting a Fairfax police officer who was attempting to make a routine misdemeanor arrest of another man.

Held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $6,250 bail to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court was James Thomas Sanford of 362 Cascade Drive. Police said that Sanford hit an officer when Sanford and another man attempted to stop the arrest of another man on a drunk charge.

contract and pension negotiated with the city. The leaflet said the average wage of the striking employes was $7,500 and for many the only alternative to the pension would be going on welfare.

As of 7:30 a.m., police reported, 19 roadways were blocked by stalled vehicles and 28 of 29 drawbridges left open, most of them over the Harlem River which runs between the boroughs of the Bronx and Manhattan. The bridges carry part of the flow of commuter traffic from suburban Westchester County into midtown Manhattan.

The Traffic Department said at midmorning the traffic situation was "easing up" as tow trucks removed the stalled vehicles from highways but side streets still were jammed with cars trying to avoid the roadblocks.

Highways Commissioner Vincent J. Gibney reported the drawbridges were "inoperable because key component parts have been removed."

Police closed the Cross-Bronx Expressway, a major truck route between the main line and New England branches of the New York State Thruway, shortly before 10:30 a.m. because the connecting Bruckner Avenue drawbridge still was unusable.

Bids Opened On Slide Work

The California Division of Highways has opened bids for a slide repair project on Shoreline Highway and for installation of traffic counting devices on highways 101 and 37.

The division said it received three bids for repair of storm damage on Shoreline Highway one-half mile south of Stinson Beach. Low bidder was Blasi Construction and Al Blasi of Healdsburg, at $54,083.

Electronic vehicle detectors will be installed on Highway 101 at the Lucas Valley Road undercrossing and on Highway 37 just south of the Marin-Sonoma line. Dale Contractors of Monrovia, Los Angeles County, was lowest of three bidders at $20,088 for the two projects and nine others in the Bay Area.

Car Overturns, Injuring Youth

A 16-year-old San Rafael youth was injured yesterday at 10:35 p.m. when the car in which he was riding overturned on Lucas Valley Road one-half mile west of Mount McKinley Drive.

Mark Ross, of 1330 Idylberry Road, was treated at Marin General Hospital for back bruises.

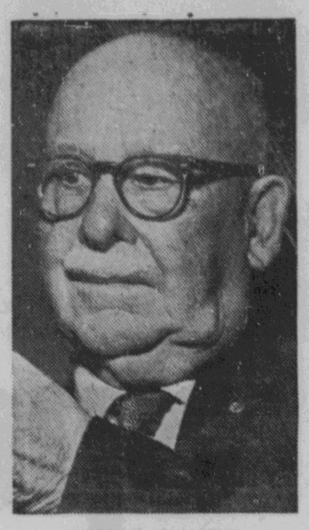
The California Highway Patrol said he was a passenger in an auto driven by Martin R. Ross, 20, also of the Idylberry Road address. Officers said the elder Ross told them his car overturned when he swerved to avoid a deer.

Health Program Hearing Slated

A public hearing on the San Anselmo School District's proposed health education program will be held tomorrow by the district board, meeting at 7 p.m. at Red Hill School.

The public hearing stems from an earlier meeting when Trustee Eugene E. Jacks, supported by a group of citizens, demanded the hearing even though the program was scheduled to be outlined for the public on three other occasions.

The board's hearing will be preceeded by a closed session to discuss salary negotiations with its representatives.



ROY D. GRAVES
Local Historian Dies

OBITUARIES

Roy D. Graves, 82, Dies

Funeral for Roy D. Graves, Marin County historian and collector of railroad pictures, was held today in San Francisco.

Graves, 82, died Saturday in San Francisco after a long illness.

It was his interest in history that won him widespread recognition, especially his collection of more than 50,000 photographs of railroads, in demand among railroad buffs throughout the nation. He loaned them to authors to use in many books. Among the authors who consulted his accurate memory of railroads and who used his pictures, was Lucius Beebe. Many of his pictures have appeared in the Independent-Journal.

He was curator for the Marin County Historical Society Museum from 1958 to 1563.

He was born in San Francisco of pioneer California stock. His grandfather, Hiram T. Graves, came to California in 1849. His father, Hiram A. Graves, was a conductor for the North Shore Railroad in Sausalito. Graves started to work for that railroad in 1904.

In 1907 he was fireman on the Mill Valley and Mt. Tamalpais Scenic Railway. He also worked for the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific Railroads.

From railroading, he turned to engineering on ferry boats and tug boats in the bay. He held various engineering positions on the Key Route ferries until 1931.

He was engineer at the State Refrigeration Plant in San Francisco from 1931 to 1938; engineer at the War Memorial Veterans Building and Opera House from 1938 to 1941. He continued working for the public works department until 1959 when he retired. After that he was curator of the Marin museum.

He was a member of the Marin County Historical Society, Railroad and Locomotive Historical Society, California Historical Society, California Pioneer Society and Friends of Bancroft Library.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel; a son Norbert Graves; a daughter, Jean Ferrari; two grandchildren and one great grandchild, all of San Francisco.

Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Budget Proposal Due For Petaluma Board

The Petaluma Board of Education, meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow, will hear a recommendation that salaries remain the same for budget purposes until agreements can be reached in negotiating sessions.

Schools Supt. Lesly H. Myer said current salaries would be used in preparation of the 1971-72 budget since negotiations on salaries may not be complete until fall.

RAMONA CASTAGNINO

A Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated today at St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo for Ramona H. Castagnino of San Anselmo, who died Thursday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Castagnino, who was 66, was born in Ione, Amador County. She lived all her life in California, the last 45 years in Marin County. Her home was at 71 Elm Avenue.

Her husband, Emanuel (Babe) Castagnino, a retired house painter, died in 1967.

Burial was in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

CARL CONRADI

Carl Conradi, San Francisco lawyer and San Rafael resident died, yesterday, of a heart seizure aboard his cabin cruiser docked near Antioch. He was 62.

Conradi lived at 138 Loch Lomond Drive for almost five years and spent his entire life in the Bay Area.

He was a native of San Francisco and graduated from Stanford University and Hastings Law School. He was senior partner in Conradi and Dreyfus Law firm. He had also been president of the Loch Lomond Yacht Club in Marin County.

Conradi is survived by a daughter, Carlene McDonald of El Sobrante; a stepdaughter, Beverly Minenna; and three grandchildren, Stephen, Bruce and David McDonald.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 7 p.m. in Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

GERALD RICHARDS

Funeral for Gerald M. Richards, 67, of 109 Bridgeway, Sausalito, will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in Andrews and Greilich Mission Chapel, Sacramento. Richards, a native of California, died Monday in a San Francisco hospital.

He was formerly an engineer with the State Department of Architecture. He was also in the Commonwealth Club and the Consulting Engineers Association of California.

Survivors include his wife, June; daughters, Geraldine J. Richards of Sacramento and Teresa J. Steward of Los Gatos; a brother, G. Barnett Richards of Sacramento and three grandchildren.

MRS. HARTMAN

Funeral for Jeanette R. Hartman, 59, of 30 Upland Drive, Mill Valley, will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Gantner-Felder-Kenny Chapel in San Francisco.

Mrs. Hartman, a leading Bay Area violinist, was killed in a three-car collision on the Golden Gate Bridge May 28 when her car was struck head-on by an auto southbound in the northbound lane. The collision slammed her car into another northbound auto.

Mrs. Hartman had played first violin with the Marin Symphony since the group was organized 19 years ago. At one time, she had been assistant concertmaster of the symphony.

In addition, she played with the Santa Rosa Symphony for more than 15 years and with the Vallejo Symphony for many years.

A native of Oakland, Mrs. Hartman studied music in Germany and later taught the violin to many students in Marin. She also was well-known in the Bay Area for playing with various San Francisco professionals in private homes. She was a member of the Musicians Union.

Mrs. Hartman also had worked for 20 years as a secretary for the Sante Fe-Pomery Co. in San Francisco.

Surviving is her son, Paul M. Hartman of Long Beach.

Inurnment will be at Chapel of the Chimes in Oakland.

MARY SIMONSON

Funeral for Mary Teresa Simonson, 81, of Novato, was held today in Novato. She died Saturday at Novato General Hospital apparently of a heart attack.

She was born in London, England and came to this country in 1914. She had lived in Novato for the past 14 years and in Petaluma prior to that. She was a retired companion nurse.

She was a member of the St. John's Episcopal Church, Petaluma Rebeccah Lodge, Morning Star Chapter of Order of Eastern Star, all of Petaluma.

She is survived by her husband, Alfred of the home at 8 Boulevard Terrace; five daughters, Florence Milner of Petaluma, Dorothy Hills of San Rafael, Kathleen Bellport of Cloverdale, Margaret Kane of Summit City, Shasta County, and Lorraine Bessellieu of Eureka; two sons, Wilfred Budd of Lost Hills, Kern County and Robert Simonson of Willits; two sisters, Edith McGill of Concord and Dorothy Hutchinson of Victoria, B.C.; 13 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

MRS. FEGAN

Funeral for Mary Anne Fegan, sister of Edward Doucette of Corte Madera, will be held tomorrow in Redwood City. She unexpectedly died Saturday at the age of 69.

Originally from Wisconsin, she had lived in California for 42 years. For many years she worked with the Young Men's Christian Association in kitchen services. She was a member of the Grange, Pescadero and was active in St. Anthony's Parish.

Mrs. Fegan is survived by her husband, Harry J. Fegan of Loma Mar, San Mateo County; four children: James Tucker of Belmont, Albert Cardoza of Loma Mar, Ruth Hammond of Redwood City and Vondella Blayney of Santa Cruz; a sister, Mrs. Helen Jane Byer of Santa Cruz; six grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Recitation of the Rosary will be this evening at Crippen and Flynn Chapel, Redwood City, and a Requiem Mass will be said at St. Anthony's tomorrow.

Mrs. Fegan will be buried at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

MARGARET GARVIN

Margaret (Maggie) Garvin, 88, of 81 Professional Parkway, San Rafael, died yesterday at a local hospital where she was taken earlier in the day with a fever.

Deputy Coroner Don Cornish said death was apparently due to natural causes.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., she had lived in Marin County six years and in California 30 years. She had worked at the Elmer S. Karpe Real Estate Co. in Bakersfield for 20 years.

Before moving to California, she had served as Supreme Grand Queen of the Sons and Daughters of Jerusalem in Kansas City. She was the widow of Joseph Garvin.

Surviving are three daughters, Dorothy Barb of San Francisco, Leora Suesberry of Los Angeles and Marguerite Shaw of Sudbury, Mass.; two sisters, Cocetta E. Davis and Luella Carter, both of Bakersfield; 13 grandchildren and many great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be held at the Mount Zion Baptist Church in Bakersfield next week. Harry Williams Mortuary is in charge of local arrangements.

CAROL ANN DOTY

Funeral for Carol Ann Doty, 32, of Rohnert Park, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Daphne's Funeral Service, San Francisco.

Mrs. Doty died Friday at a San Francisco Hospital after a long illness. She had been hospitalized since undergoing a kidney transplant operation in February.

Mrs. Doty graduated in 1970 from the nursing program at Santa Rosa Community college and was a member of the Tops Club of Rohnert Park. She was elected the club queen for 1971.

She is survived by her husband, Robert W. Doty; six daughters, Jeanette, Sherrill, Denise, Roberta, Fern and Elizabeth Doty, all of the family home; and her parents, Clarence and Mae Widener of San Francisco.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Kidney Foundation of Sonoma County.

MRS. PORTER

Funeral for Florence E. Porter, 81, a 20-year Petaluma resident, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

Mrs. Porter died Friday at the home of her son, Herold J. Whitcomb, 233 Alma Avenue, after a long illness.

She was a 25-year member of the Valley of the Moon Chapter No. 85, Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Porter is also survived by a grandson.

Burial will be at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

MRS. PEREIRA

Anna J. Silva Pereira 85, a lifelong Petaluma resident, died yesterday at a Menlo Park hospital after a long illness.

A native of Duncan Mills, she moved to Petaluma as a child. Mrs. Pereira was a member of the Catholic Ladies Aid Society, Holy Ghost Society and Woodmen of the World.

She is survived by four sons, Louis J. and Joseph A. Silva of Petaluma, Michael A. Silva of Sacramento and George J. Silva of Santa Rosa; two daughters, Mrs. Filbert Cordeiro and Mrs. Raymond C. Browne of Redwood City; two foster sons, Frank Basile of Corte Madera and Robert Furrer of Sonoma; a sister, Mrs. A.J. Rupprecht of Petaluma; eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Vincent De Paul Church, Petaluma, followed by burial at Calvary Cemetery. Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

DOWN WITH LITTER

Cub Scout Chris Kearns (left) was a bit overly enthusiastic Saturday as he jumped on a sack of trash collected at the Mill Valley Yacht Harbor. He was assisted by Mike McCall, also from Pack 40 of Tamalpais Valley. A split bag was a small price, however, for the massive antilitter campaign conducted Saturday throughout Marin by more than 1,000 Boy Scouts, Cubs and Explorers as part of a nationwide Scout effort.

Zone Ordinance To Be Studied

The Novato City Council will consider adopting an ordinance to place interim zoning on land along Novato Creek at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the community house.

The ordinance would prohibit development that would interfere with flood control plans. Marin County supervisors recently adopted a similar ordinance covering the county's unincorporated area.

The council also will have a hearing on rezoning of the diablo triangle — now limited agricultural, multiple-family and commercial —to multiple-residential, as proposed in the city's downtown plan.

Bodies Of Retired AF Colonel, Wife Found In Plane Wreckage

SANTA PAULA (UPI) —The bodies of a retired Air Force general and his wife were found Sunday after Civil Air Patrol searchers combed half the state in a nine-day search.

Maj. Gen. Richard O. Hunziker, 54, and his wife, Margaret, disappeared last Monday when their light plane went down on a pleasure flight from Calexico, on the Mexican border, to the central California town of Santa Maria.

Both bodies were recovered from the wreckage.

The search spread over six counties but was hampered because the former Strategic Air Command pilot neglected to file a flight plan with authorities before taking off.

Hunziker, a World War II fighter pilot who had logged more than 6,800 hours flying experience, was deputy inspector general at Norton Air Force base in San Bernardino until his retirement in 1969.

A year before retirement the general was making headlines as the officer in charge of locating a cargo of A-bombs which were lost in the crash of a B-52 bomber on the Greenland icecap in the arctic winter.

Hunziker's single-engine plane crashed into a thicket of trees in the rugged Sespe Hot Springs wilderness area north of Los Angeles. The Civil Air Patrol said the craft did not seem badly damaged.

During the nine-day hunt more than 30 wrecked aircraft from years-old crashes were rediscovered in remote locations from the Mexican border to central California.

In some cases the yellow paint sprayed on the old wrecks to identify them had weathered away, but in no case were more bodies discovered.

Cyclist Hurt On White's Hill

A 22-year-old San Rafael man has been treated at Marin General Hospital for injuries suffered when his motorcycle struck an embankment on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on White's Hill west of Fairfax.

Donald J. Rae, of 16 Ross Street, sustained multiple scrapes and cuts in the accident, which occurred at 5 .m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Officers said he told them he was westbound and slowed to avoid a slow-moving vehicle when his motorcycle struck an embankment on the right side of the road.

Look Due At Span Barrier

Tacking a suicide barrier onto the Golden Gate Bridge will be considered by bridge district directors meeting as a "committee of the whole" at 10 a.m. on Thursday in toll plaza offices.

Anshen and Allen, the district's architectural consultants, said last month that suicides could be cut by various barriers. They offered no cost estimates, but the district's staff estimated the cost between $750,000 and $4 million.

Proposed barriers have been defeated repeatedly over the past 21 years because of objections to their appearance, effectiveness, cost, weight and wind resistance.

The rules and policy committee will meet first at 9:30 a.m. to interview applicants for the new $26,500-a-year job of water transit manager.

The insurance committee will meet at 2 p.m. to consider adding an insurance specialist to the district's staff and to get a progress report on an inspection of earthquake hazards in the vicinity of the bridge.

The full board will meet at 10 a.m. on Friday, preceded by the finance-auditing committee at 9:30 a.m. The full board is expected to consider awarding a contract to General Motors for construction of 132 new commuter buses.

Elks, Legion, VFW Set Celebration For Flag Day

Flag Day, which is June 14, will be observed in Marin Sunday at 2:45 p.m. with a public program on the Magnolia Terrace of the Elks Club at 1312 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

San Rafael Elks Lodge 1108 will sponsor the observance in conjunction with Wilkins Post 37 of the American Legion and Tamalpais Post 72 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. John G. Buresh heads tha committee in charge.

Two military units will provide music: The 12th Naval District Band from Treasure Island and the Marine Corps Drum and Bugle Corps from Concord.

Principal speaker will be Col. H. O. Swaney, commander of the 23rd Marine Regiment in Alameda. The flag and its history will be discussed by Grant Halsing.

The program will include presentation of colors by Gunnery Sgt. A. Rodrigues and a Marine Corps color guard; Elks ritual by John Oliva, exalted ruler; presentation of a flag to Boy Scout Troop 55 by the Marine Corps, and a community march of flags under direction of Marine Maj. W. T. Ridgeway. Boy Scouts will be ushers.

A cocktail hour and steak barbecue will follow the ceremonies.

Six Will Receive Denver U. Diplomas

Six Marin County and Southern Sonoma residents were among 1,836 persons who received degrees at the University of Denver commencement Saturday.

The six are Gregory Palcanis of 39 McNear Drive, San Rafael, awarded a master of business administration-juris doctor degree; Lawrence Hoenig, 32 Dellwood Court, San Rafael, a bachelor's degree magna cum laude; Bruce Tedtsen, 120 Laurel Drive, Fairfax; David McClain, Kentfield; Brian Tobin, Shady Lane, Ross, all bachelor's degrees, and Stuart Bennett, 88 Rocca Drive, Petaluma, a bachelor's degree summa cum laude.

San Rafael Drug Raid Nets Three

Arrested Friday night were Doris Lucille Hill, 28, of 1551 Fourth Street, San Rafael, on suspicion of possession of heroin for sale and possession of narcotics paraphernalia; Michael Alvin Gray, 23, of no known address, on suspicion of being in a place where narcotics were used; and Robert Bruce Reiner, 19, of 123 Scenic Road in Fairfax, on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs and being in a place where narcotics were used.

According to Inspector Charles S. Brobeck, police went to Mrs. Hill's residence with a search warrant at 9:40 p.m. She was arrested when they found 13 balloons filled with a substance believed to be heroin and two narcotics kits.

Mrs. Hill was released on $1,000 bail and was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Gray and Reiner were arrested when they came to Mrs. Hill's residence, presumably to purchase the heroin, while police were there, Brobeck said.

Gray was held on $625 bail to appear Wednesday in municipal court. No bail had been set for Reiner.

Advanced First Aid Will Be Offered

A free, nine-week course in advanced first aid will begin Thursday in the headquarters of the Marin Red Cross, 712 Fifth Aenue, San Rafael. Volunteer instructors will be Thomas Larke Jr. of Fairfax and Dale Pederson of Novato.

Students must hold a current standard first aid card to enroll in the advanced course, Red Cross spokesmen said. The class will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Thursday.

Knorr, Wornum Elected To AIA Memberships

Architects Don R. Knorr of San Anselmo and Michael Wornum of Mill Valley have been elected to lifetime membership in the American Institute of Architects, the AIA's Northern California chapter announced.

Wornum, a member of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and former Mill Valley mayor and city councilman, is an associate of the urban and regional planning firm of Williams and Mocine in San Francisco. He is a lecturer on city planning in the University of California at Berkeley, and chairman of the transportation committee of the Golden Gate Bridge District board.

Knorr, one-time planner and architectural consultant for the University of Alaska, is designer-principal of the San Francisco firm of Knorr-Elliott and Associates.

Fellowship in the AIA College is an "honor bestowed for outstanding contribution to the profession," the chapter reported.

San Rafael Due Budget Hearings In School District

San Rafael Board of Education members again will discuss the 1971-72 budgets for the high school and elementary districts, during their meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district offices.

The budgets were on the agenda for their May 26 meeting, but discussion was limited and no action resulted. Proposed outlay is nearly $5.5 million for each district, without any provisions for pay increases.

The board also is to hear an evaluation and cost analysis of the elementary pilot school lunch program, discuss proposals for "alternative high school experiences" and discuss the reaction of departments and teachers to rotation policies.

The board agenda includes a closed session to meet with representatives on teacher salary negotiations.

Housing Issues On Agenda

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will meet at 9 a.m. tomorrow with the Marin Redevelopment Agency and the Marin Housing Authority board to discuss general housing issues and redevelopment of Marin City.

The Redevelopment Agency wants the county to commit $150,000 in next year's budget to build a connector road from Marin City to Tamalpais Valley.

Supervisors will discuss the role of the Marin Housing Authority in the county's newly adopted policy of encouraging low and moderate income housing.

Other items on the supervisors' agenda include:

BUGGING — County personnel commissioners will ask the county to adopt a policy that no county employee will use tape recorders or other devices to record telephone conversations of other employees. A health department employee testified at a personnel hearing in April that Frank E. Kirby, administrative assistant to the health officer, used recording devices to tape conversations without notifying the other party.

SYMPHONY — San Francisco Symphony Association will ask that the rental fee be waived for use of the Marin Veterans Memorial Building. The county administrator will recommend that no exceptions be made to the fee schedule.

BEER AND WINE — Civic Center cafeteria operators will ask for permission to serve beer and wine with lunch.

RADAR STATION — Brig. Gen. Richard G. Cross Jr., commander of the 26th Air Division at Luke Air Force Base, Ariz., will discuss controversy surrounding the radar station atop Mount Tamalpais. Nearby residents are complaining about too many lights and despoilation of landscape.

BIKE PATH — Pierre W. Joske, director of county parks and recreation, will ask that a $20,905 contract be awarded to W. K. McLellan Co. of San Rafael to build a bicycle and pedestrian path between Sausalito and Mill Valley.

SEWER BONDS — Attorneys representing the Bolinas-Stinson Beach sewer project will ask for county backing of more than $4.4 million in assessment bonds to finance sewer facilities. On Feb. 2, the supervisors approved the underwriting of $4.4 million, but a bigger bond issue will be sought tomorrow.

CORTE MADERA CREEK — The Army Corps of Engineers wants to know what the county plans to do about flood control work on Corte Madera Creek upstream of Ross.

Preliminary Hearing Set In Pot Case

A preliminary hearing has been set for June 15 in Marin Municipal Court for Dennis Phillip Tsigelatos, 23, of Novato, who is charged with two counts of marijuana sale.

Tsigelatos is accused of selling $325 worth of pot to an agent on March 26 and $20 worth of the drug on March 29.

15 Seeking Four Petaluma Council Seats

Climaxing an election campaign that centered mainly on the city's growing pains, Petaluma voters will go to the polls tomorrow to pick four councilmen from a field of 15 candidates.

Many of the hopefuls have urged putting a cautious brake on the city's growth until steps are taken to insure the city's environment; others have called for closer links of the older area of the city with the fast-growing eastside area.

Three councilmen will be chosen for four-year terms from a field of 10 candidates. From a choice of five candidates, the voters will pick one for a two-year council term.

Cavanagh, 51, serves as vice mayor and is seeking his third council term. He is also on the board of directors of the state Marine Parks and Harbor Association and serves as an alternate delegate to the Association of Bay Area Governments and a director of the Visiting Nurses Service. e is a member of American Legion Post 28, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1929, Auto Gun Club and St. Vincent's Fathers Club.

Cavanagh, a businessman, said he hopes to unify the city and bring balance to the economy by attracting selective industry.

Daly, 35, a supervisor for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., was appointed to the council in January and previously served on the Old Adobe School District board. He is also a director of the Visiting Nurses Service.

Daly has spoken in favor of better control of Petaluma's growth. He attended the University of New Mexico and received a law degree in 1966.

Cameron, a computer operator, is making his second bid for the council. He takes part in activities of the United Church of Christ of Petaluma, Bernard E. Eldredge School Parents and Teachers Together, Boy Scouts and little league. He attended Heald Business College, College of Marin and Santa Rosa Community College.

Cameron, 35, has called for improvement in a wide range of city services.

Mrs. Cook, a 34-year-old housewife, is a graduate of Burroughs Corp. Business School in San Francisco and was a teacher at two business schools there. She served two terms as president of McDowell School Parent-Teachers Association, is an officer of the Petaluma Council of Parent-Teachers Associations and financial secretary of the association's 14th district.

Mrs. Cook has said she would hope to improve inadequate schools and undeveloped recreational facilities by requiring developers to dedicate land for schools or pay fees for parks.

Forney, 49, a disabled Navy veteran and former prize fighter, is making his second bid for the office. He attended the University of Cincinnati for two years.

Forney said he has gained a greater understanding of city problems than other candidates because of regular attendance at council meetings.

Hilgeford, a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, is associated with Westgate Realty, Petaluma. He was a jet pilot and meteorologist while with the Air Force.

Hilgeford, 54, is an advocate of closely regulated growth of the city.

Mrs. Hilligoss, a housewife, is a former X-ray technician. She is a member of the American Association of University Women, Hillcrest Hospital Auxiliary, Petaluma Women's Club, Catholic Social Services, Sonoma County Republican Central Committee and is a former secretary of the Republican Women.

Mrs. Hilligoss, 43, lists teenage recreational facilities, better parking and easier traffic flow as city goals.

Perry, a pharmacist, has been a member of the Petaluma Planning Commission for three years, a director of the Petaluma Hospital District for three years and a director of the California Pharmaceutical Association for four years. He also serves on the advisory board for the Sonoma County Airport and is a member of the Civil Air Patrol and Flying Pharmacists of California.

Perry, 59, said the council should increase communication with school districts and chamber of commerce. He supports removal of parking meters and the addition of parking lots through the creation of a downtown parking assessment district.

Wages, an insurance agent, moved to Petaluma seven months ago from Lucas Valley. He spent 22 years in the Army, attaining the rank of chief warrant officer, and attended the University of Maryland for two years while in the service.

Wages, 43, said he feels he can reflect the desires of new residents who have selected Petaluma as their permanent home.

Waite, owner of Waite Realty, has served as president of the Petaluma Junior Chamber of Commerce and was chairman of the chamber's agri-business committee. He is vice president of the Petaluma Toastmasters Club and the Petaluma Golf Club.

Waite, 39, has said that future development should pay its own way through increased sewer connection fees so that residents need not be asked to pass sewer bond issues every four or five years.

Clecak, a teacher and athletic coach at Petaluma Senior High School, is making his first bid for office in seeking the two-year council term. He is a graduate of the University of San Francisco and is a candidate for a master's degree there.

Clecak, 29, advocates controlled city growth and better communication between city departments.

Mortensen, an oil wholesaler, is a member of the East Petaluma Adobe Lions Club and Masonic Lodge. He has taken courses in engineering and law at the University of California at Los Angeles and La Salle University.

Mortensen, 54, has opposed the $2 million sewer bond issue also on tomorrow's ballot, but said he would support the project if funded by revenue bonds.

Petro, 37, manager of a construction firm, is making his second bid for the council. He is a member of the Petaluma Water Commission, the East Petaluma Civic Association and Sonoma County Republican Central Committee.

He has said residents have lost trust in their government.

Stanley, a retired businessman, has been on the Petaluma Planning Commission for 10 years and its chairman for six. He is also Sonoma County's representative to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.

Stanley, 66, has said that Petaluma's problems stem not so much from growth, but rather from unimaginative development. He said the city manager-council type of government will not function properly unless the council clearly and firmly sets city policy and sees to it that staff carries it out.

Timms, an assistant regional traffic manager for American Can Co., is a graduate of Golden Gate College and is a member of the United Methodist Church. While a resident of Concord, he served on the park and recreation commission for four years.

Timms, 38, has said his experience in Concord with youth groups would assist him as a councilman.

Moorer Praises Spanish Forces

MADRID (UPI)—Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, today praised the Spanish armed forces for the "good discipline and high morale" which they showed in a display of the country's growing military might.

Moorer, here on official three-day visit at the invitation of his Spanish counterpart, attended Sunday's Victory Day parade marking the 32nd anniversary of the end of the Spanish civil war.

Miracle Coating Replaces House Paint for 15 Years

Los Angeles, Calif.

Another boon of the space age has been accomplished for the home owner . . . an exterior wall coating so tough and durable that it is guaranteed to totally eliminate exterior house painting for over 15 years. This remarkable textured coating is asbestos KENITEX.

The Atomic Energy Commission has used KENITEX texture Coating for several years at Los Alamos, New Mexico, atomic plant. Thousands of gallons of this remarkable exterior surfacing have been applied to provide weatherproofing and beauty, far outlasting ordinary paint.

Over 1,000,000 KENITEX applications on homes, commercial and industrial buildings throughout the world, 10,000 in Southern California alone, remain in perfect condition after more than 15 years exposure in all weather extremes.

The Veterans' Administration, Sawtelle, in Los Angeles, has applied KENITEX to the exteriors of their buildings. The Kenitex coating is applied in one quick spray application without muss, fuss or odor — at a thickness 20 times that of ordinary paint. It fills holes, cracks and hides building defects, yet does not conceal the original architectural lines.

Homes and Guided Missiles
Unique among KENITEX applications is the use on guided missiles where its insulating properties shield the missile from extreme temperatures. KENITEX obtains these qualities from its basic components of asbestos, mica and perlite, which are noted for their insulation and durability.

Shot From a Gun
KENITEX is guaranteed for 15 years against chipping, flaking or peeling . . . it is extremely flexible and withstands all normal building expansion and contraction. Actually, "Shot from a Gun" KENITEX fuses to the sidewalls in a variety of beautiful decorator colors.

Free Estimates
Local applications of this remarkable coating are made by the Golden Gate Bldr's Inc. licensed and approved applicators. Cost is surprisingly low — convenient terms can be arranged. Home owners can obtain free estimates without obligations, by calling 776-4453 or mail coupon herewith:

Student Hurt As Car Plunges Off Highway

A 16-year-old Tamalpais High School student has been treated at Marin General Hospital for injuries suffered when the car he was driving plunged over an embankment on Shoreline Highway east of Muir Beach.

David John Makar, of 331 Melrose Avenue, Homestead Valley, suffered lip cuts and multiple scrapes and bruises.

The California Highway Patrol said Makar was westbound on Shoreline Highway near the Green Gulch Ranch in a car belonging to James W. Jefferson, of 1175 West California Avenue, Homestead Valley, when his car rounded a curve and plunged over an embankment.

Makar was taken to the hospital by an unidentified motorist. The accident occurred at 2:30 a.m. Saturday, the patrol said.

Crash In Greece Kills Seven GIs

SALONIKA, Greece (UPI)—A seventh American serviceman died early today from injuries received in a Sunday night collision between a U.S. military truck and a Greek tourist bus.

Eight Greeks, including the bus driver, were also badly injured and taken to Salonica Municipal Hospital.

Police sources said preliminary investigation indicated the accident was caused by wet, slippery roads 30 miles from Salonica.

13 Marinites Graduated In Stockton

Two San Rafael sisters, Laurie D. and Terry K.Hodgen, of 34 Fairway Drive, are among thirteen Marin students who have been graduated from the University of the Pacific in Stockton.

Robbieburr M. Berger, of 507 Cottonwood Drive, Fairfax, was awarded a bachelor of arts in social science degree, Charlotte I. Dyslin, of 214 Cleveland Court, Mill Valley, received a master of science degree and Thomas C. Meyers, of 56 Longview Avenue, San Anselmo, was awarded a bachelor of science degree.

Tam Board To Study Charges Against Pair

The Tamalpais High School District board, meeting today at 7:45 p.m. at the Redwood High School faculty lounge in Larkspur, is expected to decide whether to dismiss or proceed on charges against two teachers.

The teachers have been charged with ineptitude by parents of mentally retarded students in the district special education program.

The board, which twice has considered the charges behind closed doors, promised last week a decision would be announced Monday.

Trustees also are expected to hear salary proposals for administrators and a request that the district's grooming policy be scrapped.

Overdose Report

Joyce E. Walker, 47, of 107 San Carlos Way, Novato, was reported in good condition at Novato General Hospital today, after treatment for an overdose of pills. According to Novato police, Mrs. Walker took the pills at 7:20 p.m. Saturday.

Supreme Court Rules Exceptions On 1-Man, 1-Vote Principle

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court in a pair of decisions spelled out today several exceptions to the one-man, one-vote principle at state and local goting levels.

In an Indiana case, the Court reversed a lower three-judge federal panel which had struck down the at-large election of state representatives in Marion County, which includes Indianapolis.

The lower court, on grounds the at-large procedure diminished the voting strength of Negro residents and violated the one man-one vote requirements, ordered the entire state redistricted with each voting district electing one representative and one senator.

In another opinion, the Court overturned 7 to 2, a decision by the West Virginia Supreme Court which struck down the state's requirement that a three-fifths majority vote was needed to approve school bond issues which would exceed a state constitutional debt limit.

Sixteen other states have similar provisions in their constitution.

The West Virginia court ruled that requiring approval by more than a simple majority was in violation of the one man-one vote concept.

Similarly the decision in the Indiana state representation case could have impact in other states, particularly Virginia where a suit affecting this year's election is in process.

Two weeks before adjourning for this term, the court took these other actions:

—Ruled, 5 to 3, that a private individual who becomes involved in a matter of public interest has no more protection against libel than a political or public figure. The decision said in such instances, the person must prove there was knowledge a libelous statement was false or with reckless disregard of whether it was false or not. This is the same yardstick the Court applied to public and political figures in past decisions.

—Agreed to decide next term whether the Wisconsin state assembly acted constitutionally by ordering the jailing of the militant Catholic priest, the Rev. James E. Groppi, on charges of contempt without giving him opportunity to defend himself from the charge.

—Let stand a lower court ruling that a rail union may call selective strikes against a few railroads in an effort to achieve a national agreement. The action opens the way for a possible strike against the Burlington Northern and the Seaboard Coast Line railroads in possibly two weeks by the United Transportation Union.

White took note of the claims that multi-member state voting districts are unconstitutional if they seem to diminish the voting strength of a minority group.

Civil Defense Army Reserve Unit Scheduled

Army Reserve members in Marin and Southern Sonoma have been invited to join a new Civil Defense-Army Reserve unit being formed in the North Bay Area.

The unit will operate out of Santa Rosa and will consist of a captain, seven military policemen and 24 communications specialists. It will provide security and communications support for the Region Seven office of Civil Denfense in Santa Rosa.

Reserve members interested in joining should write the Commanding Officer, 6211th U. S. Army Garrison, Building 361, Presidio of San Francisco, 94129, and give details of their backgrounds, including present military occupational specialty.

Persian Rug Auction

Thursday, June 10

Holiday Inn - 7:30 p.m.

(open to inspection 5 p.m. until sale)

This is the knowledgeable way to select Oriental rugs, each a treasured art form which will appreciate in value 15% to 20% a year with good care.

Come on this exciting tour of the Middle East. Here at the Holiday Inn you will see Boharas . . . Tabriz . . . Kashans . . . Nains . . . Isfahans . . . Qums . . . Kermans . . . Afghans . . . Sarouks . . . and many, many more. The Auction room will delight you with the atmosphere of Damascus and Tehran; it will shimmer with the gold and crimson of the Orient; the delicate blues and shadings of the silk in the Nains and Kashans.

There will be a great variety of rugs and colors, including runners, small and large room rugs, prayer and silk rugs.

As centuries have passed the appreciation and value of Oriental rugs have continued to rise as it would for any field or art. The Persian carpet has commonly been referred to as the stocks and bonds of Iran (Persia) and since time began they have proven to be valuable stocks for those who possess them.

The first Nomadic Tribes from the central part of Asia started weaving the wool material because of the cold climate as a means of keeping themselves warm. They represented in the designs in the rugs such animals as the lamb, tiger and zebra. These designs became the model for the Oriental rugs that are used for floor coverings. Also literature and art give us information as to how early they started using these as floor coverings.

By the 15th Century and through the 16th and 17th Centuries Italian merchants imported many Oriental rugs to the northern part of Europe and their influence can be seen in Flemish paintings.

The ancient craftsmanship of using vegetable dye colors for Persian rugs is still in practice today. For instance, one of the sources of the color red is from the root of the Madder plant. Blue is made from the Indigo plant which grows in the East Indies; green is obtained from grape leaves; brown is derived from the skins of the pomegranate, nut shells or oak bark. Black is made from the oak apple, skins of walnuts, or from iron oxide. For the grey and beige colors, undyed natural wool is used.

Inspect these fabulous floor coverings of heirloom quality, richly beautiful, each a sample of the dying craft of handweaving. Come early this Thursday (the public inspection begins at 5 p.m.) Then take advantage of the Auction which begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Holiday Inn's Bay Room. And remember that this Auction will represent considerable savings to you for these prized possessions which will grow in value.

Each rug is sold to the highest bidder. There is no minimum price which must be reached to complete a sale. You, or any member of the Auction audience open The bidding and control the sale. It is this fair procedure of Auction practice, together with the established authority of your host, W. J. Gilbert which have earned the respect and successful acceptance by the public of Mr. Gilbert's Oriental rug Auctions such as the event this Thursday at the Holiday Inn - Northgate.

Higher Rates Atop Higher Taxable Values

Revision of the assessment ratio for taxation this year means an automatic tax increase for all California property owners, even where their property has not been improved or reappraised.

By order of the state Board of Equalization — in its turn responding to legislative mandate — the assessment ratio has been increased from 23 per cent of appraised value to 25 per cent.

This represents an actual increase of 8.6 per cent in the tax bill on real property in the state — if all taxing jurisdictions were to continue the same rates they levied last year.

Added to this, of course, are improvements and reappraisals boosting property values. In Marin County, according to County Administrator Alan Bruce, the increase in the assessment role is the Equivalent of 22.8 cents on the county tax rate.

EVEN NOT ALLOWING for improvements and reappraisals, an 8.6 per cent increase in the assessed value (the figure used in levying taxes) would appear more than adequate to meet inflation. The cost of living index has not gone up that much in the last year.

This would mean that the various governing units could continue the same services as last year while keeping the same tax rates or perhaps slightly reducing them — despite the effect of inflation.

Some of them plan to do so. Others, however, are planning to levy higher tax rates on top of the higher assessed valuations, thus piling increase upon increase for the taxpayer.

THE PROPOSED BUDGET of the County of Marin calls for a 65.5 cents increase in the tax rate. If it were not for the hike in assessed valuation, the rate increase would be 88.3 cents. So what the taxpayer will have to "pungle up" if the budget is unchanged will be 88.3 cents per $100 more on last year's valuation of his property.

The county is in a tough bind because of factors it cannot control, chief among them being welfare costs (which the courts seem determined must not be reduced by any method, however sensible or equitable), the Angela Davis-Ruchell Magee murder trial, and the costly Civic Center security measures resulting from last October's bombing.

Such uncontrolled costs do not, however, enter into the picture for the cities, school districts, and special districts — except that security and insurance costs are shooting upward for the schools.

HOWEVER, WE FIND the city manager of Larkspur proposing a 10-cent increase in that city's tax rate — despite its automatic gain at last year's rate. We find the city manager of San Rafael projecting a 3.7-cent increase.

In contrast, Mill Valley's city manager has proposed a budget calling for a 12.9-cent decrease in the city tax rate. The city manager of Tiburon predicts a decrease of at least 10 cents in that city's levy. Other cities so far heard from are planning to hold to last year's rates. School district estimates have not yet appeared.

INFLATION CUSTOMARILY draws the blame for tax rate hikes. But this year, the new assessment ratio has more than taken care of inflation. Such an excuse, therefore, cannot be valid.

Taxpayers have the right to ask: Why do you want to increase the tax rate when I already must pay more because of the new assessment ratio? What additional services am I going to receive for that money? And they have a right to demand specific answers.

How Long Should County Pay Subsidy?

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Marin County Transit Systems Inc., despite massive transfusions of public tax funds, has failed to get off the ground with a bus transit system.

Transit inevitably requires public subsidy, and therefore should be operated by a public agency. This is about to be done by the Golden Gate Bridge District, and the district should not be burdened with any private operator.

The Marin City-based operator could survive, perhaps serving school districts and the market for charter service. If there is too little work in these operations for the firm's employees, then these men could seek jobs with the bridge district's' bus system.

The firm's contract for its shoestring transit service will expire in December, neatly coinciding with the bridge district's start of bus operations.

The average expense per passenger carried on the firm's Tiburon ferry feeder bus was $1.81 in April. That is almost six times the cost reported by other bus systems.

Directors of the Marin County Transit District should stop hiding from the needed decision.

SEN. PETER H. BEHR'S bill to preserve as wild and scenic rivers the Eel, Trinity and Klamath is opposed by Norman B. Livermore Jr., secretary of the state Resources Agency.

Arguing against the bill, Livermore cited Gov. Ronald Reagan as having designated the North Coast as "the water bank of California."

This prompted a spokesman for the Sierra Club to exclaim: "Hitler called the Ukraine the bread basket of Europe; now Ike Livermore declares the North Coast the water bank of California!"

BEHR'S MANY FANS were pleased to learn that he commutes between his Sacramento apartment and capitol office on a bicycle. It fit his position as a dedicated conservationist.

It may surprise some of these fans, however, to learn that Behr simply happens to be following a tradition started by his predecessor, John F. McCarthy.

Sex Education By Another Name

Hooray for your editorial of June 1 about calling a rose by another name. Many people in the San Anselmo Elementary School District are in the dark about the new health program being prepared for use in the September school term.

Wake up, all you mothers — Family Health is the disguised name of sex education being pushed upon our children by a "parents committee" who want an aggressive sex ed program.

The responsibility to instill emphasis on sound principles or personal conduct and human relationships in our children is ours — this responsibility cannot be shifted to the schools.

The school board meeting is June 8. The board has to know our wants before they act on accepting this "proposed" health program.

Different View Of Senate Bill

Senate Bill 375, which makes it legal for a doctor or any agency to give a minor a pelvic examination, fit her for a contraceptive or prescribe the pill without parental consent, is going to the Senate floor soon on a vote.

Mrs. Irene S. Wise of San Anselmo urges you to write to your state senator for defeat of this bill on the grounds that it subverts the parent role.

Mrs. Wise seems to assume that all parents are responsible in educating their young frankly and informatively about the joys, pitfalls and responsibilities attendant on sexual maturity.

Unfortunately, the rising number of illegitimate children born to minors and the epidemic spread of VD among the young simply don't support Mrs. Wise's contention and would seem to point all too clearly to the fact that many parents are remiss in guiding their children in these or any other areas . . .

Bill 375 is a step toward a much needed, more realistic and enlightened approach to family planning. It will not subvert the role of responsible parents or even affect them or their children. It will be of help to those whose alternatives up until now have been to spread disease and produce unwanted children with resulting chaos for all.

If you agree on the pressing need for intelligent family planning I urge you to write to your state senator at the State Capitol with an urgent pleas for a yes vote on Senate Bill 375.

Social Security Benefits Increased

Wat Takeshita's article headed "Scoial Security Attacked," in the May 21 edition of the Independent-Journal, deserves a response.

Mr. Takeshita quotes Michael Mitchell, Marin County auditor-controller, as saying that "social security taxes are going up each year" and that, at the present rate of increase, employees and employers will each pay $775 in social security taxes in 1975 and $1,110 in 1977 . . .

. . . Mr. Mitchell — and Mr. Takeshita — neglected to mention that, for his social security tax dollar, each employee is getting much more than retirement insurance protection, albeit this is a major consideration. Whereas about 70 per cent of the employee's contribution is for retirement, slightly more than 30 per cent goes for current protection in the form of survivors and disability insurance benefits . . .

Finally, Mr. Mitchell's implication that retirement benefits are not commensurate with contributions and that, with projected tax levels, a worker would have to live to be 150 to recoup them in benefits is, at best, misleading . . .

Historically, social security benefits have always increased as wage levels and the cost of living have gone up. There is every reason to believe that this pattern will continue in the future.

Insuror Makes Case For No-Fault

We must take issue with Dr. Irving Pfeffer's comments on no-fault auto insurance (letter to the editor, May 24).

He implies that advocates of no-fault are conspiring to deprive accident victims of their just compensation. The truth is that no-fault is designed to guarantee every injured person full compensation for all his economic loss, without delay and without costly lawsuits.

The present liability insurance system doesn't come close to doing that. It compensates only half the injured persons. it grossly overpays the minimally injured while grossly underpaying the seriously injured. It is a system of wasteful legal and investigative costs that the public pays through higher premiums.

This is the system Dr. Pfeffer wants preserved. He and other members of the Governor's Automobile Accident Study Commission proposed (with Louis W. Niggeman, president of Fireman's Fund, dissenting) a series of minor changes (comparative negligence, higher limits of liability, etc.) that would cost the public even more money but would not get at the problems of inequity, incompleteness and delay.

The public just won't accept reforms that mean even higher insurance rates, as Dr. Pfeffer would know if he read the letters to the editor columns of the papers to which he wrote.

If no fault is a conspiracy, it is a conspiracy entered into by many prominent state legislators, by members of Congress, by the secretary of transportation, by judges,attorneys, labor unions, consumer groups and a large number of insurance companies. A recent Gallup Poll showed that people who understand no-fault favor it 4 to 1 over the present liability system.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

What Russia Takes, It Keeps; That's Its 'Anti-Imperialism'

WASHINGTON — Leonid Brezhev showered praise on two Communist leaders on his recent visit to Prague to celebrate Czechoslovakia's lack of independence.

Mr. Brezhnev warmly commended himself for having originated the "Brezhnev Doctrine" by which the Soviet Union asserts the right to intervene militarily in any Communist country which acts contrary to Moscow's wishes.

Mr. Brezhnev warmly commended Gustav Husak because Husak stood up and applauded when Brezhnev told how the Red Army wrested from the Czech people the economic and political reforms of the now-deposed Dubcek government.

THE CZECHS CAN BE confident that they will not be burdened by any new reforms for some time because there are still 80,000 Russian troops in Czechoslovakia to make sure that the Husak government isn't tempted to yield to the wishes of the Czech people.

Brezhnev was addressing the nearly 3,000 delegates and guests of the 14th Czech Party Congress and he did not hesitate to warn the Czech leaders that there is only one safe road they can tread — the road that leads to and from Moscow.

The lesson which emerges from Brezhnev's bald admonitions in Prague is that what the Soviet Union wants it acts to take and what the Soviet Union takes it keeps.

AS THE FALSELY proclaimed leader of anti-imperialism, it is well not to forget Moscow's out-thrusting imperialism during the last three decades.

Between 1939, when Stalin signed the pact which helped Hitler launch World War II, and the early post-war period, the USSR annexed outright the independent Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania and seized territories of varying dimensions from five other European nations.

From Finland Russia took the Petsamo area in the north, including the ice-free port of Pechenga on the Barents Sea and additional territory along the border north of Leningrad

A large section of eastern Poland was occupied by the Russians in the partition of that country that followed the signature of the Nazi-Soviet Pact — a partition in which Poland, of course, had no say

Similarly, Russia acquired the Koenigsberg area of East Prussia from Germany, and "rewarded" Poland for the loss of its eastern territory by giving it the Oder-Neisse territory it wrested from Germany.

Then, in order to get a handy frontier passage to Czechoslovakia, through which it could invade as it did in 1968. Russia took from the Czechs the Carpatho Ukraine area known as Ruthenia.

IN OFFICIAL DECLARATIONS the Russians take great pains to stress that their territorial acquisitions were won by virtue of war. Said Brezhnev in 1969: "What the peoples won in the fire of World War II they have won forever."

This is inconsistent because a government can hardly claim to be anti-imperialist and justify its conquests of other people's territory by war. And, if this reasoning is valid, then Moscow ought to apply it to Israel's occupation of Arab territory.

The fact is that these territories acquired by Russia were either taken before the war as the result of the Stalin-Hitler deals or were seized from allies who were fighting against the Nazis. These Eastern European countries were fighting against imperialism to protect their territory and their sovereignty and found in the end that they were to lose their sovereignty and territory to an imperialist Soviet Union.

Today the Russians are still clinging to territory the czars took from China and which the Soviet Communists in 1920 promised to return.

What the Russians take they keep. That's Soviet anti-imperialism.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

Time For Friends Of Youth To Oppose Self-Destruction

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — The knee-jerk reaction — my own knee-jerk reaction, I admit it — was at first to classify what the President said as just another one of his calculated political excursions, delivered with fluttering eyelids and founded firmly on public opinion polls telling him what Middle America wants to hear.

He told his press conference: "I realize this is controversial, but I can see no social or moral justification whatever for legalizing marijuana. I think it would be exactly the wrong step. It would simply encourage more and more of our young people to start down that long dismal road that leads to hard drugs and, eventually, self-destruction."

IN FACT, I STILL think it was political and self-serving, as most politicians' volunteered statements are. But it also was dead right.

As a nonmember of the turned-on generation, I have hesitated to pass judgment on the legalization issue out of frank ignorance. I have firsthand experience with booze, but not grass, and thus have not felt I was entitled to pretend my opinion mattered.

But opinion there was, and having buttressed it with a variety of borrowed expertise and some concentrated logic of my own, I have to conclude now that it is wrong for any conscientious American to abstain from supporting the President on this. There is too much in this country today on the attitude that any law that is commonly broken should therefore be repealed. But there are much more reasonable arguments against legalization than a simple Nixon-Agnew-Mitchell law-and-order dogmatism.

The strongest is the one the President cited, that marijuana is a start down "that long dismal road that leads to hard drugs, and, eventually self-destruction."

THIS MONTH'S Commentary magazine has two hard-headed articles about drugs from two unlikely sources. They are Norman Podhoretz, the editor, who probably would confess to being a New York intellectual, and Samuel McCracken, who teaches the humanities at Reed College, a haven of advanced behavior in Portland, Ore. After making a strong case against marijuana, Podhoretz somehow abruptly winds up for legalization. But en route he writes:

"If it is true that marijuana is not necessarily habit forming, it is also true that marijuana does not necessarily lead the user into the use of heroin . . . But of course it is equally true that there are very few heroin addicts to be found . . . who did not begin by smoking marijuana, often at a relatively early age. What this means is that marijuana can and does lead to heroin in a substantial number of cases — the number being roughly equal to the number of heroin addicts among us — and what this means is that marijuana is a dangerous drug."

It has been said many times, but not often so concisely.

ONE ARGUMENT for legalization, which carries more logic than most, is that the typical progression from marijuana to heroin and other lethal drugs takes place because they exist together in the drug subculture. They are companions outside the law. Where one is available, the other is likely to be. Pushers use one as a "loss leader" to introduce users to the more expensive other Thus to legalize marijuana might be sensible. because it would separate it from heroin and make policing of hard drug abuses easier

But it would in fact be more sensible to make the penalties for marijuana possession or peddling more realistic and uniform, while regularly inflicting appropriately harsh sentences for involvement with the more advanced drugs. To legalize marijuana to be sold like tobacco would be to open an "attitudinal Pandora's box," in McCracken's words — a box "quite possibly attached to the tail of a tiger."

He suggests that if marijuana were to be sold by cigarette companies or their equivalent, it would be pushed with great vigor. "We have no reason to assume that they would by shy about trying to turn-on the underage," he goes on. and adds, "There is something a little unsettling in the picture of that much power in the hands of an industry explicitly dedicated to driving the country a little mad and something a good deal more unsettling in the industry being successful "

WASHINGTON WINDOW

By Tomorrow There'll Be 8,000 More Cars On Road

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Here is a fact to ponder next time you're fighting your way home through a rush hour traffic jam:

By this time tomorrow, there'll be 8,000 more cars, trucks and buses on the road.

Admittedly, that is not a cheerful thought to roll around in your mind as your car, bus or taxi inches forward. But it's a fact whose implications Americans sooner or later must face.

THIS COUNTRY'S motor vehicle population—the total number of cars, trucks and buses registered for operation—is increasing at an average rate of 3 million a year, which figures out to a bit more than 8,000 a day.

In 1952, we had to find room on our streets and highways for 52.6 million vehicles. By 1969, just 17 years later, the figure had doubled. This year's total registration is estimated at 110 million vehicles.

To provide running room for this avalanche of automotive equipment, we are spending upwards of $15 billion a year for new highways and streets. This huge outlay enables us to pave the equivalent of 1 million acres of land each year. We now have one mild of road for every square mile of land.

LOOK AT IT another way: Americansn who comprise only 6 per cent of the world's population, drive 53 per cent of all the passenger cars and 38 per cent of all the trucks and buses in the world. To get around, we need, or feel we need, an average of one motor vehicle for every two persons. The British and West Germans get along with one vehicle for every five persons, the Italians with one for every seven persons, and the Russians make do with one vehicle for every 50 citizens.

If the quality of men's lives can be measured by the abundance of motor vehicles they possess, we Americans can lay undisputed claim to the world's highest standard of living. But is there, could there be, more to life than ceaselessly going and coming in rubbertired conveyances propelled by monoxide-belching gasoline engines?

If Americans don't begin to wrestle seriously with that very basic question, they'll wake up ere long to find it has been answered for them by default.

OUR CITIES increasingly are designed for the convenience of cars rather than people. The motor vehicle lobby already is so powerful that the nation's capital cannot obtain funds for a desperately needed subway system without throwing in a new network of freeways for autos.

To question the desirability of endlessly increasing the number of cars on the roads is regarded in some quarters as a downright un-American act.

I own a car, and as things now stand I'd be terribly inconvenienced without it. But if better mass transit facilities were provided —as they could be in every city with a fraction of our annual outlay on cars — I'd gladly accept some fairly drastic restrictions on my "right" to drive a private car into congested downtown areas. I'd even go along with a stiff federal tax on the second or third vehicle owned by any family. In fact, I'm willing to put up with any intelligent and workable social control that will spare our civilization from finally bogging down in its own automotive traffic.

OBVIOUSLY, NO ONE in his right mind would propose a ban on production of motor vehicles. They play a vital part in our national life, and their manufacture and distribution is a major industry whose economic welfare is properly of concern to all.

But to acknowledge these facts is not tantamount to saying that a large and continuing annual increase in the number of motor vehicles operating in America is necessary and desirabge.

Paris Guess: Hanoi Signal On POWs?

MONTEPLIER, Vt. (UPI)— Gov. Deane C. Davis reported Sunday North Vietnamese delegates to the Paris peace talks have promised to intercede with the Viet Cong to find out the fate of an American prisoner.

Davis said State Department officials considered the agreement unprecedented and a possible signal of a shift in negotiating tactics.

Returning home after more than a week in Europe, Davis said the North Vietnamese delegation in Paris promised they would discuss with the Viet Cong the fate of an Army major from Burlington who was captured in South Vietnam in 1964.

Davis met with the North Vietnamese officials for an hour Saturday after being rebuffed by the Viet Cong who have refused to discuss the POW issue until President Nixon announces a date for complete U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

The governor went to Paris to try to obtain information about Maj. Donald Cook and other Vermont POW's. He said he was unsuccessful in learning anything new about Cook, and he called his telephone conversation with Viet Cong officials "a very unsuccessful and unprofitable enterprise.

Both Davis and State Department officials said the agreement with the North Vietnamese was unprecedented and could signal the start of a shift in relations in the negotiations.

3 Named To All-Star Jazz Band

Three San Rafael High School musicians were named to an all-star jazz band during competition Saturday at Monterey Peninsula College, Monterey.

Named were Ray Griffin of 80 Jewell Street, who plays soprano saxophone; Barry Coates of 380 Rivera Drive, who plays guitar; and Cris Braun of 83 Chula Vista Drive, who plays vibes.

Andy Goldstein of 2 Neane Avenue was named an alternate on bass trombone.

All four are members of the high school's jazz band which placed fifth in the First California Honor High School Jazz Band competition. The contest, in which 12 schools participated, was won by Ygnacio Valley High School, Concord.

Members of the 20-member all-star band and the winning high school band will travel to Monterey in September to perform in the 14th Annual Monterey Jazz Festival.

Proposed Budget Due In Fairfax

Fairfax School District trustees will discuss the proposed budget of $1,109,000 for 1971-72 at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow at the district office at 58 Park Road.

The budget proposal is $45,000 more than this year's $1,064,000. According to Supt. H. Reginald Hammond the increase is due to higher cost of supplies, built-in salary increases and added maintenance costs.

No salary raise for staff has been included yet.

Although the budget proposal shows an increase, the tax rate may go down because of increased assessed valuation in the district, Dr. Hammond said.

Two Booked In Thefts

Two 18-year-old Larskpur youths were arrested yesterday on suspicion of burglarizing a room at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Officers said today Larry John Thompson and Gary Lee Marks, both of 11 Orange Avenue, were arrested at 6:50 p.m. near the school after a witness told police the two had entered a classroom. No loss was reported.

The youths told officers they were passing the school, saw a door open and entered in search of a science teacher.

They were booked into Marin County Jail where they remained in lieu of $1,250 bail each and were scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Why thousands of Americans will spend $6,900 for a Mercedes-Benz that's three feet shorter than American luxury cars.

At Mercedes-Benz, we define luxury a bit differently than most automobile makers.

To our way of thinking, size for the sake of size is not luxury. It is waste.

The Mercedes-Benz 250 Sedan is three feet shorter than the shortest of the domestic luxury sedans.

"Though not a particularly big car, the accommodation is well-planned and quite roomy enough for consideration by the chauffeur-driven executive." —Motor

The engineer is king

Mercedes-Benz is one of the few automobile makers left in the world where the engineer is still king.

Design decisions are made by an engineer, not a styling whiz or a marketing wizard. At Mercedes-Benz, the engineering department still tells the sales department when a new model is ready.

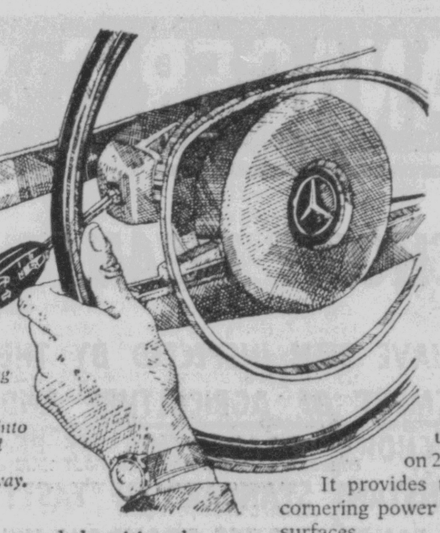
The result is an automobile that has been built to an engineering ideal.

And an automobile that is fundamentally different than any built in the States.

From oddity to necessity

To the uninitiated, this approach may appear to have disadvantages.

Your first time behind the wheel of a Mercedes-Benz is likely to produce a vague sense of disorientation.



Mercedes-Benz engineers believe both hands belong on the wheel. So they built four critical controls into a single stalk and positioned it a finger's length away.

In its recommended position, the seat seems too far from the wheel. And it's too unyielding to be called "luxurious."

But that strange seat position lets you drive with the wheel at arm's length and your back firmly against the seat's. And that gives you better control.

The "unyielding" seat, it turns out, was designed by orthopedic surgeons to give firm support. You'll appreciate it more after seven hundred miles than you do after seven.

If you press the floor switch to get your high beams, you'll get a squirt in the windshield instead.

High and low beams, turn signals, windshield wipers, and their two-speed control all can be operated without taking your hands from the wheel. Or your eyes from the road.

Such oddities, admittedly, take some getting used to. But there's a reason for every one. And, before you know it, the oddities have become necessities.

No domestic sedan...

It is at the wheel a man discovers the performance characteristics that make Mercedes-Benz unique among the world's motor cars. Mercedes-Benz engineers believe that a car's abilities should be limited only by road and conditions—not by its own design. Every Mercedes-Benz has fully independent suspension front and rear. A design concept used, without exception, on 200-mph grand prix cars.

No domestic sedan has it.

Every Mercedes-Benz is equipped with four massive disc brakes. Standard, not optional. Because, to our way of thinking, it's unthinkable to relegate the best brakes you can build to the option list.

No domestic sedan has them on all four wheels.

And every Mercedes-Benz has a steering system so precisely balanced that the car seeks a straight path on its own.

No domestic sedan can match it.

Join the club

But the final word on the distinction between Mercedes-Benz and domestic luxury cars belongs to a group of Mercedes-Benz owners.

Owners so enthusiastic that they've formed thirty-two chapters of the Mercedes-Benz Club of America.

Each year they hold more than 60 local competitions and 3 national rallies.

It's their opportunity, in performance events, to extend their cars to the limits of which a Mercedes-Benz is capable.

Not everyone joins the club.

Mercedes-Benz owners who rally their cars are a relatively small share of our owners. But, then, no domestic luxury car even has a club.

Our pursuit of engineering ideals has placed Mercedes-Benz automobiles among the world's most costly.

With such popular options as power steering, white sidewall tires, and radio with rear-seat speaker, you can spend over $6,900.

And thirteen of our models cost more, including the 300SEL 6.3—dubbed by Road & Track "merely the world's greatest sedan..."—at $16,355†.

But if your tastes do not run to the conventional luxury car, we think you'll find Mercedes-Benz automobiles well worth the price you pay.

MARTIN AND Edith Roach enjoy looking through the cards and notes from longtime friends congratulating them on their 50th wedding anniversary at the home they purchased in San Rafael in 1942. They were married in Auburn in 1921.

GOLDEN WEDDING

A Busy Year For San Rafael Couple

It's been a big year for Martin and Edith Roach of San Rafael. In January their first great-grandchild, Elizabeth McDowell, was born; Roach celebrated his 80th birthday in February, and in May they celebrated their golden wedding.

"Looking ahead, it seems like a long time, but 50 years have gone very fast," Mrs. Roach says about their marriage. Her advice to couples being married now — "Take each day as it comes and try to do your best."

THOUGH THEIR anniversary was May 11, the couple celebrated at a reception and open house at Bermuda Palms Hotel in San Rafael on May 23 and are still receiving cards of congratualtions from friends and relatives, and proudly display their money tree gift and cards at their home at 108 Greenfield Avenue.

Mrs. Roach was born Edith Gildersleeve in Auburn in 1893 and lived near there until 1921, working for the Post Office. Although Mr. Roach was born in Montgomery, Minn., he came to San Francisco in 1912 and the couple met in Sacramento at a boarding home where Mrs. Roach was living while attending business school and where he had previously lived.

"He came there to visit friends and we met," Mrs. Roach explains.

THE COUPLE was married in St. Joseph's Church in Auburn in 1921 and went to live in San Francisco, where Roach was employed with the Pacific Gas Heating Co. He had previously been with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in Sacramento, then joined the Army during World War I.

He fought in Europe, especially France, with the 91st Division, he says proudly, and returned to San Francisco in 1919.

After the couple's marriage they lived in San Francisco until 1938, when Mr. Roach became a civilian employee at Hamilton Field. He served as supervisor of its heating department until retirement 10 years ago.

NOW HE grows flowers, vegetables and tends his orchard at the home the couple bought in 1942. He is the oldest member of the Knights of Columbus here, "60 years," he says, and is a member also of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and Service (Seniors in Retirement). He also belongs to the 91st Division Association.

The couple's daughter, Mrs. Phyllis McDowell, and their grandsons, Marty and Danny, also live in San Rafael. And, of course, their great-granddaughter Elizabeth.

Rib Roasts

The best value in rib roasts is the seven-inch roast, even though price per pound is higher, says Dr. Robert Mandigo, extension meat specialist at the University of Nebraska.

Big For Fall Season

Country maid dresses will be big in swinging London in the fall, according to the British Consul General's office in San Francisco. These two cotton garments in a kaleidoscope of colored prints were designed by Chester Marin of London and are being shown during the Salesman's Fashion Guild Market Week at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco. The midi dress (left) has a smocked bodice in a floral print which is reflected again in the cotton coat. The country maid dress (right) has a ruched overskirt and sleeves. Both are worn with outsize mob caps.

Sorority Has New Officers

Mrs. Robert H. Campillo of Petaluma has been installed president of Gamma Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi for the year.

A two-year member of the group, Joan Campillo served as the chapter social chairman last year. She says that the chapter plans to assist the Petaluma Boys Club next year, although the plans are indefinite, and will sponsor a carnival and car wash session to raise funds.

Mrs. Campillo is also active in McDowell School Parent-Teacher Association in Petaluma, having served as its Newsette chairman and auditor.

A native of Uniontown, Wash., Joan Campillo attended Analy High School in Sebastopol and Ursuline High School in Santa Rosa and Burroughs Business Machines School in San Francisco. She has lived in Sonoma County for 25 years.

Mrs. Campillo and her children, Michael, 10; Mark, 9 and Michelle, 7. Among her hobbies she lists swimming, softball, sewing and painting.

Keynoter To Give Talk Tomorrow

I-J Special Report

PITTSBURGH — William D. Ruckelshaus, administrator for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, will be the keynote speaker for the annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at the Hilton Hotel tomorrow.

The convention will continue through Thursday for the General Federation, which represents 11 million clubwomen internationally and most of Marin's largest women's clubs.

Mrs. Earle A. Brown, federation president, will be honored at a banquet tonight, and the Junior Clubs will present their program Wednesday.

Production Of Farm Goods Up

During the 1960s, production of farm goods in the United States rose 20 per cent even though tillable acreage decreased 6 per cent and the number of farms decreased 26 per cent, according to the National Livestock and Meat Board. Output per man-hour on farms increased 82 per cent.

With less land and fewer farms, increased output has been made possible through greater agricultural production efficiencies — scientific control of diseases, pests and weeds; better land and water management; genetic development of improved, high-quality foods; land fertilization; and faster growth of farm products.

Through modern technology, one United States farmer today is able to provide food and fiber for 43 other people in this country and throughout the world.

Give Wood A Good Cleaning Yearly

To give wood a complete cleaning once or twice a year, it is necessary to remove the built-up layers of wax or polish entirely. After washing, use a clean cloth dampened with mineral spirits or a synthetic turpentine with an oily base. To clean crevices and carvings use a pointed stick wrapped with cotton or soft cloth that has been dampened with mineral spirits. Wipe off and dry one section at a time.

Food Quack

The food quack is out to make a profit at the expense of your health, so learn to recognize him, suggests the Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Nebraska. Check his terminology and watch for such phrases as "wonder foods," "miracle foods," "nature's own foods," "food cures."

Sausalito Women's Club Gives Two Scholarships

The winners, Ann Carr and Susan Gosher, are also best friends and intend to room together at Sonoma State College when they enter next fall.

Ann plans to become a biologist or elementary school science teacher. The daughter of Mrs. Alvin B. Carr of Sausalito, she studied ballet for many years and has appeared in San Francisco productions of "The Nutcracker" and "Swan Lake." She has been a teacher's aide at Edna Maguire and Park Schools and is now employed in Mill Valley until college opens.

SUSAN GOSHEN
Scholarship winner

Susan, a lifelong Sausalito resident, is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Mills Goshen. Interested in elementary school teaching, sociology and psychology, she has been a teacher's aide at Marin Terrace School in Mill Valley the past school year.

She traveled through Europe last year and from her babysitting and office work earnings will study at the art school in San Miguel de Allende in Mexico for six weeks this summer.

Each won a $200 scholarship from the woman's club recognition fund. The awards are given annually to two Sausalito residents.

Mrs. Branwell Fanning, bridge chairman, says that the bridge marathon will be a project of Reed Guild next year, open to any bridge player, as a benefit for Sunny Hills.

How To Create A Bright Sunny Look

A window washing session will brighten the whole house and give a lift to your spirits, too. Add a little ammonia to a pail of warm suds; use a sponge to wash the panes. Drying with crumpled newspaper creates a sparkling, streak-free finish, says the Cleanliness Bureau.

San Anselmo Police Chief Is Married

San Anselmo Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani and Mrs. Beatrice Wilmes of Fairfax were married in Carson City, Nev., on May 28.

After their marriage the couple drove to Mendocino to spend a few days at Heritage House and then on to Gold Beach, Ore., before returning to Marin Friday.

The couple will make their home in Fairfax. It is a second marriage for both.

Vows Are Exchanged At Deer Park Villa

Newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harry Ballou are living in San Anselmo following their wedding May 29 in the garden of Deer Park Villa in Fairfax.

The bride, the former Jean Mae Conklin of San Anselmo, chose her sister Patricia Conklin as maid of honor and Jackie Colton of Greenbrae as the bridesmaid.

Jean, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin R. Conklin of San Anselmo, is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School. She attended the College of Marin and is employed with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in San Francisco.

She is the sister of Mrs. Wesley Olson Jr. and Janet Conklin of San Rafael, Mrs. Ralph De La Montanya of Novato, Ronald Conklin of Fort Banning, Ga., and Patricia Conklin. Mr and Mrs. Alvin Quaini and Mrs. Ruth Conklin are her grandparents.

Robert is the son of Robert M. Ballou of King City and Mrs. Hazel O. Ballou of San Anselmo. Employed in Marin as a carpenter, he was graduated from Redwood High School and attended the College of Marin.

Teach Safety Rules At An Early Age

Some safety rules are basic — teach your child how to cross the street when he is young by setting a good example yourself, says the Health Insurance Institute.

Remind the youngster when he or she is about to cross a street to look in both directions and to walk, not run. Instruct him never to run from behind parked cars and always to get out of the car on the sidewalk side. Speak matter-of-factly so the child does not become panicky about crossing streets, the institute advises.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Victim Of Nervous Breakdown Pleads For Family's Sympathy

DEAR HELEN:

Many years ago a relative suffered a nervous breakdown. We tried sympathy, then being stern. Nothing helped. Finally we gave up in disgust and ignored her, as we felt most of it was an act and she w a s n ' t t r y i n g to get well. We were angry because she was ruining the happiness of all of us.

I can now understand what she suffered, for in the past 12 years I have had two breakdowns. Only those who have gone through this hell on earth can comprehend what it's like.

Worst of all, you're aware of what is happening and can't control it. Your emotions run wild and the harder you fight them, the more exhausted you are, so in your weakened condition, they really take over.

There's a fear so intense it's terrifying, and death would seem a blessing. Sometimes you appear calm to others, but inside a battle rages. You sit still from panic: If you start screaming, you might never stop!

Psychiatry didn't help. I had to go it alone, and I made it, just barely. But there's always that fear it will happen again — that "hanging on to yourself," watching for the first symptom.

I'm writing this, Helen, because I see o t h e r s "on the verge," and see their confused and often resentful families turning away. These (we) people need symphony as much as we need air. We need someone to understand and love us, to put their arms around us and let us know they'll stand by.

Mental illness is a terrifying thing. We can't cope, hope, or fight it alone. Yet more often than not, we're forced to. — A.D.

DEAR A.:

Let's take your excellent letter one step further: If love, understanding and real communication were ALWAYS present in the family, the incidence of nervous breakdowns might decrease by at least three-fourths. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I was healthy, pretty and 20 when my mother became ill. The other five children were married or about to be, so that left me to care for her and Dad. I quit my job and became a nurse at home.

After her death, my father was ailing, so for seven years I cared for him. I had no social life and no friends.

Dad's death turned me toward a job, but by now the years had taken their toll. Due to my poor health, I am without work for long periods, and my income won't stretch.

What do I hear from my married sisters and brothers? "You can't expect us to s u p p o r t you!" "Why on earth don't you find a husband?" They forget that during the "man-finding" years I was doing my duty — which they nelected.

Am I to be tossed aside like an orphan, now when I need their help? —WEARY

DEAR WEARY:

You d i d n ' t say, but I'm guessing you're under 40 — with half of your life still to live. True, the first half wasn't roses, but the future needn't be all thorns.

W h a t you need is "adjustment time" — a year perhaps to build up your physical and mental health so that you can face freedom and enjoy it.

I believe your family will finance this sabbatical, if you show your determination to become a new woman. Why not ask them? — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Insurance Mail Ads—Watch Out

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — The advertising for one company's health insurance policy sounds attractive:

"Maximum policy benefits for hospital care $5,000, for death from natural cause $10,000, for accidental death $20,000. The big family plan for only $6.25 monthly."

But a close reading of the policy later after payment is made would show that the total amount payable for hospital care in any year is limited to $500 for any one person.

The p o l i c y also limits the payment for any death from natural causes to $2,000 and limits payment for each accidental death to $4,000. An accidental death also must occur independently of any other cause w i t h i n 90 days of the accident.

Another catch is that the full benefits are not available until the policy has been in effect for a certain period of time.

One company mails advertising claiming:

"YOU GET AN IRON-CLAD guarantee which pays you at the rate of $1,000 cash a month beginning the first day for your full stay in any hospital due to accidental injury . . . There are no gimmicks, no exceptions, no exclusions, no limitations, no waiting periods, no ifs, ands or buts."

But a close reading of the policy will reveal plenty of gimmicks and limitations. No policy exists w i t h o u t s o m e restrictions.

The most common — and potentially the biggest restriction — is a c l a u s e in the policy excluding payment for a certain period for anything that can be traced to a physical ailment that existed before the policy went into effect.

TO PROTECT ITSELF, the company usually requires a policyholder to confess his physical record back to childhood and to state his general condition.

Even the most honest policyholder, however, may not be able to describe his true condition. He may already have a problem developing but not yet apparent to him or his doctor. Yet he may not be eligible for benefits if the company determines it stems from a prior condition.

If a policyholder neglects to include anything in his past record, he may find after many years of premiums that the company will refuse payment because a "pre-existing condition" had not been mentioned on the application form.

THESE ARE ONLY a few of the traps awaiting people who buy insurance by mail. There are many legitimate firms that operate by mail, but it is difficult to tell from advertising brochures which are telling the truth and which are not.

One problem is that regulation of the insurance industry is entrusted to the states which vary greatly in their standards and vigor in monitoring activities.

THE ONLY AREA of federal regulation is in advertising. But the Federal Trade Commission, the agency with jurisdiction over false advertising in interstate commerce, has insufficient funds and personnel to police this huge, thriving industry.

So it has tried another approach: warning consumers of pitfalls. Its latest warning comes in p a m p h l e t called "Mail Order Insurance." It is free from the FTC, Washington, D.C. 20580.

Opening's For Museum Docents

For the f i r s t time in two years the Docent Council of the DeYoung Museum and the Palace of hte Legion of Honor has openings for trainees as museum docents. Many Marin residents were t r a i n e d in the sessions earlier and have been serving as v o l u n t e e r tour guides of the art collections.

Three sections for trainees will open the week of Sept. 12, Chinese art history, history Western art and e t h n i c art. The Chinese and Wester art courses will last 26 seeks, while the new ethnic program studying the arts of Africa, the Pacific, the American Indian, Meso-America and Peru will be held for 14 weeks, prior to the opening of this collection in a new gallery of the De Young Museum.

College credit will be extended through Lone Mountain College. Volunteers may enroll in June through the Docent Council office, De Young Museum.

Don't Mind Look

Don't worry if the meat around the bones of some chickens looks reddish brown even after cooking. It's safe to eat, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture poultry inspectors. Broiler-fryers tend to show this effect because they're marketed young, at 6 to 8 weeks. Their bone marrow has not fully hardened, and the red blood cells seep into the surrounding meat, causing a deep red or brown color.

Working Wife

According to one survey, reported by University of Nebraska home economists, the wife working outside the home spends five hours a day in household work. This compares to an average of eight hours per day on housework for homemakers who are not employed outside the home.

FIFTY YEARS ago Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Russell of San Anselmo were married in Stockton. The golden wedding anniversary was celebrated Saturday at a reception in this honor hosted by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lewis of San Rafael. The wedding took place June 4, 1921.

The Spending Habits Of Boys And Girls

NEW YORK (UPI)—Here's money information — from Purdue University economists who analyzed spending patterns of a group of boys and girls in grades eight through 12.

The spending ranged from $3 to $10 a week and two-thirds of the youngsters had part time jobs. More than two-fifths were employed five hours or more a week during the school year. Allowances were a more common source of money in the lower than in the higher grades.

Russells Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Russell of San Anselmo celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday at a reception in their honor hosted by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lewis, at the Lewises' home in San Rafael.

The Russells were married June 4, 1921, in Stockton, where Mrs. Russell, the former Gladys T u r n e r, was born and reared. Mr. Russell is a native of London and came to Ontario, Canada, as a young boy. He went to Stockton in 1920 to see a friend, and the friend introduced the couple.

Following their marriage the Russells moved to Oakland for three years and then to San Francisco, where they lived until moving to Marin in 1956.

O l i v e Lewis is their only child. They are the grandparents of Troy Lewis Jr. of San Rafael, Mrs. George Menzies (Diane Lewis) of Fairfax and 9-year-old Megan Lewis.

Both of the Russells retired from business eight years ago. They enjoy t a k i n g trips by automobile, Russell being a devoted fisherman. Mrs. Russell's hobby is bridge.

Return Of Cloth Napkins Is Forecast

We may see a return of cloth table napkins for informal family use in the home, if Paul Swatek, author of the "User's Guide to the Protection of the Environment" has his way.

Writing on ecology in Mademoiselle, Swatek suggests the image of "consumer" can be changed to "user" by buying durable, not disposable products, and by avoiding anything that cannot be recycled. This will l e s s e n the amount of wastes, says Swatek.

Breading Tips

10 reasons why this free test can help your child this summer.

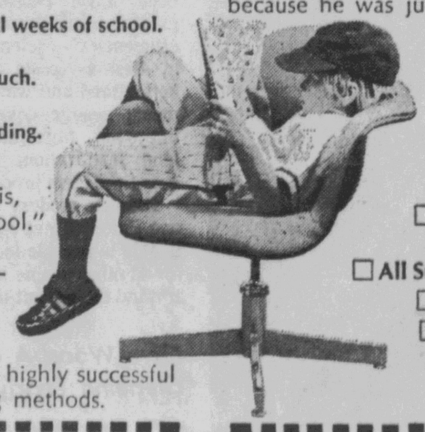
1. Your child is an "A" student making "C" grades.
2. Your child watches too much TV.
3. Your child says, "I have nothing to do."
4. Your child says, "I can't do it."
5. Your child says, "Everybody's ahead of me in class."
6. Your child has been called a "slow learner."
7. Your child gets low grades in conduct.
8. Your child had to skip several weeks of school.
9. Your child daydreams too much.
10. Your child doesn't enjoy reading.

What your child may be saying is, "I wish I could do better in school." You can help your child by enrolling him in the Sullivan Reading Center Summer School Program. The Center offers accelerated learning programs in Math and Reading using the highly successful Sullivan programmed teaching methods.

What Parents say about the Sullivan Program:

Mrs. Henry Tiedemann, San Rafael, Ca.: Daniel shows improvement, most important of all to us, in his attitude toward scholastic studies. He seems more serious and thorough while doing homework and research for projects. What he developed in Reading at the Center seems to be carrying over into his other school subjects.

Mrs. Charles Wendell, San Francisco, Ca.: Private tutoring, interest in the child and patience with the children is a virtue with the Sullivan Centers. Troy has developed confidence in himself now to the point where he will try to read anything; whereas before, he was afraid to say the word because he was just guessing. The teachers at Sullivan treat these children as if they were their own.



Benefits of the Sullivan Program

- ☐ Parents receive home evaluation checklist
- ☐ Individualized programmed instruction
- ☐ All Sullivan materials are provided
- ☐ You select the session times
- ☐ Free reading evaluation test

Can Opener Tip

Pan To Use

Recipes give size and sometimes the shape of the pan to use. To find the size, measure the pan at the top from the inside of the rim on one side to the inside rim on the other side. Measure the depth of the pan by holding the ruler straight up and down beside the pan.

Asparagus Tips

When buying fresh asparagus, look for stalks that are cold and have a moist butt end. Keep the stalks cold and moist until cooking time. Standard size stalks run about 15 or 16 per pound, and 1 pound serves three persons.

Read Instructions

Read carefully instructions that accompany any small or major appliance you purchase. After learning how to operate same properly you will also save time by using the right method of cleaning.

Use Latex Paint

Clean-up is easy when you use latex paint. After squeezing excess paint from brushes or rollers in water, get them really clean and softly flexible by washing in a pail of warm suds. Riinse again and hang to dry, bristles down for brushes.

Pre-Test Wax

Pre-test any new wax or polish on an inconspicuous area of furniture. The wrong type of product can sometimes change the finish, affect the color or just prove unsatisfactory and require complete removal.

75 House Members Getting Labor Money

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA) says 78 House members received more than $5,000 each in labor contributions to finance last year's elections.

ACA, a conservative organization, said a total of $1,521,939 was contributed to House candidates. More than $1 million of the amount went to 113 candidates —78 who won and 35 who lost.

ACA said its research staff assembled the list from reports filed with the clerk of the House under federal law and, where required, with state and county offices. Some states do not have campaign finance reporting laws, and federal laws do not purport to cover all contributions.

Thirty winners and 10 losers —all Democrats —received more than $10,000, according to the ACA list.

Those who received between $5,000 and $10,000 included 48 winners and 25 losers.

Only three were Republicans —Rep. Paul N. McCloskey, Calif., $6,015; Rep. Thomas M. Pelley, Wash., $5,950, and Barry Farber, $5,820, GOP and Liberal party nominee, defeated by Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y.

David A. Tunno, loser to Rep. Victor V. Veysey, R-Calif., $23,075; Rep. Lee Aspin, $20,119; Rep. Lloyd Meed, Wash., $19,010; Rep. John F. Seiberling, Ohio, $18,070; Nino Green, beaten by Rep. Philip E. Ruppe, R-Mich., $15,600; Reps. Claude Pepper, Fla., and Edward A. Garmatz, Md., $15,450 each; former Rep. Jacob H. Gilbert, defeated in the New York Democratic primary, $15,150, and Rep. John C. Culver, Iowa, $15,100.

Previously, the ACA had circulated a list showing that labor affiliates had contributed $1,767,044 in 1970 to Senate candidates —33 Democrats, seven Republicans and one independent.

Captain Plans Test Case In Peace March

LAKENHEATH, England (UPI)—U.S. Air Force Capt. Thomas Culver, a military lawyer in the judge advocate's office, says he plans to make a test case asserting his right to participate in peace demonstrations.

Culver, 34, of Santa Barbara, Calif., was restricted to his base last week and said Sunday night he expects to be court martialed.

Culver, a Vietnam veteran with only 11 weeks to go to complete his six-year hitch in the service, was among several hundred U.S. servicemen who delivered antiwar petitions last Monday to the U.S. embassy in London.

He said he was taken from his apartment at midnight Thursday and put under a "state of arrest" on the Lakenheath base, the largest U.S. Air Force base in Britain.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER — Jed Barahal, 15, of 420 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, has been awarded the Marin Symphony Guild's $500 memorial scholarship. A cellist, he performed Saturday in a noontime concert at the Crown Zellerbach Plaza, San Francisco.

Reading Signups Set In Sausalito

Signups will be held at the Sausalito Library beginning June 14 for the annual summer reading program. This year's theme is mythical monsters, from unicorns to basilisks.

Librarian Pat Shepard said each child will be issued a hunting license entitling him to cage not more than two monsters per week for conservation purposes.

Ten Democrats Offer Peace Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Ten House Democrats, in a bill being introduced today, proposed an immediate cease-fire in Vietnam followed by a total and speedy withdrawal of U.S. troops from Indochina.

Rep. John G. Dow, D-N.Y., author of the measure, said the bill would require a cease-fire within 48 hours of enactment of the measure which would require Senate and presidential approval.

Apartment Plan To Be Presented

The plan by McSweeney and Schuppel calls for the units to be constructed at the southwest corner of Ignacio Boulevard and Alameda Del Prado.

The planning staff has recommended a maximum of 184 units.

The commission will meet at 8 p.m. at the community house.

Band Music Livens Up An Evening

MUSIC REVIEW

Concert Of Singing Deserves A Bravo!

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

There's no better way to spend a spring evening than listening to good band music. This was the case Saturday night as the College of Marin Community Band presented its annual spring concert.

Playing before nearly a full house in the college's Fine Arts Theater, conductor John H. Myers presented a balanced program to display the ensemble's better qualities.

After a somewhat unsteady beginning in Richard Wagner's "Prelude to Die Meistersinger," arranged by Theodore Moses-Tobani, the band settled down by the second half with the evening's highlight, "Concerto for Timpani and Brass" by Jaromir Weinberger, featuring Terry Bozzio on the timpani.

Young Bozzio is an exceptionally fine percussionist. He has an excellent feeling with the timpani, and Myer's brass section rose to the occasion, backing Bozzio with fine shadings in the three-part concerto.

Also on the percussion, one of the band's strongest units, had a field day in John Barnes Chance's "Variations on a Korean Folk Song." The quality of the woodwinds in this selection helped counter some weaker playing in the lower brass.

What band concert is a concert without a Sousa march? True to Myer's programming, he selected the "New Mexico March" by the famed composer.

Other selections on the program included "Giles Farnaby Suite," 11 compositions written in the mid-16th Century and transcribed by band by Gordon Jacob, and Aaron Copland's "An Outdoor Overture." It has a true Compland sound, full of percussion dynamics and a rousing conclusion.

It is indeed fortunate that the college has an outlet, especially designed for this type of music and Myers should be congratulated for the high caliber of musicianship he gets from his ensemble. JW

One of the highlights of any musical season in Marin has always been the annual spring College of Marin Community Chorus and Collegiate Chorale concerts.

And last night was no exception to the rule as Dr. S. Drummond Wolff presented the two ensembles, plus four guest soloists, in works by Gounod and Rossini before a full house in the college's Fine Arts Theater.

Shouts of bravo rang through the theater as Dr. Wolff's baton fell on the towering "Stabat Mater" by Rossini, which is considered one of the finest of all choral works, sharing equal status with Haydn's "The Creation."

And rightly so for the ensemble caught the spirit of the "Stabat Mater" from the opening bass choral passage to the towering final "amen."

As usual Dr. Wolff selected his soloists for the agility of their voices individually as well as collectively. And it paid off handsomely in the "sancta mater" which captures Rossini at his best and reminds this reviewer of the intricate quartet passages found in the composer's opera, "The Barber of Seville."

So equal were the soloists that each demands an individual bravo. They were Meg Broughton, soprano; Donna Petersen, contralo; Paul Raabe, tenor, and Richard Clark, bass.

It is seldom that I have found this "equalness" in guest soloists, but it shows the quality of musicianship that can be found in the Bay Area.

Playing equal importance in the "Stabat Mater" was the small orchestra with some very familiar musical names in Marin, including violinist Charles Meacham, cellist Jean Mitchell, her husband, violist Lucien Mitchell and the college's young timpanist, Terry Bozzio. It's too bad the program did not note the orchestra's personnel.

In contrast to the 'lively' "Stabat Mater, Gounod's "Saint Cecilia Mass" is more somber in nature, but still an excellent selection for any program. The highlight of the seven-part mass is the "credo in unum Deum" which gives the chorus a chance to almost nearly shout the exaltations, intertwined with soprano, tenor and bass solo passages with the orchestra.

While it is not a showpiece "Stabat Mater" scope, it places great demands on the choral passages — handled expertly by the chorus of nearly 200 voices.

It is a shame that such a concert as last evening's is a once only thing, for such excellent music should be heard by a larger segment of the Marin musical going community.

Property Split Plea On Agenda

Ross Town Council will consider a request to split the Robert N. Pomeroy property at Pomeroy and Newell roads into three parcels, at the council's regular meeting, 8 p.m. Thursday in the town hall.

The division would result in a 1.58-acre parcel within San Anselmo city limits, but fronting on Crest Road in Ross; the 3.19-acre home parcel including the residence, pool and garage, lying partly within San Anselmo, San Rafael and Ross, and a third, one-acre parcel entirely in Ross.

Also on the agenda are formal adoption of the ordinance changes setting a $100 fine for a false fire alarm due to malfunctions detectors or other causes, and banning parking on certain streets. The council will discuss the Yellow Cab Co. request for a rate increase, and the Marin Kidney Foundation request for permission to hold a fund-raising plant sale on the Ross Common.

Benefit Increase Due Lagunitas Study

The Lagunitas School District board, meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at San Geronimo Valley school, will consider increased medical and health benefits for district employees.

Also on the agenda is study of a preliminary budget and a closed session to consider teacher requests for salary increases.

Park Officials Urge Campers To Reserve Soon

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The State Department of Parks and Recreation has advised campers wishing to stay in a state park campground over the three-day Fourth of July weekend to get their reservations in early.

The department said nearly all southern and central coastal beach parks are filled by advance reservations as are many of the northern and southern mountain parks and central redwood parks.

Campers may reserve state park campsites at any of the more than 230 Ticketron agencies in California.

Rowers To Try Again Friday

ENSENADA, Mexico (UPI) — Two British adventurers, their first attempt to row across the Pacific Ocean aborted by stormy seas, plan to try again Friday.

John Fairfax and Sylvia Cook said they spent most of the first few weeks of the initial journey lashed together because of high waves and winds.

"I was seasick every day for the first week," said the 31-year-old Miss Cook, who cannot swim. "My teeth never stopped chattering. And I will admit I was scared."

Beautification Chairmen Picked

Gene F. O'Connor has been appointed chairman of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce beautification committee.

O'Connor, an insurance broker, said emphasis will be placed on highway improvements and entrances to downtown.

O'Connor will serve as the chamber's representative on the San Rafael City Council's beautification committee.

Highway, Cigarette Revenues Shared

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Apportionment of highway and cigarette tax revenue for May to Marin and Southern Sonoma cities was announced today by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy.

In Marin, the county's share of highway taxes was $124,973. The cities' apportionments were: Belvedere, $2,087; Corte Madera, $6,012; Fairfax, $5,373; Larkspur, $7,208; Mill Valley, $8,802; Novato, $20,530; Ross, $2,180; San Anselmo, $8,860; San Rafael, $25,706; Sausalito, $4,398, and Tiburon, $4,431.

In Sonoma, the county received $172,807 and city shares were: Cotati, $1,301; Petaluma, $18,099, and Rohnert Park, $4,442.

Marin County's share of cigarette taxes was $5,983; and city shares were: Belvedere, $611; Corte Madera, $4,691; Fairfax, $1,995; Larkspur, $3,330; Mill Valley, $4,290; Novato, $9,369; Ross, $622; San Anselmo, $4,017; San Rafael, $21,659; Sausalito, $3,276, and Tiburon, $1,978.

In Sonoma, the county received $21,404 in cigarette tax revenue and city shares were: Cotati, $572; Petaluma, $9,466, and Rohnert Park, $1,748.

Flournoy also announced payment of the first quarterly apportionment of revenues from the new highway carriers' uniform business license tax. The tax assesses carriers a license fee equal to one-tenth of 1 per cent of their gross operating revenues.

Proceeds are distributed among cities in the proportion of each city's population to the total population of all cities in the state.

In Marin, the shares were: Belvedere, $34; Corte Madera, $115; Fairfax, $70; Larkspur, $140; Mill Valley, $173; Novato, $415; Ross, $36; San Anselmo, $146; San Rafael, $519; Sausalito, $75, and Tiburon, $77.

In Sonoma, the shares were: Cotati, $18; Petaluma, $344, and Rohnert Park, $81.

Inverness Group Seeking To Fix Up Boathouse

The Inverness Improvement Association wants to use the old Brock Schreiber boathouse on Tomales Bay as a community meeting hall.

Igor Sazevich, architect for the improvement association, will appear before the Marin County Fill Committee Thursday afternoon to ask for permission to repair the old boathouse in Inverness.

The architect also plans to build parking places and a turnaround along the shoreline.

The fill committee will meet at 3 p.m. Thursday in Room 426 at the Marin Civic Center.

Another item on the fill committee's agenda is a request by Neil M. Buchan of Santa Rosa to cultivate oysters in 42 acres of water on the north shore of Tomales Bay between Tom's Point and Vincent Landing. Buchan wants to install a stingray fence and about 5,000 wooden stakes to support baskets in which oysters are cultivated.

The Marin County Fill Committee formerly met at irregular intervals, but will meet regularly hereafter on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 3 p.m. at the Civic Center. Committee members are the county public works director, planning director, and the parks and recreation director.

Irving L. Schwartz, land development engineer in the department of public works, is executive director of the committee.

School Budget On Tap Today

The Mill Valley School District board, meeting at 8 p.m. today at Park School, will discuss a tentative $3,423,000 budget, up from this year's $3,257,655 budget.

Also on the agenda is approval of dental and health insurance plans for teachers and a report on conditions under which the Reed School District will accept a proposed 624-unit apartment project which the Mill Valley district has said it cannot service.

After the regular meeting the board will meet in closed session to discuss contract negotiations with teachers.

Merger Of Health Units Is Endorsed

A task force of the Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council has endorsed the merger of all county health and medical services into one county department.

James F. Reed, San Anselmo city councilman and chairman of the committee, said, that the task force failed, however, to agree on the administrative relationship below Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

The proposed merger would place Dr. Donovan O. Cooke at the top of the new department with Dr. Albrecht as health officer and Dr. John S. Guerrant as program chief for mental health services.

Still unclear in the recommendation is what will be Dr. Albrecht's position with regard to such services as family planning, tuberculosis and veneral disease clinics. She now heads these services.

The new department was proposed last month by Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella.

The proposal came in the wake of accusations of mismanagement in Dr. Albrecht's department by County Administrator Alan Bruce who asked that she be fired.

Dr. Albrecht was subsequently upheld by the Board of Supervisors, and Bruce resigned under fire following the incident.

The task force's report is due to be discussed by the Comprehensive Health Planning Council at a meeting at 8 a.m. Wednesday in Room 255 of the Hall of Justice.

Baar Appeal On Cost Of Angela Trial

The chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors has issued an appeal to civic organizations throughout Marin asking them to help in an effort to get the state to assume costs of the Davis-Magee trial.

Louis H. Baar said in a letter to the organizations that "all the taxpayers of Marin are faced with costs conservatively estimated at over $1 million."

These costs would include pretrial proceedings, jury selection, trial, defense attorneys for Magee, security, crowd control and possibly, jury sequestration, Baar said.

Since the state has so far denied any financial responsibility, Baar urged that letters be sent to Governor Reagan, Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger, Sen. Peter H. Behr and Assemblyman William T. Bagley.

Fire Site Cleanup Under Way

Crews today began cleaning up wreckage from the Duracite Manufacturing Co. plant at 121-123 Jordan Street in San Rafael that burned in an explosive fire Friday.

Damage was estimated at $145,000 in the blaze which was fed by exploding drums of acetone solvent and quantities of resin that Duracite used in manufacturing imitation marble sinks.

Cause of the fire remained undetermined today while San Rafael Fire Marshal Kenneth Mazza, assisted by other departments' officials, combed the ruins.

The flames which briefly threatened to spread to neighboring buildings in the San Rafael industrial district drew thousands of spectators to the scene.

The firm's employees had closed up shop at 4:30 p.m. only 15 minutes before the acetone drums exploded.

It is not known how much insurance was carried on the stock or the building; F. John Dreyfous of Belvedere, president of the firm, could not be reached today.

He previously estimated damage to the 10-year-old building at $85,000 and at $60,000 to the stock. The building is owned by Homer C. Rickards of San Rafael.

Zoning Request Before Council

A rezoning request for an 82-acre residential development will be considered at the Rohnert Park City Council meeting at 7 p.m. today.

A public hearing will be held on the request of Debra Homes, Inc. to rezone 82 acres to multi-family residential planned-development district. The land is located north of the Rohnert Park Expressway, south of Hinebaugh Creek and west of Snyder Lane.

The council will also consider the filing of an application for a grant from the Department of Commerce to finance construction of an overpass of Highway 101 at the Rohnert Park Expressway.

Missing Marin Poet Turns Up

I-J Special Report

NEVADA CITY — Marin City poet Lew Welch, who once described himself as a "former hermit," has returned to this tiny mountain community after being reported missing and feared dead since May 23.

"He was in town Tuesday, conducted some business and left again," said Undersheriff Frank Gallino. "We are no longer looking for him."

The 44-year-old Beat Generation poet left a note two weeks ago saying he thought himself a failure and he was planning to take his own life.

Massive searches over the rough Sierra Mountains by sheriff's deputies, family and friends failed to locate him. The search was called off a day before he returned.

Gallino said he didn't know where Welch had gone or why.

Hit-And-Run Driving Case Due Today

A 37-year-old Novato man, arrested on suspicion of hit-and-run driving involving injury, reckless driving and resisting arrest, was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Novato police said they arrested Wayne Oliver Walton of 400 Alameda Del Prado Friday after he left the scene of an accident in which he was involved at Novato Boulevard and Wilson Avenue.

Walton's car struck the rear of a car driven by Edgar Walter Schattie, 44, of 3 Elinor Court, Petaluma, which had stopped on Wilson Avenue at Novato Boulevard at 10:59 p.m., officers said. Schattie, who suffered neck and back pains, was treated at Novato General Hospital.

After the crash Walton drove west on Novato Boulevard at high speed, crossed the enter line and failed to halt for a police unit, officers said. When he was halted beyond Novato Creek Park, he attempted to flee on foot, police said. Walton posted $1,200 bail.

Ross School Board To Study Clause

The Ross School District board will hold a special closed meeting at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in the district office to discuss a clause in the teacher's contracts.

Supt. Thomas A. Anderson said that the teachers are objecting to the $75-a-day fine for failing to show up for work. This clause has been in the contract for two years, but some teachers are objecting to it now, he said.

Petaluma Man Booked In Battery

Armond Bouchard, 42, of 80 Maria Drive, Petaluma, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of battery.

Police said he was seen at 8:35 p.m. in a parking lot on Western Avenue having an argument with two young men. Officers said Bouchard slapped Jose Arteaga, 17, of 23 Wilson Street. He was booked into the city jail for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Judge Baty To Speak At Chamber Meeting

Judge David R. Baty of West Marin Justice Court will speak at the regular monthly meeting of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Red Barn restaurat, Point Reyes Station.

Judge Baty will speak on the proposed consolidation of the judicial district into Marin Municipal Court.

Belvedere Budget On Agenda Tonight

A $374,525 operations and equipment budget for 1971-72, an $18,285 increase over this year, will be considered at 8 p.m. today when the Belvedere City Council meets at city hall.

Also on the agenda is consideration of a Belvedere-Tiburon-Reed School District summer recreation program.

County Employees' Vote Set On Union Questions

Almost 700 Marin County employees will go to the polls on June 22 to pick either the Marin County Employees Association or the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) as their bargaining agent.

AFSCME is a new union which organized Mill Valley city employees last March and is trying to woo county employees away from the Marin County Employees Association.

Under supervision by the state conciliation service, polls will be set up in the following seven locations: Marin Civic Center; County Corporation yards at Greenbrae, Mill Valley, and Nicasio; 920 Grand Avenue, Marin Juvenile Hall, and Novato Branch Library.

Employees in the following four representation units will vote for either MCEA or AFSCME:

About 350 general clerical and related clerical technicians; about 110 trades, custodial and related employees; about 120 technical services, regulatory and related employees (such as engineers, draftsmen, planners and accountants); and about 100 public services employees (such as librarians, health officials and attorneys).

A separate election will be held simultaneously for more than 50 eligibility workers in the Department of Public Social Services. These eligibility workers will vote either to become a separate unit under Social Workers Union Local 535, or to join the public services unit with either MCEA or AFSCME as a bargaining agent.

Richard I. Uchida, personnel analyst, said that a detailed list of those eligible to vote on June 22 will be drawn up within a week.

More than 200 million calendars were issued in the United States in 1970.

Today is Monday, June 7, the 158th day of 1971.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening star is Jupiter.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Gemini.

British fashion expert George "Beau" Brummell was born June 7, 1778.

On this day in history:

In 1933 Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany signed a 10-year peace pact.

In 1939 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth became the first British monarchs to visit the United States.

A Steam Bus Grant Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The federal government has approved a $409,488 grant needed to put three demonstration steam buses operating on the street by January.

Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, announced Thursday the buses are set to be tested in San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties and Los Angeles during the summer. If the tests prove satisfactory, said Burton,

Some Sage Advice Offered On A Very Bad Trump Break

What should you do when you know that your opponent's trump suit is going to break badly? Should you tell his parents and all the neighbors immediately? Should you drop a note to his draft board? Or should you just look the other way and hope it isn't catching? If you follow the advice of Dear Alfred, you'll keep the bad news a secret as long as you can. Today's hand may give you the general idea.

HOLDS OFF

West opened the king of hearts, and South held off. West continued with the queen of hearts, and South took the ace.

South naturally led a low trump, and West decided to follow Dear Alfred's advice. That is, West played the eight of spades, keeping the trump break a secret.

Before we go on, let's see what would happen if West just looked the other way and played the three of spades. Dummy's queen would win, and South would not know about the bad trump break. But South would be unable to cope with a 4-1 break unless West had the four trumps.

LOW TRUMP

Declarer would therefore lead the low trump from dummy to the king in his own hand. East's discard would reveal the bad break, and West would take the ace of spades and cash his heart trick. South would then regain the lead and take a finesse with dummy's J-9 of trumps to pick up West's 10-8.

In short, South would make his contract if West sat still and did nothing.

CONCEALMENT

West must practice some active concealment when South leads the first trump from his hand. West should casually follow suit with the eight of spades.

When dummy's queen wins the trick, South is left with the impression that West may have started with the singleton eight of spades. To guard against this danger, declarer leads the jack of spades from dummy.

East discards, and the secret is out at last. It is too late for South to recover, and we have another triumph for Dear Alfred's advice to the lovelorn defender.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ - 2
♥ - 10 9 7 4
♦ - Q J 6 2
♣ - 9 6 5 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

The singleton worries you, but you may make matters worse by bidding. You would bid any five-card or longer suit, but bidding a four-card suit in this situation may jar you out of the frying pan into the fire.

HELP!

We are a rapidly expanding national corporation in need of a distributor to purchase and service an unusual product — A TALKING VENDING MACHINE. There are many choice locations available in your area and we are looking for someone to develop this market.

If you have a car and can spare as little as 6 to 8 hours weekly, you can enjoy an excellent supplemental income. Your investment of $900 to $9,000 can grow into a full time income.

WE ESTABLISH ROUTES
NO PERSONAL SALES CALLS
MACHINES DO THE SELLING

Vending is a vigorous $5-billion plus recession proof business. Your sales are cash. No credit risks. Your equipment is on the job day and night, earning extra income for you and your family.

We train, counsel, guide and help you get started in a business of your own. No experience necessary. The work is enjoyable and easy.

This is the age of automated merchandising. Our equipment is the finest quality and our snack items are nationally advertised brands. If you will return the coupon below we will be very happy to discuss this opportunity with you.

VENDA TALKER, INC.
2800 W. Mockingbird Lane

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Decade Of Debate On Cholesterol Unresolved On Heart Attacks

HIGH cholesterol levels in the blood increase the risk of heart attack due to hardening of the coronary arteries. Lowering the level with diet, however, does not necessarily lessen the chance of having a heart attack. This is the crux of the cholesterol controversy, a debate that has gone on for more than a decade.

HARDENING of the arteries, including the coronary vessels that supply the heart muscle with blood, is a complex process. Other constituents of blood have been blamed at one time or another. So have changes in the arterial wall resulting from injury and repair. Emotional stress, lack of exercise, heavy smoking, obesity, various hormones, hypertension and heredity also are implicated. This may explain why cholesterol-lowering diets do not always prevent heart attacks.

We know that, in humans, well-developed atherosclerotic lesions contain great quantities of cholesterol. Whether these deposits form because there is too much cholesterol in the blood is a debatable issue. Fat deposits can be produced in laboratory animals by feeding them large amounts of cholesterol. The opponents argue that the lesions in animals are produced artificially and do not have the appearance or histologic range of human plaques.

IN ADDITION, there is a correlation between the amount of fat in the diet of many ethnic groups and the incidence of heart attacks. Many of these studies have been conducted on people who migrated to another country and have changed their life styles and eating habits.

Physicians who believe in the causative role o cholesterol in heart attacks want everyone to eat less animal and saturated fats, eggs, butter, whole milk, carbohydrates and sugar. In such a diet, saturated fats are replaced with polyunsaturated fats (mainly vegetable oils). But many authorities are not yet convinced that there is enough evidence to support this view.

HEART AND GALLSTONES

J. S. writes: Can gallstones have an effect on the heart?

REPLY

This is a moot question among physicians. Some are of the opinion that the infection accompanying gallstones creates extra work for the heart or produces a reflex that narrows the coronary arteries. In these circumstances, removal of the gallbladder lessens the amount of chest pain (angina pectoris).

VALVE DEFECT AND FOOD

F. writes: Does diet play any part (other than keeping down weight) in preventing further heart damage due to a defective valve?

REPLY

Indirectly, in that a high protein diet may help ward off a recurrence of rheumatic fever. The valve is damaged only when this disease is activated; between attacks, food has no effect.

STILLBIRTH

Mrs. K. R. writes: What are the usual causes of stillbirth?

REPLY

Maternal hemorrhage late in pregnancy, toxemia or diabetes in the mother, umbilical cord mishaps, (prolapse, cord about the neck, and knots), congenital malformations, injuries during delivery and Rh incompatibilities. Years ago syphilis was the commonest cause.

English Certificates Presented

Five students of an English class for those who speak another tongue as their first language have been given progress certificates by the Marin Economic Opportunity Council, which sponsored the course.

The awards were made at a party in the Mill Valley home of the course's teacher, Patricia Spicer. The certificates went to Anita Abgrego, Dolores Canas, Hilda Hueso, Antonina Medina and Graciels Povis.

The EOC will continue to offer daytime classes in English as a second language with Julie Larsen as instructor, home of EOC volunteer Mrs. A. C. Anderson, 10 Bella Vista Avenue, Belvedere. Evening classes will be offered in San Rafael. Information is available at the EOC offices in San Rafael.

Cadets For Police Units Are Sought

Police cadets to work and learn in Marin law enforcement agencies are being sought by the county's police-community relations department.

High school graduates between 18 and 25 will be selected to work in various law enforcement agencies for 30 hours a week, with salary, and attend college classes in police work for 10 hours a week.

The purpose of the project is to improve communication between youth and law enforcement, boost police ranks and provide training for young men and women interested in a law enforcement career.

Application may be made through the police-community relations office at the Civic Center.

General Foods Signs With FTC

WASHINGTON (UPI) —General Foods Corp., the nation's largest food processor, has signed a Federal Trade Commission (FTC) order barring false nutritional claims in advertising any of its products, it was announced today.

The agreement, provisionally accepted by the FTC, resulted from a false advertising complaint against a commercial for "Toast'Ems Pop-Ups."

The FTC said the commercial falsely claimed that two Pop-Ups provide as much nutrition as a breakfast as two eggs, two slices of bacon and toast. The Pop-Ups actually "contain substantially less nutrients," the FTC said.

Session Set Thursday On ABAG Counterpart

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Spokesmen for five counties will meet Thursday in Willits to attempt to create a regional counterpart to the Association of Bay Area Governments.

Sonoma County, whose voters decided April 20 to pull out of ABAG, will join Napa, Lake, Mendocino and Humboldt in trying to form the proposed North Coast Association of Governments, according to Sonoma County Supervisor Henry Spomer.

Financing the proposed NCAG will be a major issue, Spomer predicted. Sonoma Couty has 50 per cent of the assessed valuation of the five counties. But under the proposals in the Hooper Report, it would have only 20 per cent of the association's voting power, he said.

Whatever framework is adopted at Willits next week and eventually by the participating county and city governments must be ratified by the state Legislature and the California Council on Intergovernmental Relations.

The Sonoma County cost factor has been criticized by Supervisor Chairman Ignazio Vella, who is ABAG president, and by Supervisor Meade Nordyke.)

Free Program Of Music Set At St. Paul's

A free program of music from Bach to Poulenc will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael.

The musicians will be violinist Dr. Peter Ostwald, a professor at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco; Flutist Dr. Bernd von Lehmann, a doctor of pharmaceutical chemistry at the medical center, and pianist-harpsichordist Robert Fenton, a student of Alexander Lieberman who attends Lowell High School in San Francisco.

They will play works by Bach, Beethoven, Graun, Poulenc and Roussel for flute, violin, harpsichord and piano.

Doctors Report Way That Relieves Itching, Pain Of Swollen Hemorrhoidal Tissues

First Applications Give Prompt, Temporary Relief in Many Cases

There's a most effective medication that in many cases gives prompt relief for hours from such hemorrhoidal discomfort and actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by the inflammation. The answer is doctor-tested Preparation H®.

There's no other hemorrhoidal formula like Preparation H and it needs no prescription. Ointment or suppositories.

Nader Report Sees 'Fix' In Antitrust Suit Cases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ralph Nader's "Raiders" say consumers are paying up to $60 billion a year in higher taxes, higher prices and lost work because of the Justice Department's failure to break up monopolies.

Nader and a team of young lawyers over the weekend released a report of 1,148 pages that placed the blame on every administration for the past 20 years.

"Consumers are far more cheated of their purchasing dollar by noncompetitive industries which charge excessive prices than by shoddy merchandise and the street pickpocket," Nader charged in an introduction to the two-volume study directed by Harvard Law School graduate Mark J. Green.

Statistics were cited to show the nation's top 200 manufacturing corporations control about two-thirds of all U.S. manufacturing assets—the same share spread among 1,000 corporations in 1941.

The year-long study found huge business monopolies and oligopolies virtually untouched by government antitrust enforcers because of extreme political pressures, lack of resources and disinterest.

Officials in almost every administration, including Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst, and former Attorneys General Nicholas Katzenbach and Herbert Brownell were accused of political interference. Assistant Attorney General Richard W. McLaren reportedly twice threatened to resign as President Nixon's antitrust chief because of Kleindienst's interference.

The report said the past 11 government attorneys to study General Motor's dominance in the automobile field have suggested an antimonopoly suit but "no division or department hierarchy has overcome bureaucratic cowardice and anticipatory politics to file it," including McLaren. McLaren refused to approve a General Motors divestiture suit though his former economic aide, Leonard Weiss, had speculated such a suit would save GM's customers $1.3 billion and Ford's and Chrysler's $150 million each, the report said.

General Motors labeled the report "a slanted and unjustified attack" on the Justice Department's Antitrust Division and its officials in "an obvious effort to exert pressure" for federal action against the auto industry.

During the period reviewed, GM was sued 18 times by the Antitrust Dvision, a company spokesman said in a statement issued in Washington.

The report recommended abolition of the Antitrust Division and the FTC, and creation of a Competition Protection Agency (CPA) with the best features of both. It also suggested Congress pass a law to break up existing oligopolistic industries, and that a ban be placed on further mergers by the top 500 industries.

The study recommended further that executives found guilty in antritrust suits should spend time in jail, and fines should be higher.

Calling Brownell, Katzenbach and Kleindienst the worst of those "who have disregarded antitrust for partisan gain," the study group said Katzenbach, now an International Business Machines (IBM) executive, told them: "Why not get a political benefit from what you are going to do anyway."

Kleindienst, the man most likely to succeed Attorney General John N. Mitchell if he takes over President Nixon's re-election campaign, was accused of putting "the fix" on McLaren's plan to sue to halt the $1 billion merger of two major drug firms —Parke-Davis & Co. and Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co.

The move was attributed to the fact Elmer Bobst, honorary chairman of Warner-Lambert, is so close to Nixon his relationship is described as "fatherly." Subsequently, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) filed a complaint.

A long list of Capitol Hill politicians who had interfered or attempted to influence antitrust actions was cited, included Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Jidiciary Committee and its antitrust subcommittee and author of much antitrust legislation; and former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., whom the lawyers called "Clean Gene."

Two Youths Hurt In Cycle Crashes

Two Petaluma youths were injured Saturday at 4:20 p.m. when they fell from their motorcycle at the corner of Fourth and F streets, Petaluma.

Novato School Panel To Discuss Salaries

The Novato Unified School District board will consider teachers salaries for 1971-72 at 8 p.m. today at Novato High School lecture hall.

The trustees in March adopted a tentative budget of $9,914,-107, which called for a freeze on salaries, but representatives of the board and teachers have been negotiating in recent weeks.

Nixon Veto On Jobless Plan Seen

BY Benjamin Shore
(I-J correspondent)

WASHINGTON — Marin County's two congressmen believe President Richard M. Nixon will veto a bill passed by the House creating 150,000 public service jobs for unemployed persons.

Reps. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, and Don H. Clausen, R-First District, both supported Nixon in a vote last week to substitute a manpower revenue-sharing program for the Democratic-sponsored jobs bill.

But when the Republican substitute failed, 182 to 204, Mailliard and Clausen then voted for the $5 billion jobs bill, which passed 244 to 142.

"This bill is similar to the one he vetoed last year," Mailliard said. The president vetoed it on the grounds it would create make-work, dead-end jobs.

Clausen added, "This bill won't bring the reform that Nixon wants, so there is high speculation he will veto it."

Neither of the Republican congressmen would say now whether he will vote to override a presidential veto. They both acknowledged unemployment problems in their districts, and said there is a need for some kind of federal program now to alleviate them.

Mailliard said the Republican-sponsored revenue-sharing proposal would have been superior to the Democrats' bill "because it would have brought together all the manpower programs that now are scattered all over."

Amazing Mays Does It Again; Giants Off To Montreal

By JOE SARGIS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Any day now there aren't going to be any words left in the English language to describe Willie Mays, baseball's greybeard who has turned the clock back 20 years.

Sunday, the 40-year-old Mays played all nine innings of the opening game of a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phillies, which the San Francisco Giants lost 1-0, and all of the nightcap, which he broke up personally with a long homer to left in the 12th. To give the Giants a 4-3 win.

The homer was Mays' 13th of the year and 641st of his career and he hit it about 15 rows back in left against a 25 mile per hour wind at Candlestick Park.

Additionally, he made half a dozen good plays in the field while taking over for Willie McCovey at first and finished the long day with three hits in nine at-bats and kept his batting average at .333

"If we all live to be a 100 years old," Giants skipper Charlie Fox said after the twinbill, "none of us will ever see a player greater than Mays. There just isn't any part of the game which he can't play as well as the best or better."

Frank Lucchesi, the Phils skipper who was beginning to smile after his team won its third in a row in the opener, agreed with Fox.

"What is there left to say about Mays that hasn't been said," Lucchesi said. "He's just too much to handle."

Fox said he asked Mays if he wanted to sit the second game out, but Willie refused.

"Heck, I'll play," Mays told Fox. "We have to win this one."

The Giants did, too, for psychological reasons.

The opening game loss stretched their losing streak to five games, longest in two years, and a loss in the nightcap would have cut their National League West lead over Los Angeles to seven.

But Mays took care of all that.

"It's been a long day, but a good one after all," Mays said. "The important thing is we won and we didn't lose any ground while we were having our problems. Sure I'm tired, but winning takes care of that."

The Giants, who open a nine-game road trip in Montreal Tuesday were down 3-1 going into the ninth of the nightcap. Mays opened the inning with a double and scored minutes later on a single by Ken Henderson. That finished Phils starter Barry Lersch and brought on Jim Bunning.

The Giants loaded the bases in the 10th with one out but Bunning worked his way out of the jam. As things turned out, all it did was prolong the agony.

Mays hit his homer off Joe Hoerner, the third Phils pitcher. Rich Robertson, the last of six San Francisco pitchers, picked up the victory for blanking Philadelphia in the 11th and 12th.

The opener was all Rick Wise, who stopped the Giants on three hits, and got all the help he needed on a double by Willie Montanez and a single by Ron Stone in the sixth.

Lost in the shuffle of the nightcap was a fine seven inning pitching stint by Frank Reberger, who finally may have worked his way back into the starting rotation.

Fox wants a fifth starter so that he can give veterans Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry an extra day off between starts.

Freddie Steinmark Loses Tough Fight With Cancer

HOUSTON (UPI) — Fred Steinmark, the small, tough University of Texas defensive back who had his left leg amputated less than a week after he helped the Longhorns clinch the 1969 college football title, died Sunday night of cancer. He was 22.

Steinmark, the Wheatridge, Colo., athlete who became a national symbol of courage and determination in his year-and-a-half battle against cancer, died nearly seven weeks after reentering M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, the hospital where his cancerous leg was amputated below the knee Dec. 12, 1969.

Steinmark started every game for the Longhorns during his sophomore and junior years, and six days before the operation played in Texas' 15-14 win over Arkansas which clinched its No. 1 rating before President Nixon and a nationally televised audience.

At the time of the amputation, doctors said Steinmark suffered from a malignant sarcoma tumor —one of the fastest spreading kinds of cancer. It was discovered during exploratory surgery and amputated immediately.

A hospital spokesman said when Steinmark reentered the hospital April 20, however, that "the problems are associated with the one which originally beset him."

"This is one of the saddest things I've had happen in sports," said Fred Akers, the defensive secondary coach at the University of Texas who coached Steinmark.

"Freddie has left a huge impression on all that have been around him. We all love him quite a lot. And he has certainly been an inspiration to countless youngsters all around the country.

"We will never be prouder of anyone than we are of him."

One man sent Steinmark a gold crucifix he said had been in his family for 100 years. Another sent him a gold medallion and the Notre Dame and Alabama football teams sent him autographed footballs.

Another football came from the Oakland Raiders, who all signed a letter which read:

"The motto of the Oakland Raiders is pride and poise. We feel that you, by your courage, have earned this."

He was praised on the floor of the U.S. Senate by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., as a "courageous Coloradan who, throughout has never betrayed a trace of self-pity."

Despite his comparative slight stature—at 5-10 and 166 pounds he was the smallest starter on the national championship team — Steinmark started every game for Texas

Dickinson Wins In Atlanta

Missed Short Putt Costs Nicklaus On Playoff Hole

ATLANTA (UPI)—It won't faze Lost Tree Village that its most famous resident, Jack Nicklaus, didn't win the Atlanta Golf Classic title. After all, Gardner Dickinson kept it in the neighborhood.

Dickinson, a 43-year-old veteran who has been just a face in the crowd the last couple of years, beat the always-favored Nicklaus on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday when Jack booted a gimmie putt.

"What can I say," Nicklaus muttered chagrinly. "I thought that little old three-footer was going to break and darn if it didn't go straight as an arrow."

"Oh well, you can't expect to win them all," a PGA official sympathized with Nicklaus who had been gunning for his third straight victory since taking second in the Masters.

"Maybe not," Nicklaus replied. "But it doesn't hurt to try."

Nicklaus, Dickinson and Gary Player, who fell out of the lead with a bogey the previous hole, were all tied at 12-under going into the final regulation hole of the $125,000 tournament.

All three cleared the lake guarding the green on the par-five hole with their second shots —Nicklaus landing within eagle range 25 feet to the right of the pin and the other two landing in a sand trap 10 feet in front of the pin.

Nicklaus' putt was three inches short and he settled for a birdie. Player blasted out to within five feet of the cup but lipped his putt to fall out of contention. Dickinson put his sand shot two feet away and he and Nicklaus headed back to the first tee when the putt went in.

Dickinson, whose last of seven previous victories in 19 tour years was in the 1969 Colonial at Fort Worth, was only 10 feet away with his approach shot on the extra hole, while Nicklaus, reigning British Open and PGA champ, overshot the green.

"It was a good wedge shot, but the ball took a bad slip and ran 23 or 24 feet past the flag," Nicklaus said.

Nicklaus rolled up to within three feet and waited. Gardner missed the 10-footer, settled for a par and then got ready to move on to the next hole.

But Nicklaus missed and Dickinson, who had been 53rd on this year's money list with only $21,439 and 78th all last year when he won only $28,471, instantly became $25,000 richer.

Blue Wins His 12th

Triumphant A's Return To Oakland

After losing his second game of the season last week to Boston, Blue clipped Washington on four hits Sunday as the A's took an 8-1 victory.

For Blue, it was his 12th win as he avenged an earlier loss to the Senators this year.

For the A's, it was their fifth straight win and opened their American League West Lead to eight games over Kansas City.

Oakland got 14 hits Sunday against four Washington pitchers. Rick Monday hit a two-run homer in the fourth inning and Gene Tenace hit another with the bases empty in the eighth.

The A's staked Blue to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Angel Mangual got on by an error, Reggie Jackson doubled, and Sal Bando singled. The A's scored two more in the ninth on singles by pinchhitter George Hendricks, Jackson and Mike Epstein.

Washington's only run came in the third on two walks and a single by Elliot Maddox.

GAME IN ANAHEIM

2 Marin Hurlers On North Team

Tom Olson of Marin Catholic High School and Dave Judnick of Novato High, two Marin County Athletic League pitchers who starred this past season for their respective clubs, were selected by Northern California sportswriters to appear in the third annual North-South High School baseball game on Friday, June 25, in Anaheim Stadium.

Olson, 10-1 on the year, led his team to a first place finish in the Tournament of Champions at Albert Park a week ago.

Judnick, after an incredible year for the Hornets, is now starring on Novato's American Legion ball club. Judnick shared pitching duties with Mike Lamb, and the two combined for nine of the Hornet's MCAL wins.

Among other Northern California players named to the squad is Dennis DeBaar of Kennedy (Fremont) who tied the TOC strikeout record with 16 in a seven-inning game.

MAT PALACIO JR.

'Geritol Kid' Wins Again; Peacock Gap, This Time

Golfdom's "Geritol Kid" strikes again.

Mat Palacio Jr. of San Rafael, resplendent in knickers and 20 pounds lighter than he was four months ago, yesterday won a silver cup for the low gross individual score in the 36-hole Peacock Gap Country Club Invitational Golf Tournament at the San Rafael course.

The 1936 California amateur king and winner of countless other tournaments in a glittering career, the 55-year-old Palacio fired a two-under-par 69 yesterday following Saturday's 72 for a 141 total.

Low net honors in the best ball two-man team competition went to Bill Cardinal and his San Rafael neighbor Dudley Deane. Cardinal, a retired printing company executive, and Deane, a land developer, were 23 strokes under par for the tournament.

Radio disc jockey and sportscaster Frank Dill, also of San Rafael, teamed with guest Ed Fye to tie Bill Nieman and Lloyd Garrison for runner-up honors, each twosome with a 22-under-par score.

The tournament, played under clear skies both days, saw 80 members of Peacock Gap each team up with a guest to shoot for merchandise awards.

The "Booby Prize" for worst score in the tournament went to Don Schweitzer and his guest, Chuck Madson. Dr. Will Demont, a guest of Ray Ham, won a special honor for placing his tee shot closest to the hole — two feet, one inch — in a hole-in-one competition, and Al Newman, Peacock Gap's club champion three years ago, was nonored for the longest drive of the tourney, a 259-yarder on the 14th hole.

Palacio, who said he went on a diet four months ago to shed some excess baggage for the 1971 season, teamed with Homer Scott of the Meadow Club near Fairfax to win the low gross team title at the Marin Country Club Invitational in Novato. Today he was to begin qualifying for the state amateur tournament, the very same title he won 35 years ago.

Following are the other leading teams in the low net competition: Stan Parks-Jordan Dell'Era, minus 21; John Janusch-Vic Bradshaw, minus 21; Joe Bregante-Bill Onorato, minus 21; David Nelson-Al Neuman, minus 20; John Walsh-"Red" McKibben, minus 20; Al Nathe-"Bill" Mariner, minus 20; Bob Seymour-Turk Terzian, minus 20; Gale Cook-John Cook, minus 20; Col. Boris Pash-Ed Bott, minus 20.

Vian Collier Sets Mark

Vian Collier, back to track after a winter-long illness, reached the culmination of his long fight back to greatness Saturday to set a new all-time Marin County record in the California State High School Track Meet held at UCLA.

Although Collier ran the best time of his career by two seconds to establish the new all-time mark at 4:15.7, he placed ninth, overshadowed by the awesome track strength of Southern California high school runners.

Chakra Chappell of San Marin also did well, placing fourth in his 880 heat in 1:55.4, to miss placing by one man.

Mike Arago, also of Tam, ran but did not place in the two mile, in the time of 9:27, about eight seconds off his best time.

Collier's mile time broke the old all-time Marin mark of 4:15.7 set by Keith Krieger, also of Tam.

Novato Lacrosse Team Wins Title

The Novato Park and Recreation Junior Lacrosse squad, tied for the Association championship at the end of the league season, defeated the San Francisco Juniors in a playoff yesterday 9-7.

The win, clinching the Northern Lacrosse Association title, ends the second consecutive championship season for Novato.

KENNEDY GAMES

Record Day In Berkeley

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—The nation's track and field athletes scatter to the winds today but regroup on the West Coast at Seattle in two weeks and Eugene, Ore., in three for the NCAA and AAU championships.

The Kennedy Games, a major tuneup for those two championships, produced nine meet records, including an American mark in the women's mile by Francie Larrieu, last Saturday, and this Saturday the collegiate stars gather at Wichita, Kan., for the USTFF championships and at Sacramento, Calif., for the NCAA college division championships.

In addition, the AAU decathlon championships will be decided at Porterville, Calif., and two days before the start of the NCAA at Seattle, Armed Services athletes will decide their champion at Irvine, Calif. Also on tap this Saturday is a Pacific AAU meet at Hayward, Calif., for open athletes seeking a tuneup for the AAU championships.

Jorma Kinnunen of Finland in the javelin and George Young, the 33-year-old distance star from Casa Grande, Ariz., were among those who set Kennedy Games records, but neither can compete in the NCAA and both probably will pass up the AAU.

However, Kinnunen and Young may be back in Berkeley in July for the big United States-Russia-world track meet. Kinnunen says he may stick around but Young is talking about taking a Mexican vacation and resting the rest of the year.

Miss Larrieu took the women's mile record to 4:41.5, easily beating the old mark of 4:42.2 set by Doris Brown two years ago, while Kinnunen hurled the spear 288 feet, longest throw in the world this year, and Young won the three mile run in 13:10.8, fourth fastest in the world this year.

Kinnunen holds the world javelin record at 304-1 1-4 but up until Saturday in the Kennedy Games he had been unable to do more than 260 legally.

Miss Larrieu, an attractive teenager (19) from Sunnyvale, Calif., says she is ready to compete anywhere and is pointing for an Olympic berth next year, while Kinnunen, his confidence restored, is talking about a new record.

"I feel that I will throw 95 meters (about 315 feet) by the end of this month or July," said the stocky Finn who also plans to compete in the European championships at Helsinki in August.

Young, who is 33, said he held back in the early part of the three-mile because he thought the pace would be a lot faster.

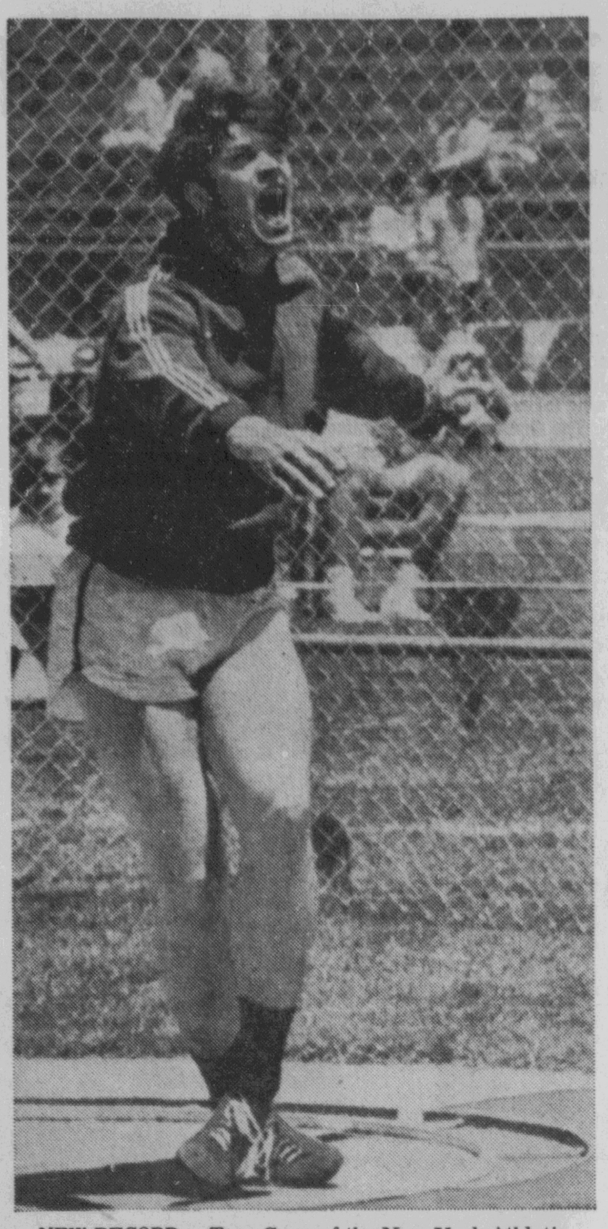
"I don't do that all the time," he said. "It depends on the competition. You run according to your strengths, which doesn't always make people happy."

Young did receive a standing ovation from the crowd of more than 12,000 in Edwards Stadium, though, for a brilliant 56.7 second last leg, truly an outstanding performance.

The other meet records were turned in by Tom Gage in the hammer (233-6), Ron Laird in the 5,000 meter walk (22:56.1), Juris Luzins in the 880 (1:47.6), Tim Heikkila in the high jump (7-2), Dave Roberts in the pole vault (17-5) and Barry Brown in the steeplechase (8:42.8).

Gage, Laird, Brown and Luzins all will be back for the AAU championships and the Russian meet, while Heikkila, Brown, Henry Hines, who won the long jump in 25-11 1-2, Fred Debernardi, who took the discus at 199-4, John Smith, who won the 440 over Lee Evans in 46.1, and Willie Deckard, who took the 100 in 9.4, will go on to the USTFF and NCAA championships, and later the AAU.

Qualifying this year for the AAU is the same as for the NCAA so as to facilitate selection of the teams for the Russian meet and the Pan American games at Cali, Colombia, starting July 30. There are no Pan-Am trials this year.



NEW RECORD — Tom Gage of the New York Athletic Club lets out a loud cry as he throws the hammer for a new stadium and meet record in the third annual Kennedy Memorial Invitational Track and Field Games. Gage's throw of 233 feet, 6 inches Saturday eclipsed the old mark by 11 inches. (UPI Telephoto)

Two Auburn Men Win Riding Test

SONOMA (UPI)—Two Auburn men collected $3,565 Sunday when they won the 25-mile running and horse riding contest over the Mayacamus Mountain Range in the Sonoma wine country.

Jim Lariner and Hal Hall made it from St. Helena to the Sonoma Plaza in 3 hours 48 1-2 minutes to win the first annual Levi's Ride and Tie race.

Second place went to a team of San Francisco firemen, John Holden of Sonoma and Bill Postal of Novato. They came in a minute and a half behind the winners.

The unusual race involves two men and a horse. One man rides and the other runs. When the runner tires, he signals his partner who jumps out of the saddle and begins running while the other man rides.

Tennis

PARIS (UPI)—Top seeded Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, and 19 year old Evonne Goolagong of Australia, Sunday reaped the singles titles of the 25th, $100,000 French Open tennis tournament.

Kodes, a 25-year-old economics student from Prague, last year's winner here, played his usual inspired and accurate game to defeat Ilie Nastase of Romania, 8-6, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5.

Auto Racing

LEXINGTON, OHIO (UPI) — George Follmer of Arcadia, Calif., set a track record of 1:41 in driving his Mustang to victory in the Trans-American Sedan Championship Race at Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course Sunday, his second straight Trans-Am win.

DOVER, Del. (UPI)—Bobby Allison, braving heat over 90 degrees, raced to a record victory Sunday in the first NASCAR 500 mile grand national to be held outside the deep south.

Pitching Keys Softball Games

A fine pitching effort by Tim Becher paced Marin Wheel Alignment to a 4-1 victory over the Squids in San Rafael Recreation Department Adult League Softball last night, while Raw Chicken defeated Don Rumpf Golf 7-5.

In other recreation league games yesterday, Ray Carroll tossed a three-hitter as Marin Supply bested Hub City 2-1, and Bergman Manufacturing scored three runs in the sixth to take Blue Enterprises 4-3.

Marin Supply scored its two runs in the first, and held its opponents to one run the rest of the way for the win.

Hank's Diamond Ring

ATLANTA (UPI) —Hank Aaron received a diamond ring Sunday from the Atlanta Braves with six small diamonds, one for each hundred homers he has hit. There was a seventh in the center to represent the homers he needs to reach Babe Ruth's 714 homers. He now has 609.

live in Lost Tree in North Palm Beach, Fla., although Dickinson says, "Jack lives in the high rent district."

Dickinson and Nicklaus both shot 70s Sunday to wind up regulation play at 13-under-par 275. Player and Lee Trevino were a stroke behind at 276 and there were four at 278, including defending champion Tommy Aaron who had a 67 in the closing round.

Others at 278 included John Miller, Ray Floyd and Steve Reid. Dale Douglass and Bob Lunn were at 279 and Dave Eichelberger was alone at 280.

Sunday's sudden-death playoff victory was the first in three tries for Dickinson who lost similar playoffs to Art Wall, at Ft. Wayne in 1965, and to Floyd, in the 1969 Jacksonville Open.

The Atlanta Classic was Dickinson's 14th tournament of the year. He took second in the Doral Open but otherwise was no better than his tie for 27th in the Bob Hope Desert Classic.

"I've been having a lot of trouble with my putting," Dickinson explained. "This was the first time in a long time that I haven't been plagued by a lot of three-putt greens. Anytime I can avoid that, I'm ahead of the game."

during the two years he was able to play.

During the week preceding the Arkansas game in 1969, and during the game itself, Steinmark complained of soreness in his left leg.

Six days following the come-from-behind Texas victory Steinmark underwent exploratory surgery. Doctors warned him before the surgery began that it could mean losing his leg.

During the surgery the sarcoma tumor — one of the fastest spreading types of cancer — was found. The decision to amputate was immediate. Steinmark was out of the hospital well before his teammates met Notre Dame in the 1970 Cotton Bowl game and he was on the sidelines when the Longhorns came from behind in that contest to win 21-17.

'Still Best,' Says Canonero Trainer

NEW YORK (UPI) — "He's still the best 3-year-old in the United States!"

With dreams of a triple crown victory shattered and his connection with the horse apparently drawing to an end, trainer Juan Arias still insisted today that Canonero II, his Kentucky Derby and Preakness Winner, was the best of them all.

The Kentucky-bred colt, owned by Pedro Baptista of Venezuela, finished fourth Saturday in the Belmont Stakes behind Pass Catcher, Jim French and Bold Reason. Once again the triple crown proved as elusive as ever. Canonero was the sixth horse since 1948 to win the first two classics in the series but fail in the final event.

In defeat Canonero gained as many admirers as he had in victory and rival horsemen who had expected him to fade out of the picture completely in the stretch readily admitted that the colt ran a game race and was far from disgraced.

Pass Catcher, finally displaying the form owner Peter Kissel and trainer Eddie Yowell always expected of him, won by three quarters of a length over Jim French who was three and one-half lengths ahead of Bold Reason. Then, only a neck behind, came Canonero, tired but game to the finish.

Arias said he knew Canonero faced a difficult task in the 1½ mile Belmont stakes run over a deep and tiring race track. And he blamed the two days the colt had to miss in training, when an infected foot was being treated, for the colt's defeat.

"I knew what a difficult task was ahead of him. He was trained up to the race but I hoped against hope that nothing would go wrong during the race," the Venezuelan trainer said.

"But there was no reserve because he missed that training and unfortunately Canonero was rank (difficult to handle) early in the race, fighting against Avila (Jockey Gusaveo Avila). When I say that happen, when I saw him expending himself needlessly that early in the race I knew he was in trouble. It was too much to ask," the trainer said sorrowfully.

Arias said the missed days, particularly a scheduled 1⅛ mile workout on the Saturday before the Belmont, hurt his colt.

"I thought of scratching him then, of skipping the Belmont and if the infection got worse that was it. But the veterinarian cleared up the trouble and I felt I could get him up to the race," Arias said.

Canonero's future was undecided as Baptista studied the eight offers he has had for his colt. A sale was expected to be anounced within a few days.

"Yes, I would like to remain in the United States and stay with Canonero if he is sold," Arias said. "But I first must return to Venezuela where I have some other horses and I have an obligation to them."

The trainer who also won the Belmont Stakes with Hail to All in 1965 returned Pass Catcher to Monmouth Park early Sunday morning and said the colt probably next would start in the Monmouth Invitational of Aug. 7 or the Travers Stakes at Saratoga on Aug. 21.

The colt, who suffered a hairline fracture of the knee in the Hopeful Stakes last August, was overlooked in the betting and paid $71.00, $21.00 and $10.80. Jim French paid $3.60 and $2.80 and Bolk Reason returned $4.80. Canonero was the strong favorite of the record crowd of $81,036 and was backed down to 7 to 10.

Suburban Auto Splits Twin Bill

Suburban Auto of San Rafael, paced by the slugging of Bill Baxter, defeated Alameda in the first game of a Golden Gate Travel League doubleheader yesterday, but dropped the nightcap 11-7.

Baxter had five hits in the two games, including a home run, and knocked in three more. Phil Gambucci also had five hits for Suburban, which is now 16-11 on the year.

Joe Hystrom was the winning pitcher for Suburban in the first game. With the win, they remain in fourth place.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Sweet Revenge For Vida Blue

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

If statistics are a valid yardstick by which to compare pitchers, then recent suggestions that Vida Blue is another Sandy Koufax are more than idle speculation.

Blue, Oakland's sensational young southpaw pitcher, allowed only four hits in winning his 12th game of the season Sunday as the Oakland Athletics routed the Washington Senators, 8-1.

Blue, who has lost only two games, struck out seven and walked two in avenging his 8-0 opening day loss to the Senators.

With a third of the baseball season gone, the hard-throwing Blue has given up an average of 5.3 hits per game as he continues to amaze American League batters with his blazing fastball. Koufax, who in 1965 enjoyed his best season in posting 25 victories with 382 strikeouts, allowed 5.8 hits per game that year. Bob Gibson, another of baseball's all-time great pitchers, also allowed an average of 5.8 hits per game in his best season, 1968, when he won 22 games and had a 1.12 earned run average.

Only once did Blue allow more than six hits in any one game, that being on May 28th when he suffered his only other loss of the season at the hands of Boston.

Blue isn't going out on a limb by making any guesses as to how many games he'll win this year. "I'd like to win 20 but I'm not going to make any predictions," said the 21-year old lefthander.

The Senators had knocked Blue out in the third inning on opening day to win their first home opener in eight years. But revenge was sweet for Blue as he beat the Senators and their ace pitcher, Denny McLain, for his 12th win, tops in the majors. He now has a 143 lifetime record in the majors and has never been beaten twice by the same club.

In other American League action, California defeated Boston, 5-2, Baltimore edged Milwaukee, 4-3, Minnesota downed Cleveland, 4-3, New York defeated Kansas City, 5-2, and Chicago whipped Detroit, 82 in the first game of a doubleheader with the second game being postponed because of rain.

A pair of towering 400-foot homers by Frank Robinson and Ellie Hendricks' second homer of the year powered the Orioles to victory over the Brewers. Robinson's first homer —hit off Milwaukee starter Marty Pattin —came in the fourth inning and gave the Orioles a 1-0 lead. His second in the seventh inning tied the score at 2-2 and Hendricks immediately gave the Orioles their final lead with his 360-foot blast to right field.

Winning pitcher Clyde Wright climaxed a two-run rally in the seventh inning with a runscoring triple to lead the Angels to victory over the slumping Red Sox. The Angels, who took two out of three from the Red Sox over the weekend, were nursing a 2-1 lead in the seventh when Tony Gonzalez singled and went to second on an infield hit. He scored when Rico Petrocelli threw away Ken Berry's infield hit and Wright followed with his triple to the base of the center field wall that knocked out loser Sonny Siebert.

OLD TIMERS HAM IT UP

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Dodgers Win Minus Allen

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Richie Allen, the Los Angeles version of the Invisible Man, went into his disappearing act again Sunday and wound up making the New York Mets' National League Eastern Division lead vanish.

Allen was penciled in as a starter in left field but could not be found at game time. Sc-Dodger Manage Walter Alston inserted Bill Russell, batting .207, in Allen's slot and he responded with a triple, double and single to lift Los Angeles to a 4-3 victory over the Mets.

The loss dropped New York to third place in the NL East behind St. Louis and Pittsburgh and brought the second-place Dodgers to within eight games of San Francisco in the West.

Allen explained his absence, claiming he had ducked into a hallway during Old Timers' Day ceremonies and did not realize the game had started.

Russell's double ignited a three-run rally in the fourth inning after New York had taken a 2-0 lead in the top half of the inning and the young outfielder drove across the winning run in the fifth when he followed Willie Davis' infield hit with a triple.

Elsewhere in the NL, San Francisco beat Philadelphia 4-3 in 12 innings after losing the doubleheader opener 1-0, Cincinnati beat St. Louis 4-2, Pittsburgh edged Houston 9-8, Chicago defeated Atlanta 6-3 and San Diego swept Montreal 8-0 and 8-4.

Lee May had a three-run homer and Pete Rose lashed four hits as the Reds downed St. Louis. May's homer, his 11th, came in the third with Rose and Tommy Helms on base and helped Don Gullett gain his sixth victory in eight decisions.

Willie Stargell drove in three runs and Roberto Clemente knocked in two more as the Pirates welcomed back Manager Danny Murtagh with a victory over Houston.

Stargell, who had three hits, hit his 18th homer of the season with a man on base in the third to give the Pirates a 4-0 lead. They built that to 5-1 before the Astros, with Bob Watson driving in four runs, collected seven runs in the last four innings.

Bill Hands pitched a seven-hitter and Paul Popovich hit a two-run homer as the Cubs beat Atlanta. Joe Pepitone also homered for the Cubs while Henry Aaron smashed his 609th career homer in a losing cause fgr the Braves.

Bob Barton drove in three runs and Dave Roberts scattered nine hits in San Diego's first game triumph and Nate Colbert' grand slam homer boosted the Padres past Montreal in the second game.

McNulty Brothers Win Second Places

The McNulty Brothers of San Rafael, Bill, 16, and Pat, 15, each placed second yesterday in quarter-midget auto races at Sacramento.

Bill was second in the "Heavy A" division while Pat was runnerup in the "Heavy B" division. Pat also posted fast time in the qualifying runs.

Emergency Surgery For Ed Herrman

Herrman was placed on the 21-day disabled list and pitcher Jim Magnuson was called up from the minors to replace him.

Melnyk's Key Shot Not In The Finals

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (UPI) —The most important shot Steve Melnyk played in the British Amateur Golf Championship did not come during Satuday's 3 and 2 victory over Jim Simons of Butler, Pa., in the 36-hole final.

Neither was it in Friday's semi-final, or even the quarter-final earlier that day.

"The most vital shot to my mind was that blast out of the bunker on the 18th green in my second round match against Herb Durham," the 24-year-old public relations executive from Jacksonville, Fla., said.

As he played that explosion last Wednesday, Melnyk was tottering on the brink of defeat after blowing a comfortable lead on the tough finishing holes at the 6,864-yard par 72 course.

Durham, a weekend player from Dallas, Tex., had him dead. He needed only to get down in two from the edge of the green for a par four and a certain win by one hole.

Melnyk, after pushing his second successive tee shot into the troublesome Barry Burn, was in the greenside trap in three.

"I was on the plane home, no doubt about it in my mind," Melynk said. "Then I realized just how much I wanted to stay in the championship. I figured if I play it stiff, there was just a slim chance that Herb might blow it."

And Melnyk did just that. Durham obliged by missing an awkward putt after nervously chipping short. A relieved Melnyk nailed him on the first playoff hole.

"I was never really in trouble after that," the burly six foot 1 1-2 inch Melnyk said.

Certainly, Simons, 21, was never able to really extend him in the seventh all-American final. Melnyk was twice threeup in the morning and only his own errors cut the margin to one after the first 18 holes.

Melnyk, who won the opening hole of the afternoon round for a two-up lead, faltered again just before the stretch. His errors allowed Simons to level on the 27th for the only time since the second hole of the match, but it was only a temporary lapse and he went on to become the 17th American to win the title.

When the match ended on the 34th green, a 238-yard par three, Melnyk became only the 11th man in history to win both the British and American amateur titles.

He won the U.S. event in 1969. The last man to achieve the feat was Bob Dickson, who won both in 1967. Dickson's British championship victory over Ron Cerrudo was the last all-American final.

Holiday Nine, Drake Win DiMag Games

Holiday Magic of San Rafael blasted visiting Healdsburg 8-1 and Drake downed Tamalpais 4-1 in San Anselmo yesterday in the Joe DiMaggio Baseball League.

Catcher Bruce Maglione led Holiday Magic's 11-hit assault with a double and two singles to drive in four runs while Mike Spezzi contributed two singles and two RBIs.

Over in San Anselmo, Drake's George Shawver outdueled Tam's Mark Dawson in a good pitching battle. Each hurler gave up only two hits and struck out eight.

Soviet Space Lab Manned, In Orbit

NASA Official: Major Milestone

MOSCOW (UPI) — Three Soviet cosmonauts docked their Soyuz 11 spacecraft with the orbiting scientific station Salyut today and then climbed int Salyut to establish the first manned orbital space laboratory.

The Soviet Tass news agency said the laboratory was about 60 feet long and 12 feet in diameter, with a total weight of 25 tons. Television transmissions showed a room large enough for the cosmonauts to spin, weightlessly, head over heels without touching any of the equipment lining the walls.

The feat climaxed a 49-day effort that included a linkup April 24 between the three-man Soyuz 10 and Salyut. But Soyuz 10 remained linked for only five and a half hours and hurried back to earth. Indications at the time were that one of the spacemen might have suffered space sickness. Salyut has orbited unmanned for the past seven weeks.

It was the first time a crew has been transported to an unmanned scientific station in space, and scientific sources in Moscow said one or more manned spaceships may go aloft soon to join the space complex as prelude to a permanent orbital laboratory.

In Washington, NASA Administrator James C. Fletcher said the manning of Salyut "is a major milestone in the exploration of space."

"It is a clear demonstration of the Soviet Union's continuing interest in manned space flight, and represents a further experiment to determine the value of manned earth orbital operations," he said. "We wish the cosmonauts every success in their mission."

"We are witnessing a qualitatively new step in cosmonautics — a long term orbital station has been built," space scientist Boris Rauschenback told the roundtable.

"The questions of scientific technical control of such stations present big complications...This station should permit multiple docking. They must sometimes receive not one but another ship... And it is necessary to control the docked apparatus."

Tass said the combined weight of Soyuz 11 and Salyut was more than 25 tons.

Soyuz 11 roared aloft Sunday and chased the unmanned Salyut capsule to orbital rendezvous today. Commander Georgi Dobrovolsky, 43, is a space rookie. Flight engineer Volkov, 45, was flight engineer on Soyuz 7. Test engineer Victor Patsayev, 37, also is a space rookie who is a pilot-trained design engineer.

Tass said the Soyuz made an automatic approach to within 100 yards of the Salyut and the cosmonauts completed the docking manually.

After the two vehicles were mechanically coupled, their electrical and hydraulic communications were connected. The crew then checked the connecting tunnel for air tightness and Patsayev led Volkov into the salute.

Tass disclosed the enormous size of the airtight portion of the space vehicle—about 60 feet long and 12 feet in diameter with a capacity of 130.80 cubic yards. In addition there were many scientific apparatuses outside the airtight compartment.

It said Salyut "consists of compartments fitted out with equipments and systems for scientific and technical experiments and studies, for controlling the station's flight and its position in space, as well as with systems ensuring normal conditions for the crew's work and rest."

Tass said during the manned flight the crew will carry out studies and experiments including:

—Trying out the methods and autonomous means of the station's orientation and navigation, as well as the systems of controlling the space complex when maneuvering it in orbit.

—Studying geological and geographical objects on the earth's surface, atmospheric formations, the snow and ice cover of the earth with the aim of developing methods of using this data in the solution of economic tasks.

—Conducting medico-biological studies to determine the possibilities of performing various jobs in the station.

Tass said "An important step has been made in developing space technique and manned flights. The use of the new space complex — orbital stations with transport ships to service them — opens broad prospects for further studies and the utilization of outer space in the interests of developing science and the national economy."

The report did not indicate how long the crew would remain aloft.

A commentary in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, said today, "The construction of permanent orbital laboratories and observatories manned by crews of specialists means the start of the epoch of the regular use of outer space for the needs of science and the national economy.

Strikers Try To Block New York Commuters

NEW YORK (UPI)—Thousands of striking municipal workers tied up traffic on heavily traveled commuter arteries today by stalling city-owned trucks on highways and opening drawbridges over the Harlem River.

"We are on strike. This is only the beginning. It's going to escalate," Bernard Stephens, a spokesman for District 37 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes said.

Three locals of the union, the largest in the state, and a Teamsters local began the surprise strike just before the morning rush to protest reports the union's pension plan had been rejected by the State Legislature in Albany as it drives toward adjournment.

Mayor John V. Lindsay directed City Corporation Counsel J. Lee Rankin to seek immediately an injunction against the union in State Supreme Court. He denounced the strike as "an irresponsible act" and said it was "doubly outrageous" that the union was taking its anger at Albany out on New York City.

A police spokesman said the department was taking "all necessary action," including towing away the stalled trucks but he urged drivers to leave their cars at home. Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy surveyed the tieups from a police helicopter.

The unions did not block the Queensborough, Triborough and George Washington bridges or the Midtown and Brooklyn-Battery, all major links to Manhattan, but police said in many cases traffic on highways leading to the bridges and tunnels was stalled.

Victor Gottbaum, head of the union's 120,000-member District 37, warned recently that if the pension agreement reached with the city was not ratified by the legislature members would stage a "job action" aimed not at city residents but at commuters.

Lindsay convened his Emergency Control Board Sunday night in response to reports of a possible strike.

"Although the unions' quarrel is with Albany and the anticity legislators, it is doubly outrageous that a heretofore responsible union is taking out its frustrations and anger on New York City and people who are for New York City," he said in a statement from his Gracie Mansion residence where he met again this morning with the board.

The workers on strike during the morning rush were members of District Council 37 locals representing laborers and motor vehicles and parks workers and a Teamsters local which operates the drawbridges.

Strikers handed leaflets to motorists on blocked roads, charging that "this strike comes to you courtesy of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller" because the governor had held up a

HUD Aide Says Road Needed At Marin City

Future development of Marin City may be doomed unless the county of Marin agrees to build a $160,000 connector road between Marin City and Tamalpais Valley, an official of the Department of Housing and Urban Development said today.

James Price, director of the San Francisco area office of HUD, told the Independent-Journal the road is "absolutely necessary to community survival" and essential for development of Marin City as "an accessible, unisolated community."

If community development fails to materialize, the government may pull out of the project, Price added. In that case, he said the county could be left in the position of having to repay a $1.3 million loan which the federal government originally granted for the Marin City project in 1963. Much of that money was used for streets, sidewalks and sewers to ready the land for development.

Price said that the funds which the county would spend for the access road are also needed as part of the local share to enable the Marin County Redevelopment Agency to obtain a $918,105 federal loan and a two-year extension to complete Marin City's development. The agency is currently seeking the added money and time.

The redevelopment agency is in a "very bad financial position," Price said, because development in the southern Marin community has been almost nonexistent for the past seven years. The agency cannot continue to function unless the

B Of A Increases Home Loan Rate To 7.5 Per Cent

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Bank of America, the world's largest bank, announced today it was raising home mortgage loan interest rates from 7 per cent to 7 1-2 per cent, and restoring interest paid on one-year savings accounts to 5½ per cent.

Bank of America cut its interest rates several months ago in line with general nationwide cuts.

Today's increases "are in response to recent upward movements in the money markets," a bank spokesman said.

Interest on savings accounts held for two years was increased to 5 3-4 per cent, the bank said.

Tomorrow Is Election Day In S. Sonoma

Southern Sonoma voters will go to the polls tomorrow to elect representatives to the Petaluma Board of Education and Petaluma Hospital District while Petaluma residents will also select four city councilmen and decide on a $2 million sewer bond issue.

(For city council candidates' background, see story page 8.)

A total of 9,588 Petaluma residents will be eligible to vote and 7,363 in Rohnert Park, Cotati and unincorporated areas. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Approval of the $2 million sewer bond issue would provide funds to begin construction next March on a new pumping station, oxidation ponds and additional sewer lines. The improved sewage treatment has been required by the Regional Water Quality Control Board in an effort to reduce pollution in the Petaluma River.

It has been estimated that the general obligation bonds will cost 27 cents per $100 assessed valuation at its highest point in 1977-78.

Lane Closure On U.S. 101 Tomorrow

The California Division of Highways said the temporary lane closures will be from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. tomorrow through Thursday and 8:20 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Mid-Air Plane Crash Kills 50

AZUSA, Calif. (UPI) —An Air West DC9 jetliner collided Sunday with a Navy fighter plane 12,000 feet over Mt. Bliss, killing 50 persons, including two infants. A radar officer on the military craft apparently was the only survivor.

Heavy fog and low clouds prevented search and rescue units from moving into the rugged and nearly inaccessible area today until the sun had burned through the overcast.

The two planes plowed into the rugged mountain in the Angeles National Forest, spewing wreckage a mile.

The known survivor was a Marine first lieutenant who parachuted to safety seconds after the collision. The pilot of his Navy Phantom F-4B apparently was killed.

Sheriff's deputies quoted witnesses as saying the military craft apparently ripped into the side of the DC9, opening a gaping hole. Witnesses said articles apparently streamed from the big jet as it plunged toward the mountainside.

County Fire Division Chief Dean Russell, who flew over the wreckage several times, was asked by newsmen if there were any other survivors.

"If there are, it will be the greatest miracle I've ever seen," he replied.

"There was no room for it (the DC9) to skid, it just went straight in. When it hit the ground it broke all to hell," a sheriff's spokesman said.

There were 44 passengers and a crew of five aboard the DC9, which split in two major pieces in a wooded area about 20 miles northeast of Los Angeles.

The Federal Aviation Administration in Los Angeles said the crash was the first in the United States of a commercial airliner on regular scheduled service since 1969.

Sheriff's deputies flown to the crash area said the bodies of nine persons, all apparently thrown clear on impact, were found beside the tail section of the jetliner.

Because of heavy fog authorities said no attempt would be made until daybreak to remove the bodies and look for others in the wreckage.

One of the first persons at the wreckage was Gary Butters, 17, of Azusa. He said he heard something like "a sonic boom" and took off on his trail bike up into the hills behind his home to where smoke was pouring from the mountainside.

"It was about 15 miles. I was the first one there. I saw wreckage all over and broken parts of the plane were still burning.

"I saw nine bodies, mostly in one area by the tail. It (the DC9) was really destroyed. There was nothing left. I don't think anybody could have survived.

"I stayed there for a while and then an officer came and I helped him mark the bodies with white flags, then I left," he said.

The Federal Aviation Administration said the jetliner was flight 706 from Los Angeles International Airport to Salt Lake City and had taken-off minutes before the collision. The Phantom fighter was out of El Toro Marine Air Station near Santa Ana, Calif.

The survivor, Marine 1st Lt. Christopher E. Schiess, 24, of Salem, Ore., who was serving as radar interceptor aboard the Navy plane, declined to talk to sheriff's investigators. He was treated at Santa Teresita Hospital in nearby Duarte for slight injuries.

Marine Capt. Larry Karch, a safety officer from El Toro, said the military craft was returning from a routine training flight when the collision occurred. He said he could give no further information pending a military investigation.

The FAA said there were no radio transmissions from either plane to indicate a collision was imminent. An Air West official

Plane Crash In East Claims At Least 20

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—An Allegheny Airlines plane, with 29 persons aboard, crashed and burned today after slamming into five unoccupied waterside cottages during an approach to New Haven Municipal Airport.

At least 20 persons were killed. Witnesses said the twin-engine Convair 508 enroute from Washington, D.C., to Connecticut veered to one side after apparently hitting overhead wires.

The crash occurred shortly after the plane took off from New London, its first stop, 50 miles away.

The bodies were still strapped in the seats of the plane and police officials said they would remain there until the arrival of Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) investigators.

There were 26 passengers aboard the plane in addition to the three-member crew.

Visibility in the area was reduced because of mist. Three persons were admitted to Yale-New Haven hospital.

The plane was due to land here at 9:52 a.m. (EDT).

At least one fireman was injured in fighting the flames that could be seen for miles around.

RAREST CAR IN THE WORLD

One of the rarest cars in the world is this Bugatti Type 57SC "Atlantique" Electron Coupe, and it will be auctioned this Saturday at Sotheby, Parke-Bernet in Los Angeles. Here, Judith Landrigan gets the "feel" of the Bugatti, custom made in 1936 for Lord Rothschild and now only one of two known to exist. It was an aerodynamic innovation as well as an experiment in body construction using an aluminum alloy called Electron.

Prices Advance On Exchange: Early Trading Is Moderate

After about two hours, the Dow Jones Industrial Average was ahead a little more than a point at 923.41. Alfred Gourjo, senior analyst for Equity Research Associates, said "the market is going through a period of backing and filling," and he would not exclude testing of the 890 to 900 level on the Dow.

Of the 1,466 issues crossing the tape, 695 pointed higher while 451 retreated.

Advances also topped declines on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading. Among the most active Amex issues were Asamera Oil fractionally higher on 31,000 shares, Cinerama slightly easier on 27,000 shares, and Husky Oil steady on 25,000 shares.

Saks Fifth Avenue A Possible Replacement For City Of Paris

Word is that Saks Fifth Avenue is seriously eyeing the 27,000-square foot Northgate Mall store of the City of Paris for another Bay Area location.

City of Paris had its closing sale last week and is also closing out at Stonestown and on the Peninsula.

Saks already operates two stores in the Bay Area — one on downtown Grant Avenue, San Francisco, and the other in the Stanford Shopping Center, Palo Alto.

But no lease has been signed and at this point Saks must be counted as only one of about a half-dozen firms said to be interested in the City of Paris store, which is considered a prime location.

BUY A PIECE OF ART and return it to the seller in a year's time for 10 per cent more than you paid for it.

So convinced is the Emporium at Northgate that the wildlife art collector lithographs of painter Richard Sloan will appreciate in value that it is guaranteeing the 10-per cent profit to all comers until the supply of prints is exhausted. When they are gone, no more will be available except from one of the owners of the prints and the law of supply and demand will determine the price.

LAURENTIDE FINANCE CORP., San Rafael, along with 750 other Laurentide offices throughout the country, has a new name — C.I.T. Financial Services, taking this from its parent company, C.I.T. Financial Corp. which now has its stock traded on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange.

The company decided to commemorate its listing on the exchange by donating one share of stock to high school students achieving the highest standard in their graduating classes.

San Rafael High School was picked in this area and Frances Coulter, valedictorian of the graduating class is the recipient of one share, purchased on the exchange at $45.50.

JAMES R. BARNEY of San Rafael has been appointed Northern California salesman for Bancroft Sporting Goods Co. He was previously West Coast manager of sales and marketing for Dennison Manufacturing Co. and before that was a salesman for its subsidiary Dennison Eastman Corp.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Devaluation Not Big Worry Now

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Our dollars seem to be in a pretty shaky condition in Europe. Would you discuss the recent crisis and explain how an investor can protect his capital from devaluation? N.D.

A. The international monetary crisis was precipitated by currency speculators who were convinced that the Bonn government was about to up the exchange value of the mark in relation to the dollar. In the subsequent flurry of events, the mark, which had been allowed to float, settled back to an exchange value only 2.5 per cent above the previous level, much less than had been anticipated.

While the equity investor may suffer temporary set-backs resulting from uncertainties surrounding monetary upheavals, he has at least a measure of protection from the effects of inflation.

Although sudden devaluation of the dollar would be interpreted by most individuals as a major calamity, inflation has in fact accomplished this over a period of years. Today the dollar buys 65 per cent less than it did 20 years ago. On the other hand, stocks, as measured by the Dow Jones Industrial Average, have moved up in value about four-fold, outpacing inflation 1.3-to-1.

Inflation is a fact of life which should be accepted but not ignored. The prudent man protects his capital against decreased buying power by making investments which will appreciate in value at a rate at least consistent with inflation. Stocks such as Avon, Eastman Kodak, Polaroid and Tampax would serve this purpose.

24 Million Cans Collected In Recycling Drive

OAKLAND (BW) — More than 24 million all-aluminum cans have been collected during the first 12 months of Kaiser Aluminum's "Can-Do Recycling" program. The volume being turned in by the public is continuing to increase, the firm reports.

"We estimate that during 1971 we will collect some 50 million cans," M. D. Eisele of the company said. "Public support for the program is continuing to expand as more and more people become aware that used all-aluminum cans are worth money."

Last May, Kaiser Aluminum established 18 collection centers throughout the San Francisco Bay Area to which individuals could bring aluminum cans and collect 10 cents a pound. The response to this pilot effort was so positive that late last year the company expanded the concept to other states.

93 Cars Ahead

DETROIT (BW) — American Motors retail passenger car sales in May totaled 24,096 compared with 24,003 a year ago. Dealer deliveries in the final 10 days of May were 10,176 cars compared with 10,156 last year.

Antique Planes To Be Displayed

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Aircraft new and antique will be on display Sunday afternoon at the new American Airlines hangar at San Francisco International Airport.

Under the auspices of the South San Francisco Rotary Club, and to help raise funds for the club's "Rotary Plaza" retirement home, an antique aircraft show alongside a brand new American Airlines luxury liner will be on display.

Tickets may be purchased at the entrance to the east airport area off Old Bayshore Boulevard on Sunday afternoon.

On display alongside the modern jetliner will be a 1928 Ford Trimotor, a J-4 Travelaire biplane, a Stearman PT-9 of 1930 vintage, two Ryan PT-22's in which thousands of young men learned to fly in World War II, a 1940 Luscombe Silvaire, a 1934 Ryan STA, a Waco 10 and a Fairchild 24-R. The aircraft are the property of the Northern California Antique Aircraft Owners Association.

The highest known waterfall is Angel in Venezuela with a drop of 3,212 feet.

CRLA Probe Over

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The federal commission investigating the California Rural Legal Assistance program has ended hearings and will submit its findings to the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity June 25.

CRLA was given a partial grant until the three-judge panel finished its investigation and Carlucci decides whether to override the governor's veto.

In his veto, Reagan asserted the antipoverty lawyers failed to represent the poor of California. He based his finding on a report by his antipoverty director, Lewis K. Uhler, who made 160 accusations against CRLA.

Rebel Capture Told

CALCUTTA (UPI)—The rebel Bangla Desh (Bengal Land) government of East Pakistan has confirmed for the first time that its leader, Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, has been captured and imprisoned.

The clandestine Bangla Desh radio Sunday night broadcast the admission of Rahman's arrest. Rahman, the leader of the Awami League which captured virtually all seats in December's first popular election in East Pakistan, was the man who touched off the secession movement in the Bengal region.

Until Sunday's broadcast, the rebel government maintained that he had escaped when Gen. Agha Mohammad Yahya Kan's West Pakistani forces cracked down on March 25.

Etna Spills Lava

SANT'ALFIO, Sicily (UPI)—Rivers of lava rushed down one side of Mount Etna today towards two farm hamlets, frightening villagers who were told only four days ago that it was safe to return home.

Officials said neither Sant'Alfio or Fornazzo were in immediate danger because the lava was still far above them on the slopes of the 10,902 foot tall Etna which began erupting 60 days ago.

Murphy Buried

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Audie Murphy, America's most decoated hero in World War II, was laid to rest today in front of the tomb of the unknown soldier at Arlington National Cemetery.

Murphy, who died along with five other men in a plane crash near Roanoke, Va., was given full military honors including a 21-gun salute as the flag was lifted from his steel gray casket, folded and presented to his widow, Mrs. Pamela Murphy, of North Hollywood, Calif.

Drums rolled during the funeral procession that started at the yellow stucco chapel on the cemetery grounds. The caisson was led by a riderless horse.

Lindsay Undecided

GOFFSTOWN, N.H. (UPI)—Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York stood at the same lectern used by John F. Kennedy to start his 1960 presidential campaign and said he has made no political plans for 1972.

"I don't know what I'm going to do next year," he said Sunday before giving a commencement address at St. Anselm's College. "I haven't any idea what course I'll take by way of endorsements of candidates or involvement in the '72 picture on one side or the other."

Lindsay has been mentioned as a possible presidential candidate and some politicians have urged him to switch from the Republican to the Democratic party.

Lead Report Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The lead industry says the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) was dealing in "pure speculation" when it labeled automobile exhaust emissions a cause of lead poisoning in children.

Lead Industries Association, Inc., said in a weekend letter to EPA administrator William D. Ruckelshaus that the report on leaded gasoline was made without a "review of accurate scientific facts."

The EPA study released last Tuesday said higher-than-normal levels of lead have been found in the blood of some adults, such as traffic policemen and parking lot attendants, who are exposed to auto exhausts.

European Talks

LUXEMBOURG (UPI)—The negotiations on Britain's third attempt to become a member of the European Common Market will be completed this month, officials of the market's commission said today.

Britain and the six members of the European Economic Community —France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—today entered a crucial month of talks on the final problems outstanding.

The foreign ministers of the six were meeting first with delegations from Ireland and Denmark and then scheduled a policy coordination session before confronting British chief negotiator Geoffrey Rippon

Spring Winds Blow

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Violent thunderstorms and high winds interrupted a record-breaking heatwave over the eastern half of the nation Sunday. Funnel clouds hovered above the Midwest and flash floods threatened portions of the East.

No injuries were reported.

Winds up to 80 miles an hour raced through Chicago, knocking out electrical service for some 25,000 residents. Trees were blown down, cars damaged and the roof of a photo finishing shop collapsed on the south side of the city.

The storm chased away huge crowds of Chicagoans enjoying a record 97-degree temperatures on Lake Michigan beaches. A tornado warning issued when a funnel cloud was sighted moving toward the metropolitan area sent some scurrying for shelter and the heavy rain, thunder, lightning and winds chased away the others.

Soviet Vessel Rips French Ship, Sails On

CARTAGENA, Spain (UPI)—French naval engineers today examined the hulk of the destroyer Surcouf which lost nine of its crew in a collision with a Soviet tanker to determine whether the vessel can be towed to a French harbor.

Spanish naval sources said they doubted whether this will be possible. If not, the 2,750-ton carrier escort will have to be dismantled at this Spanish base.

The Surcouf was towed into Cartagena harbor early today with a 150 foot long section, from the bow to the forward boilers, sheared off. Nine of its 336 crew were missing and presumed dead, and one was evacuated by air to a hospital in Lyons, France, to be treated for burns.

One question was puzzling Spanish naval authorities following the collision early Sunday in the western Mediterrenean —what happened to the Soviet Tanker?

The vessel, identified solely by its name, Boucharov, continued its voyage without requesting help or offering assistance to the Surcouf, they said.

Board Of Pilot Commissioners Are Appointed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Morris Weisberger, secretary-treasurer of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, and J. Warnock Walsh, a stockbroker, both of San Francisco, have been named to the Board of Pilot Commissioners for San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun bays.

Bort are Republicans.

They succeeded Robert E. Mayer of San Francisco and Capt. Joseph W. Dickover of San Rafael, whose terms expired. Dickover, a steamship company executive, also is a Republican.

MASS FOR ROBERT KENNEDY

Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy knelt in a moment of solitary prayer yesterday, then placed a rose at her husband's grave in Arlington National Cemetery at the end of a 45-minute folk-guitar Mass on the third anniversary of the senator's assassination. The Kennedy children ringed the grave, several of them participating in the Mass including Caroline Kennedy, daughter of John F. Kennedy, who stood on tiptoes at the lectern to say, "This is the wor d of the Lord." More than 3,000 persons attended the Mass including former Gov. Averell Harriman, Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., and former Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

Red Rockets Kill Three Civilians In Da Nang

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist rockets killed three civilians in Da Nang early today and fighting broke out again in an area near the demilitarized zone (DMZ) where the allies reported killing 308 Communists in heavy weekend fighting.

Military spokesmen said U.S. AH1 Cobra helicopter gunships were raking the area in the Cam Lo sector 4 1-2 miles south of the DMZ in support of government troops. 3

U.S. command spokesmen reported three B52 bomber missions Sunday and early today in the area and a fourth to the west near the Laotian frontier.

Military spokesman announced that the U.S. Marines, first American combat troops in Vietnam, have completed their role as a fighting force in the war zone.

The number of American troops in Vietnam has dropped below 250,000 for the first time in more than five years, military sources said. Official U.S. command figures showed 250,900 as of June 3, a reduction of 4,800 from the previous week, and the sources said the total has since dipped below the quarter million mark.

U.S. spokesmen announced the stand down today of the Head-quarters, 3rd Marine Amphibious Brigade, along with support units totalling 1,240 men. The outfits include a 585-man military police battalion.

Fewer than 3,000 Marines will remain in Vietnam with the latest announced withdrawals under the seventh phase of President Nixon's redeployment plan.

U.S. Seeks To Expand World Trade

PARIS (UPI)—Secretary of State William P. Rogers called today for the Western countries to set up special machinery to further expand world trade and avoid trade conflicts.

Rogers made the appeal at the opening of a two-day session of the ministerial council of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD).

Rogers also announced the American government's readiness to improve Western Cooperation in combatting recurrent monetary upheavals due to uncontrolled movements of short-term capital.

Rogers, launching a massive U.S. offensive to win a new expansion of Western trade, said Washington strongly endorsed a suggestion put forward by OECD Secretary General Emile Van Lennep for the establishment of a special trade group.

Van Lennep's suggestion was inspired, in effect, by the United States, and had the advance backing of leading OECD members, including Japan.

The organization of leading western industrial powers, expanded its membership today to 23 nations through the admission of Australia.

Urging a new drive for a trade liberalization, to be coordinated by the new OECD group, Rogers said the new unit "could examine current and prospective trade issues — including tariffs and tariff discrimination, no -tariff barriers, and agricultural policies —and develop action program guidelines for dealing with them."

Rogers said "sober thought and careful preparation now can prevent a cycle of restrictions which, in the end, would benefit none of us. On trade, as on the other economic issues we will examine here, let us take the open approach which our own national experiences have shown will best advance the welfare of our people."

Blaze In Queens Fatal To Four

NEW YORK (UPI)—Four persons, including a 7-year-old child, were burned to death today as fire swept a two-story frame dwelling in the Springfield Gardens section of Queens.

A fire department spokesman said the victims were identified as Williard Ponders, 53, his wife, Evelyn, 47, their grandchild, Robert Breen Knight, 7, and William Armstrong, 30.

Air Show Collisions Are Fatal To Six

By United Press International

Two of the collisions occurred within 10 minutes of each other Saturday during a race of World War II trainer planes at competition sponsored by the National Air Races Association in Wildwood, N.J. Four pilots died.

Stunt pilot Gilbert Gillette, 42, of New Haven, Conn., was killed Sunday when his biplane nosedived into a sandpit at an airshow in Planville, Conn., during a spin. Among the crowd of 5,000 were his wife and children.

J.W. "Bill" Fornof, 46, of Houma, La., died Saturday when his F8F "Bearcat" crashed after colliding with a plane piloted by his son, J. W. "Corky" Fornof, 25, in an air show held at Quonset Point, R.I., for the benefit of the Navy Relief Fund.

The two planes, both World War II single-engine propeller aircraft, touched at 200 feet altitude. The right wing came off the senior Fornof's plane and it crashed. His son's craft suffered no serious damage and landed safely.

No spectators at the two events were injured.

At Wildwood, two planes brushed each other during the first lap of the race, causing one to crash killing Richard Minges, 34, of Fayetteville, N.C. The other plane landed safely.

Two laps later, three planes collided on another turn and crashed. The victims were Victor Baker, 43, of Glendale, Calif.; Joseph Quinn, 39, of Saugus, Calif., and Edward Snyder, 47, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Egypt Talks Of Combat, Victory, Isreal Of Peace

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Egyptian War Minister Mohammed Ahmed Sadek talked of an "inevitable battle" with Israel but Israeli Deputy Premier Yigal Allon said peace is essential to both sides.

Sadek praised his troops in a message from Cairo late Sunday, telling them their diligence, in preparing for war in the four years since the 1967 Middle East war had astonished both their friends and enemies.

"You stand fully prepared to meet the call of duty," Sadek said. "You work day and night untiringly. You raise your combat efficiency and acquire every day new strength, science, faith and new weapons for the inevitable battle."

Sadek said Sunday in an interview in the Beirut newspaper Daily star that Egypt was capable of defeating Israel. "The military command is waiting for the green light from the political command," he saic

But Allon, in a weekend interview with UPI in Tel Aviv, said "I hate to be unrealistic but deep in my heart I do believe that peace will come because it serves the interest of all Middle East nations. The Arabs need peace not less than Israel."

Allon said the United States holds the key to peace in the Middle East because it is the only Western power the Arabs respect.

Diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said Israeli officials were "greatly concerned" about the recent Soviet-Egytpian friendship treaty and militant remarks by Egyptian leaders. Prime Minister Golda Meir met with her cabinet Sunday to discuss the pact and outline a major policy speech she will make to parliament Wednesday.

Lot Split On List Again

The owners will try for the second time to win San Rafael Planning Commission approval for subdivision of a 2.6-acre lot on Makin Grade, at the commission's meeting, at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall.

Gibraltar Savings and Loan Co. was denied permission to divide the property into five lots, after hearings in March and April. This time, the application is for only four lots, each of at least 20,000 square feet.

Also on the agenda are use permit requests to legalize an existing Texaco gasoline service station at 917 Irwin Street and expand it by demolishing an adjoining residence, as well as replace the station's sign.

Plans for restoration of the Marin Medical Group's clinic, damaged last year in a $60,000 fire, will be submitted for architectural approval. The commission also will see plans for a 254-unit apartment project at 100 Channing Way, on the Shareholders Capital Programs, Inc. property and for a triplex addition to a single family residence at 37 Pacheco Street.

4 Vehicles Are Stolen In Weekend

Four vehicles were stolen during the weekend in San Rafael, police reported yesterday.

A 1968 Jaguar, license WLH 171, was taken between 6:30 p.m. Saturday and 5 a.m. yesterday from in front of his home at 16 Bolanos Drive, Steven B. Weiss reported to police.

His 1970 Chevrolet, license 366 AWH was taken between 8:45 p.m. Saturday and 12:50 a.m. yesterday from a parking lot at 175 Belvedere Street, Keith E. Caughie of 92 Louise Street, reported to police.

A 1964 Mercury, license MIL 221 was taken between 8:30 and 9 p.m. Saturday from in front of his apartment at 30 Novato Street, Apt. 313, Glen D. Melville, told police.

His 1970 Honda motorcycle was taken between 9 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday from in front of his home at 11 Allensby Lane, Charles E. Turkington reported to police.

Spring Concert Set For 8 P.M. Sunday

The College of Marin Community Orchestra, conducted by John H. Myers, will present its spring concert at 8 p.m. Sunday (June 13) in the college's Fine Arts Building.

Lora Adams will solo in Bela Bartok's first violin concerto. Other works to be performed are the Little Russian Symphony by Tchaikovsky and the Secret Marriage Overture by Cimarosa.

OUTSTANDING CITIZEN — Lt. G. Albert Howenstein of the San Anselmo Police Department has been awarded the Outstanding Citizen of the Year Award by Division 8 of the Kiwanis Club. The three-county division cited Howenstein for his work against drug abuse.

Recreation Offerings Are Listed

Signups for an extensive list of San Rafael Summer recreation offerings for all ages will be open through June 15, according to Andrew J. Snyder Jr., director of parks and recreation.

Mail registrations, postmarked no later than next Monday, will be accepted for all courses except tennis. Drop-in registrations will be taken in Room 209 at the San Rafael City Hall through June 15, Snyder said.

Activities will range from courses in acrobatics, dancing, swimming and musical instruments to special outings to Disneyland, Point Reyes and the Sonoma County Fair, plus a series of special events at city parks and the recreation center.

Small fees will be charged for some of the outings, and for signups in courses by persons living outside San Rafael.

Baseball instruction will be provided for boys 7 through 15 years old, and eight one-week sessions of day camp will be held at Boyd Park for youngsters 7 to 12 years old.

Judge Gerald Levin Succumbs At 65

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Funeral services will be held Tuesday for U.S. District Court Judge Gerald Levin, who spent 15 years on city, state and federal court benches in California.

Levin died Saturday in San Francisco's Franklin Hospital. He was 65. He was hospitalized Jan. 17 after suffering headaches and later underwent surgery for a brain tumor.

Born in Danville, Ill., he moved to San Francisco in 1910. He graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1927 and earned his law degree there three years later.

During his adult life, Levin was active in civic and charitable organizations and spent a good deal of his time working towards a rehabilitation program for alcoholics.

He was a former president of the San Francisco Bar Association, a past chairman of the San Francisco Heart Association, a chairman of the Council on Alcoholism, director of the American Cancer Society and active in many other activities.

Levin was named to the San Francisco Municipal Court bench in 1956 by then Gov. Goodwin Knight. Six years later he was elevated to Superior Court. President Nixon appointed him to the federal bench in June 1969.

Nearly two decades ago, when he was a private attorney, Levin championed the cause of setting up a public defender system for the federal courts.

He gained notice as a municipal judge when he once suspended the licenses of 11 traffic offenders during a single court session.

Levin was a partner in the Pillsbury, Madison & Sutro law firm when he accepted the governor's appointment to the municipal bench.

He is survived by his widow, Frances, a speech therapist for the San Francisco Unified School District; two stepbrothers, Madison and Donald Marcus; and a stepsister, Marilyn Baxter.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at the California Masonic Memorial Temple.

Mills Predicts Nixon Defeat

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., says President Nixon has blundered so badly with the economy that any Democrat nominated for president next year should win.

The chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee said he couldn't have made a prediction of Nixon's defeat six months ago, but he said, "now, it's possible."

Mills said Nixon "has made a number of mistakes" with the economy and has been "caught on the horns of dilemma" in dealing with unemployment that rose to 6.2 per cent in May.

He was interviewed Sunday on "Meet the Press," NBC-TV.

Five Injured In Weekend Accidents

James Harry Lawrence, 29, of San Bruno, was to see his own doctor for a cut left foot in an accident at 4:15 p.m. Saturday, California Highway Patrol reported. Lawrence drove his car off Shoreline Highway north of Olema, patrolmen reported.

William Thomas McQueen, 26, of 1 Cedar Avenue, Kentfield, was to see his own doctor for minor injuries received in a one-car accident at 4:15 p.m. Friday on Laurel Avenue at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, patrolemn reported.

Donald Rae, 22, of 16 Ross Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes and bruises he received in a motorcycle accident, at 5:45 p.m. Saturday. Details of the accident were not available.

David Gutz, 22, of Pacifica, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes and bruises on his left arm. Details of the 10:42 p.m. Saturday accident were not available.

additional time and funds are granted by HUD, he added.

Approximately $600,000 will come from government sources and the remaining $300,000 must come from local sources, Price said. Approval of the loan and time extension will depend on the agency's ability to meet the local share requirements, he continued.

He said the agency plans to claim the Manzanita Center (which the county helped build) and the proposed $94,000 police fire station as part of the non-cash credits toward the local share. The access road would provide the rest of the local share needed, he said.

Price also noted the success of the development project depends on the redevelopment agency's ability to sell the approximately 180 acres in the community's redevelopment area. "Without the road, Marin City will remain an isolated enclave and marketing the land will go slower and the chances of failure will be much higher."

If the additional funding is not forthcoming from the government, Price said the Department of Housing and Urban Development may have to close down the development project and disband the redevelopment agency which will have no money to operate.

If the government pulls out, Price said responsibility for Marin City development and for repaying the original loan — plus interest — could fall on the county's shoulders.

Wallace K. Shepherd, executive director of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, will meet tomorrow with county supervisors to ask them to include funds for the connector road in the county's proposed budget for 1971-72.

Kidnapping Report Is False

A reported kidnapping of a Tiburon woman Saturday turned out to be a false report, Marin County sheriff's deputies said today.

Deputies said a man who identified himself as Ralph W. Hagen called the sheriff's office about 11:30 a.m. Saturday and reported the kidnapping.

The man told deputies that he had been in the apartment of a Jan Gregg, 26, of 9 Seadrift Landing, when another man came in armed with a pistol.

The second man bound and gagged "Hagen," he told deputies, and kidnapped the woman.

The man said he was calling from a nearby public phone booth because the alleged kidnapper had ripped out the telephone in the woman's apartment.

Deputies arriving in the area found no sign of Hagen. The alleged kidnap victim, it was learned, did not live in the apartment building, but in Mill Valley and was reported to have been in Southern California Saturday.

Larkspur Due Budget Review

The Larkspur City Council, meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at city hall, will continue review of the proposed budget for fiscal 1971-72.

Scheduled for discussion tonight is a 5 per cent pay hike proposal for city employees. The council held the matter over last week after refusing to grant increases to top administrators.

Next year's proposed budget totals just over $1 million and carries a tax rate of $1.995 per $100 assessed valuation. This year's rate is $1.895.

Cook Wins AP News Award

Stephen C. Cook of San Anselmo, a reporter for the San Francisco Examiner, has received first prize in the annual California Associated Press news contest, AP officials announced today.

Cook's award was for his coverage of the Aug. 7 shoot-out at the Civic Center and took first place in the spot news division for metropolitan dailies.

$5,600 For Novato In City Auction

Novato netted $5,600 at its semi-annual auction Saturday selling out all unclaimed and surplus items on hand, according to Patsey Medeiros, account clerk.

A dump truck and two pickup trucks, a sedan, three police patrol cars and 45 bicycles were among the items auctioned.

Two Parcels To Be Sold

Two parcels of undeveloped land, one in Tiburon and the other in Fairfax, will be sold at an auction tomorrow in San Francisco.

The Tiburon land consists of 3.5 acres on the west side of Marinero Circle, which is zoned for approximately 38 units, according to the auctioneer.

The sale will begin at 2 p.m. at Del Webb's Towne House and will be conducted by Marsh Dozar Auctioneers of Beverly Hills.

Dozar said the sale has been commissioned by a major bank which is providing 90 per cent financing.

PLANES

said the twin-engine jet, with a passenger capacity of 98, was "climbing to its normal operating altitude of 29,000 feet" when the collision occurred at about 6:08 p.m. PDT.

The final destination of the DC9 was Pasco, Wash., after stops in Salt Lake City and Boise and Lewiston, Idaho.

Mike Zarate, an Azusa fire dispatcher, said he was sitting in his home here when he heard the collision.

"I heard a loud explosion and saw a plane coming down in flames. Heavy black smoke followed the plane."

Mrs. Dorothy Greve of Azusa also heard it.

"It sounded like a bomb blast and then it rolled like thunder," she said.

The crash ignited three brush fires which were quickly controlled.

Boy Held In Theft, Drugs

A 15-year-old Santa Rosa boy was arrested Saturday on suspicion of burglary of a Petaluma school and of possession of dangerous drugs.

Police said Larry Steven Ball was found inside the office of Bernard E. Eldredge School, 207 Maria Drive, at 2:20 a.m. where a window had been broken to gain entry.

Officers said a large quantity of pills was found in his possession and that he was under the influence of drugs at the time. Police said Ball threatened to commit suicide and was taken to Community Hospital of Sonoma County for observation and to be held for Juvenile authorities.

Dixie Board To Clean Up items

Dixie School District trustees will clean up several business items in preparation for summer school, at their regular meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the board room at 35 Trellis Drive.

Ten library assistants, two school secretaries, some 40 teacher aides and three teachers are on the list for summer school and music camp hiring approval.

District staff also will seek authorization to set a sale of used typewriters and surplus desks, and review the timetable for construction of additions to Oak View and Miller Creek schools.

Petaluma Budget To Be Presented

The preliminary Petaluma city budget for fiscal 1971-72 will be presented to the city council at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. today.

The council will receive the budget for study and set study sessions for discussions for the next several weeks. The council will also consider the adoption of a development policy as approved last week by the planning commission and consider awarding a contract for a box culvert and widening of East Washington Street near Maria Drive.

Man Booked In Police Assault

A 20-year-old Fairfax man was arrested yesterday morning on suspicion of assaulting a Fairfax police officer who was attempting to make a routine misdemeanor arrest of another man.

Held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $6,250 bail to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court was James Thomas Sanford of 362 Cascade Drive. Police said that Sanford hit an officer when Sanford and another man attempted to stop the arrest of another man on a drunk charge.

contract and pension negotiated with the city. The leaflet said the average wage of the striking employes was $7,500 and for many the only alternative to the pension would be going on welfare.

As of 7:30 a.m., police reported, 19 roadways were blocked by stalled vehicles and 28 of 29 drawbridges left open, most of them over the Harlem River which runs between the boroughs of the Bronx and Manhattan. The bridges carry part of the flow of commuter traffic from suburban Westchester County into midtown Manhattan.

The Traffic Department said at midmorning the traffic situation was "easing up" as tow trucks removed the stalled vehicles from highways but side streets still were jammed with cars trying to avoid the roadblocks.

Highways Commissioner Vincent J. Gibney reported the drawbridges were "inoperable because key component parts have been removed."

Police closed the Cross-Bronx Expressway, a major truck route between the main line and New England branches of the New York State Thruway, shortly before 10:30 a.m. because the connecting Bruckner Avenue drawbridge still was unusable.

Bids Opened On Slide Work

The California Division of Highways has opened bids for a slide repair project on Shoreline Highway and for installation of traffic counting devices on highways 101 and 37.

The division said it received three bids for repair of storm damage on Shoreline Highway one-half mile south of Stinson Beach. Low bidder was Blasi Construction and Al Blasi of Healdsburg, at $54,083.

Electronic vehicle detectors will be installed on Highway 101 at the Lucas Valley Road undercrossing and on Highway 37 just south of the Marin-Sonoma line. Dale Contractors of Monrovia, Los Angeles County, was lowest of three bidders at $20,088 for the two projects and nine others in the Bay Area.

Car Overturns, Injuring Youth

A 16-year-old San Rafael youth was injured yesterday at 10:35 p.m. when the car in which he was riding overturned on Lucas Valley Road one-half mile west of Mount McKinley Drive.

Mark Ross, of 1330 Idylberry Road, was treated at Marin General Hospital for back bruises.

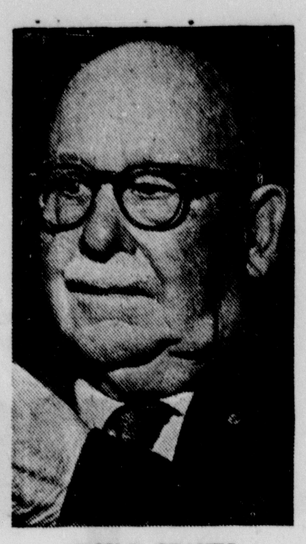
The California Highway Patrol said he was a passenger in an auto driven by Martin R. Ross, 20, also of the Idylberry Road address. Officers said the elder Ross told them his car overturned when he swerved to avoid a deer.

Health Program Hearing Slated

A public hearing on the San Anselmo School District's proposed health education program will be held tomorrow by the district board, meeting at 7 p.m. at Red Hill School.

The public hearing stems from an earlier meeting when Trustee Eugene E. Jacks, supported by a group of citizens, demanded the hearing even though the program was scheduled to be outlined for the public on three other occasions.

The board's hearing will be preceeded by a closed session to discuss salary negotiations with its representatives.



ROY D. GRAVES

OBITUARIES

Roy D. Graves, 82, Dies

Funeral for Roy D. Graves, Marin County historian and collector of railroad pictures, was held today in San Francisco.

Graves, 82, died Saturday in San Francisco after a long illness.

It was his interest in history that won him widespread recognition, especially his collection of more than 50,000 photographs of railroads, in demand among railroad buffs throughout the nation. He loaned them to authors to use in many books. Among the authors who consulted his accurate memory of railroads and who used his pictures, was Lucius Beebe. Many of his pictures have appeared in the Independent-Journal.

He was curator for the Marin County Historical Society Museum from 1958 to 1563.

He was born in San Francisco of pioneer California stock. His grandfather, Hiram T. Graves, came to California in 1849. His father, Hiram A. Graves, was a conductor for the North Shore Railroad in Sausalito. Graves started to work for that railroad in 1904.

In 1907 he was fireman on the Mill Valley and Mt. Tamalpais Scenic Railway. He also worked for the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific Railroads.

From railroading, he turned to engineering on ferry boats and tug boats in the bay. He held various engineering positions on the Key Route ferries until 1931.

He was engineer at the State Refrigeration Plant in San Francisco from 1931 to 1938; engineer at the War Memorial Veterans Building and Opera House from 1938 to 1941. He continued working for the public works department until 1959 when he retired. After that he was curator of the Marin museum.

He was a member of the Marin County Historical Society, Railroad and Locomotive Historical Society, California Historical Society, California Pioneer Society and Friends of Bancroft Library.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel; a son Norbert Graves; a daughter, Jean Ferrari; two grandchildren and one great grandchild, all of San Francisco.

Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Budget Proposal Due For Petaluma Board

The Petaluma Board of Education, meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow, will hear a recommendation that salaries remain the same for budget purposes until agreements can be reached in negotiating sessions.

Schools Supt. Lesly H. Myer said current salaries would be used in preparation of the 1971-72 budget since negotiations on salaries may not be complete until fall.

RAMONA CASTAGNINO

A Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated today at St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo for Ramona H. Castagnino of San Anselmo, who died Thursday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Castagnino, who was 66, was born in Ione, Amador County. She lived all her life in California, the last 45 years in Marin County. Her home was at 71 Elm Avenue.

Her husband, Emanuel (Babe) Castagnino, a retired house painter, died in 1967.

Burial was in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

CARL CONRADI

Carl Conradi, San Francisco lawyer and San Rafael resident died, yesterday, of a heart seizure aboard his cabin cruiser docked near Antioch. He was 62.

Conradi lived at 138 Loch Lomond Drive for almost five years and spent his entire life in the Bay Area.

He was a native of San Francisco and graduated from Stanford University and Hastings Law School. He was senior partner in Conradi and Dreyfus Law firm. He had also been president of the Loch Lomond Yacht Club in Marin County.

Conradi is survived by a daughter, Carlene McDonald of El Sobrante; a stepdaughter, Beverly Minenna; and three grandchildren, Stephen, Bruce and David McDonald.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 7 p.m. in Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

GERALD RICHARDS

Funeral for Gerald M. Richards, 67, of 109 Bridgeway, Sausalito, will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in Andrews and Greilich Mission Chapel, Sacramento. Richards, a native of California, died Monday in a San Francisco hospital.

He was formerly an engineer with the State Department of Architecture. He was also in the Commonwealth Club and the Consulting Engineers Association of California.

Survivors include his wife, June; daughters, Geraldine J. Richards of Sacramento and Teresa J. Steward of Los Gatos; a brother, G. Barnett Richards of Sacramento and three grandchildren.

MRS. HARTMAN

Funeral for Jeanette R. Hartman, 59, of 30 Upland Drive, Mill Valley, will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Gantner-Felder-Kenny Chapel in San Francisco.

Mrs. Hartman, a leading Bay Area violinist, was killed in a three-car collision on the Golden Gate Bridge May 28 when her car was struck head-on by an auto southbound in the northbound lane. The collision slammed her car into another northbound auto.

Mrs. Hartman had played first violin with the Marin Symphony since the group was organized 19 years ago. At one time, she had been assistant concertmaster of the symphony.

In addition, she played with the Santa Rosa Symphony for more than 15 years and with the Vallejo Symphony for many years.

A native of Oakland, Mrs. Hartman studied music in Germany and later taught the violin to many students in Marin. She also was well-known in the Bay Area for playing with various San Francisco professionals in private homes. She was a member of the Musicians Union.

Mrs. Hartman also had worked for 20 years as a secretary for the Sante Fe-Pomery Co. in San Francisco.

Surviving is her son, Paul M. Hartman of Long Beach.

Inurnment will be at Chapel of the Chimes in Oakland.

MARY SIMONSON

Funeral for Mary Teresa Simonson, 81, of Novato, was held today in Novato. She died Saturday at Novato General Hospital apparently of a heart attack.

She was born in London, England and came to this country in 1914. She had lived in Novato for the past 14 years and in Petaluma prior to that. She was a retired companion nurse.

She was a member of the St. John's Episcopal Church, Petaluma Rebeccah Lodge, Morning Star Chapter of Order of Eastern Star, all of Petaluma.

She is survived by her husband, Alfred of the home at 8 Boulevard Terrace; five daughters, Florence Milner of Petaluma, Dorothy Hills of San Rafael, Kathleen Bellport of Cloverdale, Margaret Kane of Summit City, Shasta County, and Lorraine Bessellieu of Eureka; two sons, Wilfred Budd of Lost Hills, Kern County and Robert Simonson of Willits; two sisters, Edith McGill of Concord and Dorothy Hutchinson of Victoria, B.C.; 13 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Inurnment was at Cypress Hills Cemetery in Petaluma.

MRS. FEGAN

Funeral for Mary Anne Fegan, sister of Edward Doucette of Corte Madera, will be held tomorrow in Redwood City. She unexpectedly died Saturday at the age of 69.

Originally from Wisconsin, she had lived in California for 42 years. For many years she worked with the Young Men's Christian Association in kitchen services. She was a member of the Grange, Pescadero and was active in St. Anthony's Parish.

Mrs. Fegan is survived by her husband, Harry J. Fegan of Loma Mar, San Mateo County; four children: James Tucker of Belmont, Albert Cardoza of Loma Mar, Ruth Hammond of Redwood City and Vondella Blayney of Santa Cruz; a sister, Mrs. Helen Jane Byer of Santa Cruz; six grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Recitation of the Rosary will be this evening at Crippen and Flynn Chapel, Redwood City, and a Requiem Mass will be said at St. Anthony's tomorrow.

Mrs. Fegan will be buried at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

MARGARET GARVIN

Margaret (Maggie) Garvin, 88, of 81 Professional Parkway, San Rafael, died yesterday at a local hospital where she was taken earlier in the day with a fever.

Deputy Coroner Don Cornish said death was apparently due to natural causes.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., she had lived in Marin County six years and in California 30 years. She had worked at the Elmer S. Karpe Real Estate Co. in Bakersfield for 20 years.

Before moving to California, she had served as Supreme Grand Queen of the Sons and Daughters of Jerusalem in Kansas City. She was the widow of Joseph Garvin.

Surviving are three daughters, Dorothy Barb of San Francisco, Leora Suesberry of Los Angeles and Marguerite Shaw of Sudbury, Mass.; two sisters, Cocetta E. Davis and Luella Carter, both of Bakersfield; 13 grandchildren and many great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be held at the Mount Zion Baptist Church in Bakersfield next week. Harry Williams Mortuary is in charge of local arrangements.

CAROL ANN DOTY

Funeral for Carol Ann Doty, 32, of Rohnert Park, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Daphne's Funeral Service, San Francisco.

Mrs. Doty died Friday at a San Francisco Hospital after a long illness. She had been hospitalized since undergoing a kidney transplant operation in February.

Mrs. Doty graduated in 1970 from the nursing program at Santa Rosa Community college and was a member of the Tops Club of Rohnert Park. She was elected the club queen for 1971.

She is survived by her husband, Robert W. Doty; six daughters, Jeanette, Sherrill, Denise, Roberta, Fern and Elizabeth Doty, all of the family home; and her parents, Clarence and Mae Widener of San Francisco.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Kidney Foundation of Sonoma County.

MRS. PORTER

Funeral for Florence E. Porter, 81, a 20-year Petaluma resident, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

Mrs. Porter died Friday at the home of her son, Herold J. Whitcomb, 233 Alma Avenue, after a long illness.

She was a 25-year member of the Valley of the Moon Chapter No. 85, Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Porter is also survived by a grandson.

Burial will be at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

MRS. PEREIRA

Anna J. Silva Pereira 85, a lifelong Petaluma resident, died yesterday at a Menlo Park hospital after a long illness.

A native of Duncan Mills, she moved to Petaluma as a child. Mrs. Pereira was a member of the Catholic Ladies Aid Society, Holy Ghost Society and Woodmen of the World.

She is survived by four sons, Louis J. and Joseph A. Silva of Petaluma, Michael A. Silva of Sacramento and George J. Silva of Santa Rosa; two daughters, Mrs. Filbert Cordeiro and Mrs. Raymond C. Browne of Redwood City; two foster sons, Frank Basile of Corte Madera and Robert Furrer of Sonoma; a sister, Mrs. A.J. Rupprecht of Petaluma; eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Vincent De Paul Church, Petaluma, followed by burial at Calvary Cemetery. Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

What a Realtor can do for you?

A Realtor can be invaluable in judging prices and values of homes. He can tell you what the market is (he knows it well) — what homes are worth, and what they are selling for; he can evaluate properties, and he can tell you if a price is realistic.

DOWN WITH LITTER

Cub Scout Chris Kearns (left) was a bit overly enthusiastic Saturday as he jumped on a sack of trash collected at the Mill Valley Yacht Harbor. He was assisted by Mike McCall, also from Pack 40 of Tamalpais Valley. A split bag was a small price, however, for the massive antilitter campaign conducted Saturday throughout Marin by more than 1,000 Boy Scouts, Cubs and Explorers as part of a nationwide Scout effort.

Zone Ordinance To Be Studied

The Novato City Council will consider adopting an ordinance to place interim zoning on land along Novato Creek at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the community house.

The ordinance would prohibit development that would interfere with flood control plans. Marin County supervisors recently adopted a similar ordinance covering the county's unincorporated area.

The council also will have a hearing on rezoning of the diablo triangle — now limited agricultural, multiple-family and commercial —to multiple-residential, as proposed in the city's downtown plan.

Bodies Of Retired AF Colonel, Wife Found In Plane Wreckage

SANTA PAULA (UPI) —The bodies of a retired Air Force general and his wife were found Sunday after Civil Air Patrol searchers combed half the state in a nine-day search.

Maj. Gen. Richard O. Hunziker, 54, and his wife, Margaret, disappeared last Monday when their light plane went down on a pleasure flight from Calexico, on the Mexican border, to the central California town of Santa Maria.

Both bodies were recovered from the wreckage.

The search spread over six counties but was hampered because the former Strategic Air Command pilot neglected to file a flight plan with authorities before taking off.

Hunziker, a World War II fighter pilot who had logged more than 6,800 hours flying experience, was deputy inspector general at Norton Air Force base in San Bernardino until his retirement in 1969.

A year before retirement the general was making headlines as the officer in charge of locating a cargo of A-bombs which were lost in the crash of a B-52 bomber on the Greenland icecap in the arctic winter.

Hunziker's single-engine plane crashed into a thicket of trees in the rugged Sespe Hot Springs wilderness area north of Los Angeles. The Civil Air Patrol said the craft did not seem badly damaged.

During the nine-day hunt more than 30 wrecked aircraft from years-old crashes were rediscovered in remote locations from the Mexican border to central California.

In some cases the yellow paint sprayed on the old wrecks to identify them had weathered away, but in no case were more bodies discovered.

Cyclist Hurt On White's Hill

A 22-year-old San Rafael man has been treated at Marin General Hospital for injuries suffered when his motorcycle struck an embankment on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on White's Hill west of Fairfax.

Donald J. Rae, of 16 Ross Street, sustained multiple scrapes and cuts in the accident, which occurred at 5 .m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Officers said he told them he was westbound and slowed to avoid a slow-moving vehicle when his motorcycle struck an embankment on the right side of the road.

If you're thinking of a loan for a car or carport, pool or pool table, dryer, washer, cabin cruiser or world cruise, apply now.

You might win it interest-free.

Right now United California Bank is holding an Interest-Free Personal Loan Sweepstakes. If you're a California resident, 21 or over, all you have to do is fill out an entry blank at any one of our 238 offices. It's that simple—no purchase required. If you apply for a personal loan for any amount up to $10,000 and it's approved, you may win it interest-free. If you don't apply for a loan, you can still win: either a cash prize equivalent to the interest on an average UCB Personal Loan with a two-year maturity or, on approval, an interest-free loan. And since there'll be a sweepstakes winner for every 50 loans approved until July 31st, there are plenty of chances to win.

So if you've been waiting to apply for a loan, you'd be wise not to wait any longer. Come in and talk to us today. You'll find we have everything from a vacation loan that lets you wait three months to start repaying, to a property improvement loan that finances 100% of your expense and lets you take up to 10 years to repay.

Look Due At Span Barrier

Tacking a suicide barrier onto the Golden Gate Bridge will be considered by bridge district directors meeting as a "committee of the whole" at 10 a.m. on Thursday in toll plaza offices.

Anshen and Allen, the district's architectural consultants, said last month that suicides could be cut by various barriers. They offered no cost estimates, but the district's staff estimated the cost between $750,000 and $4 million.

Proposed barriers have been defeated repeatedly over the past 21 years because of objections to their appearance, effectiveness, cost, weight and wind resistance.

The rules and policy committee will meet first at 9:30 a.m. to interview applicants for the new $26,500-a-year job of water transit manager.

The insurance committee will meet at 2 p.m. to consider adding an insurance specialist to the district's staff and to get a progress report on an inspection of earthquake hazards in the vicinity of the bridge.

The full board will meet at 10 a.m. on Friday, preceded by the finance-auditing committee at 9:30 a.m. The full board is expected to consider awarding a contract to General Motors for construction of 132 new commuter buses.

San Rafael Drug Raid Nets Three

Arrested Friday night were Doris Lucille Hill, 28, of 1551 Fourth Street, San Rafael, on suspicion of possession of heroin for sale and possession of narcotics paraphernalia; Michael Alvin Gray, 23, of no known address, on suspicion of being in a place where narcotics were used; and Robert Bruce Reiner, 19, of 123 Scenic Road in Fairfax, on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs and being in a place where narcotics were used.

According to Inspector Charles S. Brobeck, police went to Mrs. Hill's residence with a search warrant at 9:40 p.m. She was arrested when they found 13 balloons filled with a substance believed to be heroin and two narcotics kits.

Mrs. Hill was released on $1,000 bail and was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Gray and Reiner were arrested when they came to Mrs. Hill's residence, presumably to purchase the heroin, while police were there, Brobeck said.

Gray was held on $625 bail to appear Wednesday in municipal court. No bail had been set for Reiner.

Advanced First Aid Will Be Offered

A free, nine-week course in advanced first aid will begin Thursday in the headquarters of the Marin Red Cross, 712 Fifth Aenue, San Rafael. Volunteer instructors will be Thomas Larke Jr. of Fairfax and Dale Pederson of Novato.

Students must hold a current standard first aid card to enroll in the advanced course, Red Cross spokesmen said. The class will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Thursday.

Elks, Legion, VFW Set Celebration For Flag Day

Flag Day, which is June 14, will be observed in Marin Sunday at 2:45 p.m. with a public program on the Magnolia Terrace of the Elks Club at 1312 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

San Rafael Elks Lodge 1108 will sponsor the observance in conjunction with Wilkins Post 37 of the American Legion and Tamalpais Post 72 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. John G. Buresh heads tha committee in charge.

Two military units will provide music: The 12th Naval District Band from Treasure Island and the Marine Corps Drum and Bugle Corps from Concord.

Principal speaker will be Col. H. O. Swaney, commander of the 23rd Marine Regiment in Alameda. The flag and its history will be discussed by Grant Halsing.

The program will include presentation of colors by Gunnery Sgt. A. Rodrigues and a Marine Corps color guard; Elks ritual by John Oliva, exalted ruler; presentation of a flag to Boy Scout Troop 55 by the Marine Corps, and a community march of flags under direction of Marine Maj. W. T. Ridgeway. Boy Scouts will be ushers.

A cocktail hour and steak barbecue will follow the ceremonies.

Six Will Receive Denver U. Diplomas

Six Marin County and Southern Sonoma residents were among 1,836 persons who received degrees at the University of Denver commencement Saturday.

The six are Gregory Palcanis of 39 McNear Drive, San Rafael, awarded a master of business administration-juris doctor degree; Lawrence Hoenig, 32 Dellwood Court, San Rafael, a bachelor's degree magna cum laude; Bruce Tedtsen, 120 Laurel Drive, Fairfax; David McClain, Kentfield; Brian Tobin, Shady Lane, Ross, all bachelor's degrees, and Stuart Bennett, 88 Rocca Drive, Petaluma, a bachelor's degree summa cum laude.

Knorr, Wornum Elected To AIA Memberships

Architects Don R. Knorr of San Anselmo and Michael Wornum of Mill Valley have been elected to lifetime membership in the American Institute of Architects, the AIA's Northern California chapter announced.

Wornum, a member of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and former Mill Valley mayor and city councilman, is an associate of the urban and regional planning firm of Williams and Mocine in San Francisco. He is a lecturer on city planning in the University of California at Berkeley, and chairman of the transportation committee of the Golden Gate Bridge District board.

Knorr, one-time planner and architectural consultant for the University of Alaska, is designer-principal of the San Francisco firm of Knorr-Elliott and Associates.

Fellowship in the AIA College is an "honor bestowed for outstanding contribution to the profession," the chapter reported.

Adult mayflies are found along streams and ponds in the spring.

San Rafael Due Budget Hearings In School District

San Rafael Board of Education members again will discuss the 1971-72 budgets for the high school and elementary districts, during their meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district offices.

The budgets were on the agenda for their May 26 meeting, but discussion was limited and no action resulted. Proposed outlay is nearly $5.5 million for each district, without any provisions for pay increases.

The board also is to hear an evaluation and cost analysis of the elementary pilot school lunch program, discuss proposals for "alternative high school experiences" and discuss the reaction of departments and teachers to rotation policies.

The board agenda includes a closed session to meet with representatives on teacher salary negotiations.

Housing Issues On Agenda

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will meet at 9 a.m. tomorrow with the Marin Redevelopment Agency and the Marin Housing Authority board to discuss general housing issues and redevelopment of Marin City.

The Redevelopment Agency wants the county to commit $150,000 in next year's budget to build a connector road from Marin City to Tamalpais Valley.

Supervisors will discuss the role of the Marin Housing Authority in the county's newly adopted policy of encouraging low and moderate income housing.

Other items on the supervisors' agenda include:

BUGGING — County personnel commissioners will ask the county to adopt a policy that no county employee will use tape recorders or other devices to record telephone conversations of other employees. A health department employee testified at a personnel hearing in April that Frank E. Kirby, administrative assistant to the health officer, used recording devices to tape conversations without notifying the other party.

SYMPHONY — San Francisco Symphony Association will ask that the rental fee be waived for use of the Marin Veterans Memorial Building. The county administrator will recommend that no exceptions be made to the fee schedule.

BEER AND WINE — Civic Center cafeteria operators will ask for permission to serve beer and wine with lunch.

RADAR STATION — Brig. Gen. Richard G. Cross Jr., commander of the 26th Air Division at Luke Air Force Base, Ariz., will discuss controversy surrounding the radar station atop Mount Tamalpais. Nearby residents are complaining about too many lights and despoilation of landscape.

BIKE PATH — Pierre W. Joske, director of county parks and recreation, will ask that a $20,905 contract be awarded to W. K. McLellan Co. of San Rafael to build a bicycle and pedestrian path between Sausalito and Mill Valley.

SEWER BONDS — Attorneys representing the Bolinas-Stinson Beach sewer project will ask for county backing of more than $4.4 million in assessment bonds to finance sewer facilities. On Feb. 2, the supervisors approved the underwriting of $4.4 million, but a bigger bond issue will be sought tomorrow.

CORTE MADERA CREEK — The Army Corps of Engineers wants to know what the county plans to do about flood control work on Corte Madera Creek upstream of Ross.

Preliminary Hearing Set In Pot Case

A preliminary hearing has been set for June 15 in Marin Municipal Court for Dennis Phillip Tsigelatos, 23, of Novato, who is charged with two counts of marijuana sale.

Tsigelatos is accused of selling $325 worth of pot to an agent on March 26 and $20 worth of the drug on March 29.

15 Seeking Four Petaluma Council Seats

Climaxing an election campaign that centered mainly on the city's growing pains, Petaluma voters will go to the polls tomorrow to pick four councilmen from a field of 15 candidates.

Many of the hopefuls have urged putting a cautious brake on the city's growth until steps are taken to insure the city's environment; others have called for closer links of the older area of the city with the fast-growing eastside area.

Three councilmen will be chosen for four-year terms from a field of 10 candidates. From a choice of five candidates, the voters will pick one for a two-year council term.

RICHARD W. CLECAK
Controlled growth

PAUL R. STANLEY
Retired businessman

Cavanagh, a businessman, said he hopes to unify the city and bring balance to the economy by attracting selective industry.

Daly, 35, a supervisor for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., was appointed to the council in January and previously served on the Old Adobe School District board. He is also a director of the Visiting Nurses Service.

Daly has spoken in favor of better control of Petaluma's growth. He attended the University of New Mexico and received a law degree in 1966.

Cameron, a computer operator, is making his second bid for the council. He takes part in activities of the United Church of Christ of Petaluma, Bernard E. Eldredge School Parents and Teachers Together, Boy Scouts and little league. He attended Heald Business College, College of Marin and Santa Rosa Community College.

Cameron, 35, has called for improvement in a wide range of city services.

Mrs. Cook, a 34-year-old housewife, is a graduate of Burroughs Corp. Business School in San Francisco and was a teacher at two business schools there. She served two terms as president of McDowell School Parent-Teachers Association, is an officer of the Petaluma Council of Parent-Teachers Associations and financial secretary of the association's 14th district.

Mrs. Cook has said she would hope to improve inadequate schools and undeveloped recreational facilities by requiring developers to dedicate land for schools or pay fees for parks.

Forney, 49, a disabled Navy veteran and former prize fighter, is making his second bid for the office. He attended the University of Cincinnati for two years.

Forney said he has gained a greater understanding of city problems than other candidates because of regular attendance at council meetings.

Hilgeford, a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, is associated with Westgate Realty, Petaluma. He was a jet pilot and meteorologist while with the Air Force.

Hilgeford, 54, is an advocate of closely regulated growth of the city.

Mrs. Hilligoss, a housewife, is a former X-ray technician. She is a member of the American Association of University Women, Hillcrest Hospital Auxiliary, Petaluma Women's Club, Catholic Social Services, Sonoma County Republican Central Committee and is a former secretary of the Republican Women.

Mrs. Hilligoss, 43, lists teenage recreational facilities, better parking and easier traffic flow as city goals.

Perry, a pharmacist, has been a member of the Petaluma Planning Commission for three years, a director of the Petaluma Hospital District for three years and a director of the California Pharmaceutical Association for four years. He also serves on the advisory board for the Sonoma County Airport and is a member of the Civil Air Patrol and Flying Pharmacists of California.

Perry, 59, said the council should increase communication with school districts and chamber of commerce. He supports removal of parking meters and the addition of parking lots through the creation of a downtown parking assessment district.

Wages, an insurance agent, moved to Petaluma seven months ago from Lucas Valley. He spent 22 years in the Army, attaining the rank of chief warrant officer, and attended the University of Maryland for two years while in the service.

Wages, 43, said he feels he can reflect the desires of new residents who have selected Petaluma as their permanent home.

Waite, owner of Waite Realty, has served as president of the Petaluma Junior Chamber of Commerce and was chairman of the chamber's agri-business committee. He is vice president of the Petaluma Toastmasters Club and the Petaluma Golf Club.

Waite, 39, has said that future development should pay its own way through increased sewer connection fees so that residents need not be asked to pass sewer bond issues every four or five years.

Clecak, a teacher and athletic coach at Petaluma Senior High School, is making his first bid for office in seeking the two-year council term. He is a graduate of the University of San Francisco and is a candidate for a master's degree there.

Clecak, 29, advocates controlled city growth and better communication between city departments.

Mortensen, an oil wholesaler, is a member of the East Petaluma Adobe Lions Club and Masonic Lodge. He has taken courses in engineering and law at the University of California at Los Angeles and La Salle University.

Mortensen, 54, has opposed the $2 million sewer bond issue also on tomorrow's ballot, but said he would support the project if funded by revenue bonds.

Petro, 37, manager of a construction firm, is making his second bid for the council. He is a member of the Petaluma Water Commission, the East Petaluma Civic Association and Sonoma County Republican Central Committee.

He has said residents have lost trust in their government.

Stanley, a retired businessman, has been on the Petaluma Planning Commission for 10 years and its chairman for six. He is also Sonoma County's representative to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.

Stanley, 66, has said that Petaluma's problems stem not so much from growth, but rather from unimaginative development. He said the city manager-council type of government will not function properly unless the council clearly and firmly sets city policy and sees to it that staff carries it out.

Timms, an assistant regional traffic manager for American Can Co., is a graduate of Golden Gate College and is a member of the United Methodist Church. While a resident of Concord, he served on the park and recreation commission for four years.

Timms, 38, has said his experience in Concord with youth groups would assist him as a councilman.

Moorer Praises Spanish Forces

MADRID (UPI)—Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, today praised the Spanish armed forces for the "good discipline and high morale" which they showed in a display of the country's growing military might.

Moorer, here on official three-day visit at the invitation of his Spanish counterpart, attended Sunday's Victory Day parade marking the 32nd anniversary of the end of the Spanish civil war.

Miracle Coating Replaces House Paint for 15 Years

Los Angeles, Calif.

Another boon of the space age has been accomplished for the home owner . . . an exterior wall coating so tough and durable that it is guaranteed to totally eliminate exterior house painting for over 15 years. This remarkable textured coating is asbestos KENITEX.

The Atomic Energy Commission has used KENITEX texture Coating for several years at Los Alamos, New Mexico, atomic plant. Thousands of gallons of this remarkable exterior surfacing have been applied to provide weatherproofing and beauty, far outlasting ordinary paint.

Over 1,000,000 KENITEX applications on homes, commercial and industrial buildings throughout the world, 10,000 in Southern California alone, remain in perfect condition after more than 15 years exposure in all weather extremes.

The Veterans' Administration, Sawtelle, in Los Angeles, has applied KENITEX to the exteriors of their buildings. The Kenitex coating is applied in one quick spray application without muss, fuss or odor — at a thickness 20 times that of ordinary paint. It fills holes, cracks and hides building defects, yet does not conceal the original architectural lines.

Homes and Guided Missiles
Unique among KENITEX applications is the use on guided missiles where its insulating properties shield the missile from extreme temperatures. KENITEX obtains these qualities from its basic components of asbestos, mica and perlite, which are noted for their insulation and durability.

Shot From a Gun
KENITEX is guaranteed for 15 years against chipping, flaking or peeling . . . it is extremely flexible and withstands all normal building expansion and contraction. Actually, "Shot from a Gun" KENITEX fuses to the sidewalls in a variety of beautiful decorator colors.

Free Estimates
Local applications of this remarkable coating are made by the Golden Gate Bldr's Inc. licensed and approved applicators. Cost is surprisingly low — convenient terms can be arranged. Home owners can obtain free estimates without obligations, by calling 776-4453 or mail coupon herewith:

Student Hurt As Car Plunges Off Highway

A 16-year-old Tamalpais High School student has been treated at Marin General Hospital for injuries suffered when the car he was driving plunged over an embankment on Shoreline Highway east of Muir Beach.

The California Highway Patrol said Makar was westbound on Shoreline Highway near the Green Gulch Ranch in a car belonging to James W. Jefferson, of 1175 West California Avenue, Homestead Valley, when his car rounded a curve and plunged over an embankment.

Makar was taken to the hospital by an unidentified motorist. The accident occurred at 2:30 a.m. Saturday, the patrol said.

Crash In Greece Kills Seven GIs

SALONIKA, Greece (UPI)—A seventh American serviceman died early today from injuries received in a Sunday night collision between a U.S. military truck and a Greek tourist bus.

Eight Greeks, including the bus driver, were also badly injured and taken to Salonica Municipal Hospital.

Police sources said preliminary investigation indicated the accident was caused by wet, slippery roads 30 miles from Salonica.

13 Marinites Graduated In Stockton

Two San Rafael sisters, Laurie D. and Terry K.Hodgen, of 34 Fairway Drive, are among thirteen Marin students who have been graduated from the University of the Pacific in Stockton.

Robbieburr M. Berger, of 507 Cottonwood Drive, Fairfax, was awarded a bachelor of arts in social science degree, Charlotte I. Dyslin, of 214 Cleveland Court, Mill Valley, received a master of science degree and Thomas C. Meyers, of 56 Longview Avenue, San Anselmo, was awarded a bachelor of science degree.

Tam Board To Study Charges Against Pair

The Tamalpais High School District board, meeting today at 7:45 p.m. at the Redwood High School faculty lounge in Larkspur, is expected to decide whether to dismiss or proceed on charges against two teachers.

The teachers have been charged with ineptitude by parents of mentally retarded students in the district special education program.

The board, which twice has considered the charges behind closed doors, promised last week a decision would be announced Monday.

Trustees also are expected to hear salary proposals for administrators and a request that the district's grooming policy be scrapped.

Overdose Report

Joyce E. Walker, 47, of 107 San Carlos Way, Novato, was reported in good condition at Novato General Hospital today, after treatment for an overdose of pills. According to Novato police, Mrs. Walker took the pills at 7:20 p.m. Saturday.

Supreme Court Rules Exceptions On 1-Man, 1-Vote Principle

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court in a pair of decisions spelled out today several exceptions to the one-man, one-vote principle at state and local goting levels.

In an Indiana case, the Court reversed a lower three-judge federal panel which had struck down the at-large election of state representatives in Marion County, which includes Indianapolis.

The lower court, on grounds the at-large procedure diminished the voting strength of Negro residents and violated the one man-one vote requirements, ordered the entire state redistricted with each voting district electing one representative and one senator.

In another opinion, the Court overturned 7 to 2, a decision by the West Virginia Supreme Court which struck down the state's requirement that a three-fifths majority vote was needed to approve school bond issues which would exceed a state constitutional debt limit.

Sixteen other states have similar provisions in their constitution.

The West Virginia court ruled that requiring approval by more than a simple majority was in violation of the one man-one vote concept.

Similarly the decision in the Indiana state representation case could have impact in other states, particularly Virginia where a suit affecting this year's election is in process.

Two weeks before adjourning for this term, the court took these other actions:

—Ruled, 5 to 3, that a private individual who becomes involved in a matter of public interest has no more protection against libel than a political or public figure. The decision said in such instances, the person must prove there was knowledge a libelous statement was false or with reckless disregard of whether it was false or not. This is the same yardstick the Court applied to public and political figures in past decisions.

—Agreed to decide next term whether the Wisconsin state assembly acted constitutionally by ordering the jailing of the militant Catholic priest, the Rev. James E. Groppi, on charges of contempt without giving him opportunity to defend himself from the charge.

—Let stand a lower court ruling that a rail union may call selective strikes against a few railroads in an effort to achieve a national agreement. The action opens the way for a possible strike against the Burlington Northern and the Seaboard Coast Line railroads in possibly two weeks by the United Transportation Union.

White took note of the claims that multi-member state voting districts are unconstitutional if they seem to diminish the voting strength of a minority group.

Pheasants are the most popular upland game bird in the United States.

Civil Defense Army Reserve Unit Scheduled

Army Reserve members in Marin and Southern Sonoma have been invited to join a new Civil Defense-Army Reserve unit being formed in the North Bay Area.

The unit will operate out of Santa Rosa and will consist of a captain, seven military policemen and 24 communications specialists. It will provide security and communications support for the Region Seven office of Civil Denfense in Santa Rosa.

Reserve members interested in joining should write the Commanding Officer, 6211th U. S. Army Garrison, Building 361, Presidio of San Francisco, 94129, and give details of their backgrounds, including present military occupational specialty.

Persian Rug Auction

Thursday, June 10

Holiday Inn - 7:30 p.m.

(open to inspection 5 p.m. until sale)

This is the knowledgeable way to select Oriental rugs, each a treasured art form which will appreciate in value 15% to 20% a year with good care.

Come on this exciting tour of the Middle East. Here at the Holiday Inn you will see Boharas ... Tabriz ... Kashans ... Nains ... Isfahans ... Qums ... Kermans ... Afghans ... Sarouks ... and many, many more. The Auction room will delight you with the atmosphere of Damascus and Tehran; it will shimmer with the gold and crimson of the Orient; the delicate blues and shadings of the silk in the Nains and Kashans.

There will be a great variety of rugs and colors, including runners, small and large room rugs, prayer and silk rugs.

As centuries have passed the appreciation and value of Oriental rugs have continued to rise as it would for any field or art. The Persian carpet has commonly been referred to as the stocks and bonds of Iran (Persia) and since time began they have proven to be valuable stocks for those who possess them.

The first Nomadic Tribes from the central part of Asia started weaving the wool material because of the cold climate as a means of keeping themselves warm. They represented in the designs in the rugs such animals as the lamb, tiger and zebra. These designs became the model for the Oriental rugs that are used for floor coverings. Also literature and art give us information as to how early they started using these as floor coverings.

By the 15th Century and through the 16th and 17th Centuries Italian merchants imported many Oriental rugs to the northern part of Europe and their influence can be seen in Flemish paintings.

The ancient craftsmanship of using vegetable dye colors for Persian rugs is still in practice today. For instance, one of the sources of the color red is from the root of the Madder plant. Blue is made from the Indigo plant which grows in the East Indies; green is obtained from grape leaves; brown is derived from the skins of the pomegranate, nut shells or oak bark. Black is made from the oak apple, skins of walnuts, or from iron oxide. For the grey and beige colors, undyed natural wool is used.

Inspect these fabulous floor coverings of heirloom quality, richly beautiful, each a sample of the dying craft of handweaving. Come early this Thursday (the public inspection begins at 5 p.m.) Then take advantage of the Auction which begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Holiday Inn's Bay Room. And remember that this Auction will represent considerable savings to you for these prized possessions which will grow in value.

Each rug is sold to the highest bidder. There is no minimum price which must be reached to complete a sale. You, or any member of the Auction audience open The bidding and control the sale. It is this fair procedure of Auction practice, together with the established authority of your host, W. J. Gilbert which have earned the respect and successful acceptance by the public of Mr. Gilbert's Oriental rug Auctions such as the event this Thursday at the Holiday Inn - Northgate.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Higher Rates Atop Higher Taxable Values

Revision of the assessment ratio for taxation this year means an automatic tax increase for all California property owners, even where their property has not been improved or reappraised.

By order of the state Board of Equalization — in its turn responding to legislative mandate — the assessment ratio has been increased from 23 per cent of appraised value to 25 per cent.

This represents an actual increase of 8.6 per cent in the tax bill on real property in the state — if all taxing jurisdictions were to continue the same rates they levied last year.

Added to this, of course, are improvements and reappraisals boosting property values. In Marin County, according to County Administrator Alan Bruce, the increase in the assessment role is the Equivalent of 22.8 cents on the county tax rate.

EVEN NOT ALLOWING for improvements and reappraisals, an 8.6 per cent increase in the assessed value (the figure used in levying taxes) would appear more than adequate to meet inflation. The cost of living index has not gone up that much in the last year.

This would mean that the various governing units could continue the same services as last year while keeping the same tax rates or perhaps slightly reducing them — despite the effect of inflation.

Some of them plan to do so. Others, however, are planning to levy higher tax rates on top of the higher assessed valuations, thus piling increase upon increase for the taxpayer.

THE PROPOSED BUDGET of the County of Marin calls for a 65.5 cents increase in the tax rate. If it were not for the hike in assessed valuation, the rate increase would be 88.3 cents. So what the taxpayer will have to "pungle up" if the budget is unchanged will be 88.3 cents per $100 more on last year's valuation of his property.

The county is in a tough bind because of factors it cannot control, chief among them being welfare costs (which the courts seem determined must not be reduced by any method, however sensible or equitable), the Angela Davis-Ruchell Magee murder trial, and the costly Civic Center security measures resulting from last October's bombing.

Such uncontrolled costs do not, however, enter into the picture for the cities, school districts, and special districts — except that security and insurance costs are shooting upward for the schools.

HOWEVER, WE FIND the city manager of Larkspur proposing a 10-cent increase in that city's tax rate — despite its automatic gain at last year's rate. We find the city manager of San Rafael projecting a 3.7-cent increase.

In contrast, Mill Valley's city manager has proposed a budget calling for a 12.9-cent decrease in the city tax rate. The city manager of Tiburon predicts a decrease of at least 10 cents in that city's levy. Other cities so far heard from are planning to hold to last year's rates. School district estimates have not yet appeared.

INFLATION CUSTOMARILY draws the blame for tax rate hikes. But this year, the new assessment ratio has more than taken care of inflation. Such an excuse, therefore, cannot be valid.

Taxpayers have the right to ask: Why do you want to increase the tax rate when I already must pay more because of the new assessment ratio? What additional services am I going to receive for that money? And they have a right to demand specific answers.

Quail Talking Again

The quail are talking again. This usually means their young ones have hatched. The father bird takes a sentinel position on a fence or tree limb and as the mother and babies forage, he keeps a sharp lookout for trouble and keeps up a running conversation, telling them what to do.

GOLDEN GATE VIEW

How Long Should County Pay Subsidy?

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Marin County Transit Systems Inc., despite massive transfusions of public tax funds, has failed to get off the ground with a bus transit system.

Transit inevitably requires public subsidy, and therefore should be operated by a public agency. This is about to be done by the Golden Gate Bridge District, and the district should not be burdened with any private operator.

The Marin City-based operator could survive, perhaps serving school districts and the market for charter service. If there is too little work in these operations for the firm's employees, then these men could seek jobs with the bridge district's bus system.

The firm's contract for its shoestring transit service will expire in December, neatly coinciding with the bridge district's start of bus operations.

The average expense per passenger carried on the firm's Tiburon ferry feeder bus was $1.81 in April. That is almost six times the cost reported by other bus systems.

Directors of the Marin County Transit District should stop hiding from the needed decision.

SEN. PETER H. BEHR'S bill to preserve as wild and scenic rivers the Eel, Trinity and Klamath is opposed by Norman B. Livermore Jr., secretary of the state Resources Agency.

Arguing against the bill, Livermore cited Gov. Ronald Reagan as having designated the North Coast as "the water bank of California."

This prompted a spokesman for the Sierra Club to exclaim: "Hitler called the Ukraine the bread basket of Europe; now Ike Livermore declares the North Coast the water bank of California!"

BEHR'S MANY FANS were pleased to learn that he commutes between his Sacramento apartment and capitol office on a bicycle. It fit his position as a dedicated conservationist.

It may surprise some of these fans, however, to learn that Behr simply happens to be following a tradition started by his predecessor, John F. McCarthy.

Sex Education By Another Name

Hooray for your editorial of June 1 about calling a rose by another name. Many people in the San Anselmo Elementary School District are in the dark about the new health program being prepared for use in the September school term.

Wake up, all you mothers — Family Health is the disguised name of sex education being pushed upon our children by a "parents committee" who want an aggressive sex ed program.

The responsibility to instill emphasis on sound principles or personal conduct and human relationships in our children is ours — this responsibility cannot be shifted to the schools.

The school board meeting is June 8. The board has to know our wants before they act on accepting this "proposed" health program.

Different View Of Senate Bill

Senate Bill 375, which makes it legal for a doctor or any agency to give a minor a pelvic examination, fit her for a contraceptive or prescribe the pill without parental consent, is going to the Senate floor soon on a vote.

Mrs. Irene S. Wise of San Anselmo urges you to write to your state senator for defeat of this bill on the grounds that it subverts the parent role.

Mrs. Wise seems to assume that all parents are responsible in educating their young frankly and informatively about the joys, pitfalls and responsibilities attendant on sexual maturity.

Unfortunately, the rising number of illegitimate children born to minors and the epidemic spread of VD among the young simply don't support Mrs. Wise's contention and would seem to point all too clearly to the fact that many parents are remiss in guiding their children in these or any other areas . . .

Bill 375 is a step toward a much needed, more realistic and enlightened approach to family planning. It will not subvert the role of responsible parents or even affect them or their children. It will be of help to those whose alternatives up until now have been to spread disease and produce unwanted children with resulting chaos for all.

If you agree on the pressing need for intelligent family planning I urge you to write to your state senator at the State Capitol with an urgent pleas for a yes vote on Senate Bill 375.

Social Security Benefits Increased

Wat Takeshita's article headed "Scoial Security Attacked," in the May 21 edition of the Independent-Journal, deserves a response.

Mr. Takeshita quotes Michael Mitchell, Marin County auditor-controller, as saying that "social security taxes are going up each year" and that, at the present rate of increase, employees and employers will each pay $775 in social security taxes in 1975 and $1,110 in 1977 . . .

. . . Mr. Mitchell — and Mr. Takeshita — neglected to mention that, for his social security tax dollar, each employee is getting much more than retirement insurance protection, albeit this is a major consideration. Whereas about 70 per cent of the employee's contribution is for retirement, slightly more than 30 per cent goes for current protection in the form of survivors and disability insurance benefits . . .

Finally, Mr. Mitchell's implication that retirement benefits are not commensurate with contributions and that, with projected tax levels, a worker would have to live to be 150 to recoup them in benefits is, at best, misleading . . .

Historically, social security benefits have always increased as wage levels and the cost of living have gone up. There is every reason to believe that this pattern will continue in the future.

Insuror Makes Case For No-Fault

We must take issue with Dr. Irving Pfeffer's comments on no-fault auto insurance (letter to the editor, May 24).

He implies that advocates of no-fault are conspiring to deprive accident victims of their just compensation. The truth is that no-fault is designed to guarantee every injured person full compensation for all his economic loss, without delay and without costly lawsuits.

The present liability insurance system doesn't come close to doing that. It compensates only half the injured persons. it grossly overpays the minimally injured while grossly underpaying the seriously injured. It is a system of wasteful legal and investigative costs that the public pays through higher premiums.

This is the system Dr. Pfeffer wants preserved. He and other members of the Governor's Automobile Accident Study Commission proposed (with Louis W. Niggeman, president of Fireman's Fund, dissenting) a series of minor changes (comparative negligence, higher limits of liability, etc.) that would cost the public even more money but would not get at the problems of inequity, incompleteness and delay.

The public just won't accept reforms that mean even higher insurance rates, as Dr. Pfeffer would know if he read the letters to the editor columns of the papers to which he wrote.

If no fault is a conspiracy, it is a conspiracy entered into by many prominent state legislators, by members of Congress, by the secretary of transportation, by judges,attorneys, labor unions, consumer groups and a large number of insurance companies. A recent Gallup Poll showed that people who understand no-fault favor it 4 to 1 over the present liability system.

What Russia Takes, It Keeps; That's Its 'Anti-Imperialism'

WASHINGTON — Leonid Brezhev showered praise on two Communist leaders on his recent visit to Prague to celebrate Czechoslovakia's lack of independence.

Mr. Brezhnev warmly commended himself for having originated the "Brezhnev Doctrine" by which the Soviet Union asserts the right to intervene militarily in any Communist country which acts contrary to Moscow's wishes.

Mr. Brezhnev warmly commended Gustav Husak because Husak stood up and applauded when Brezhnev told how the Red Army wrested from the Czech people the economic and political reforms of the now-deposed Dubcek government.

THE CZECHS CAN BE confident that they will not be burdened by any new reforms for some time because there are still 80,000 Russian troops in Czechoslovakia to make sure that the Husak government isn't tempted to yield to the wishes of the Czech people.

Brezhnev was addressing the nearly 3,000 delegates and guests of the 14th Czech Party Congress and he did not hesitate to warn the Czech leaders that there is only one safe road they can tread — the road that leads to and from Moscow.

The lesson which emerges from Brezhnev's bald admonitions in Prague is that what the Soviet Union wants it acts to take and what the Soviet Union takes it keeps.

AS THE FALSELY proclaimed leader of anti-imperialism, it is well not to forget Moscow's out-thrusting imperialism during the last three decades.

Between 1939, when Stalin signed the pact which helped Hitler launch World War II, and the early post-war period, the USSR annexed outright the independent Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania and seized territories of varying dimensions from five other European nations.

From Finland Russia took the Petsamo area in the north, including the ice-free port of Pechenga on the Barents Sea and additional territory along the border north of Leningrad

A large section of eastern Poland was occupied by the Russians in the partition of that country that followed the signature of the Nazi-Soviet Pact — a partition in which Poland, of course, had no say

Similarly, Russia acquired the Koenigsberg area of East Prussia from Germany, and "rewarded" Poland for the loss of its eastern territory by giving it the Oder-Neisse territory it wrested from Germany.

Then, in order to get a handy frontier passage to Czechoslovakia, through which it could invade as it did in 1968. Russia took from the Czechs the Carpatho Ukraine area known as Ruthenia.

IN OFFICIAL DECLARATIONS the Russians take great pains to stress that their territorial acquisitions were won by virtue of war. Said Brezhnev in 1969: "What the peoples won in the fire of World War II they have won forever."

This is inconsistent because a government can hardly claim to be anti-imperialist and justify its conquests of other people's territory by war. And, if this reasoning is valid, then Moscow ought to apply it to Israel's occupation of Arab territory.

The fact is that these territories acquired by Russia were either taken before the war as the result of the Stalin-Hitler deals or were seized from allies who were fighting against the Nazis. These Eastern European countries were fighting against imperialism to protect their territory and their sovereignty and found in the end that they were to lose their sovereignty and territory to an imperialist Soviet Union.

Today the Russians are still clinging to territory the czars took from China and which the Soviet Communists in 1920 promised to return.

What the Russians take they keep. That's Soviet anti-imperialism.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

Time For Friends Of Youth To Oppose Self-Destruction

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — The knee-jerk reaction — my own knee-jerk reaction, I admit it — was at first to classify what the President said as just another one of his calculated political excursions, delivered with fluttering eyelids and founded firmly on public opinion polls telling him what Middle America wants to hear.

He told his press conference: "I realize this is controversial, but I can see no social or moral justification whatever for legalizing marijuana. I think it would be exactly the wrong step. It would simply encourage more and more of our young people to start down that long dismal road that leads to hard drugs and, eventually, self-destruction."

IN FACT, I STILL think it was political and self-serving, as most politicians' volunteered statements are. But it also was dead right.

As a nonmember of the turned-on generation, I have hesitated to pass judgment on the legalization issue out of frank ignorance. I have firsthand experience with booze, but not grass, and thus have not felt I was entitled to pretend my opinion mattered.

But opinion there was, and having buttressed it with a variety of borrowed expertise and some concentrated logic of my own, I have to conclude now that it is wrong for any conscientious American to abstain from supporting the President on this. There is too much in this country today on the attitude that any law that is commonly broken should therefore be repealed. But there are much more reasonable arguments against legalization than a simple Nixon-Agnew-Mitchell law-and-order dogmatism.

The strongest is the one the President cited, that marijuana is a start down "that long dismal road that leads to hard drugs, and, eventually self-destruction."

THIS MONTH'S Commentary magazine has two hard-headed articles about drugs from two unlikely sources. They are Norman Podhoretz, the editor, who probably would confess to being a New York intellectual, and Samuel McCracken, who teaches the humanities at Reed College, a haven of advanced behavior in Portland, Ore. After making a strong case against marijuana, Podhoretz somehow abruptly winds up for legalization. But en route he writes:

"If it is true that marijuana is not necessarily habit forming, it is also true that marijuana does not necessarily lead the user into the use of heroin . . . But of course it is equally true that there are very few heroin addicts to be found . . . who did not begin by smoking marijuana, often at a relatively early age. What this means is that marijuana can and does lead to heroin in a substantial number of cases — the number being roughly equal to the number of heroin addicts among us — and what this means is that marijuana is a dangerous drug."

It has been said many times, but not often so concisely.

ONE ARGUMENT for legalization, which carries more logic than most, is that the typical progression from marijuana to heroin and other lethal drugs takes place because they exist together in the drug subculture. They are companions outside the law. Where one is available, the other is likely to be. Pushers use one as a "loss leader" to introduce users to the more expensive other Thus to legalize marijuana might be sensible. because it would separate it from heroin and make policing of hard drug abuses easier

But it would in fact be more sensible to make the penalties for marijuana possession or peddling more realistic and uniform, while regularly inflicting appropriately harsh sentences for involvement with the more advanced drugs. To legalize marijuana to be sold like tobacco would be to open an "attitudinal Pandora's box," in McCracken's words — a box "quite possibly attached to the tail of a tiger."

He suggests that if marijuana were to be sold by cigarette companies or their equivalent, it would be pushed with great vigor. "We have no reason to assume that they would by shy about trying to turn-on the underage," he goes on. and adds, "There is something a little unsettling in the picture of that much power in the hands of an industry explicitly dedicated to driving the country a little mad and something a good deal more unsettling in the industry being successful "

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

JUNE 7, 1961

A downtown revitalization program estimated to cost $3 million was proposed to the San Anselmo City Council by consultants Wilsey, Ham and Blair.

The Reed District Teachers Association presented the Reed School District board a letter saying teachers were "dissatsified with the actions, methods and procedures of the board."

20 YEARS AGO

JUNE 7, 1951

The Assembly Conservation, Planning and Public Works Committee approved, 5 to 4, a $750,000 appropriation for completing plans for a Richmond-San Rafael bridge.

Fire did $100,000 damage to the Food Bank, supermarket on Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

By Tomorrow There'll Be 8,000 More Cars On Road

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Here is a fact to ponder next time you're fighting your way home through a rush hour traffic jam:

By this time tomorrow, there'll be 8,000 more cars, trucks and buses on the road.

Admittedly, that is not a cheerful thought to roll around in your mind as your car, bus or taxi inches forward. But it's a fact whose implications Americans sooner or later must face.

THIS COUNTRY'S motor vehicle population—the total number of cars, trucks and buses registered for operation—is increasing at an average rate of 3 million a year, which figures out to a bit more than 8,000 a day.

In 1952, we had to find room on our streets and highways for 52.6 million vehicles. By 1969, just 17 years later, the figure had doubled. This year's total registration is estimated at 110 million vehicles.

To provide running room for this avalanche of automotive equipment, we are spending upwards of $15 billion a year for new highways and streets. This huge outlay enables us to pave the equivalent of 1 million acres of land each year. We now have one mild of road for every square mile of land.

LOOK AT IT another way: Americansn who comprise only 6 per cent of the world's population, drive 53 per cent of all the passenger cars and 38 per cent of all the trucks and buses in the world. To get around, we need, or feel we need, an average of one motor vehicle for every two persons. The British and West Germans get along with one vehicle for every five persons, the Italians with one for every seven persons, and the Russians make do with one vehicle for every 50 citizens.

If the quality of men's lives can be measured by the abundance of motor vehicles they possess, we Americans can lay undisputed claim to the world's highest standard of living. But is there, could there be, more to life than ceaselessly going and coming in rubbertired conveyances propelled by monoxide-belching gasoline engines?

If Americans don't begin to wrestle seriously with that very basic question, they'll wake up ere long to find it has been answered for them by default.

OUR CITIES increasingly are designed for the convenience of cars rather than people. The motor vehicle lobby already is so powerful that the nation's capital cannot obtain funds for a desperately needed subway system without throwing in a new network of freeways for autos.

To question the desirability of endlessly increasing the number of cars on the roads is regarded in some quarters as a downright un-American act.

I own a car, and as things now stand I'd be terribly inconvenienced without it. But if better mass transit facilities were provided —as they could be in every city with a fraction of our annual outlay on cars — I'd gladly accept some fairly drastic restrictions on my "right" to drive a private car into congested downtown areas. I'd even go along with a stiff federal tax on the second or third vehicle owned by any family. In fact, I'm willing to put up with any intelligent and workable social control that will spare our civilization from finally bogging down in its own automotive traffic.

OBVIOUSLY, NO ONE in his right mind would propose a ban on production of motor vehicles. They play a vital part in our national life, and their manufacture and distribution is a major industry whose economic welfare is properly of concern to all.

But to acknowledge these facts is not tantamount to saying that a large and continuing annual increase in the number of motor vehicles operating in America is necessary and desirabge.

Paris Guess: Hanoi Signal On POWs?

MONTEPLIER, Vt. (UPI)— Gov. Deane C. Davis reported Sunday North Vietnamese delegates to the Paris peace talks have promised to intercede with the Viet Cong to find out the fate of an American prisoner.

Davis said State Department officials considered the agreement unprecedented and a possible signal of a shift in negotiating tactics.

Returning home after more than a week in Europe, Davis said the North Vietnamese delegation in Paris promised they would discuss with the Viet Cong the fate of an Army major from Burlington who was captured in South Vietnam in 1964.

Davis met with the North Vietnamese officials for an hour Saturday after being rebuffed by the Viet Cong who have refused to discuss the POW issue until President Nixon announces a date for complete U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

The governor went to Paris to try to obtain information about Maj. Donald Cook and other Vermont POW's. He said he was unsuccessful in learning anything new about Cook, and he called his telephone conversation with Viet Cong officials "a very unsuccessful and unprofitable enterprise.

Both Davis and State Department officials said the agreement with the North Vietnamese was unprecedented and could signal the start of a shift in relations in the negotiations.

3 Named To All-Star Jazz Band

Three San Rafael High School musicians were named to an all-star jazz band during competition Saturday at Monterey Peninsula College, Monterey.

Named were Ray Griffin of 80 Jewell Street, who plays soprano saxophone; Barry Coates of 380 Rivera Drive, who plays guitar; and Cris Braun of 83 Chula Vista Drive, who plays vibes.

Andy Goldstein of 2 Neane Avenue was named an alternate on bass trombone.

All four are members of the high school's jazz band which placed fifth in the First California Honor High School Jazz Band competition. The contest, in which 12 schools participated, was won by Ygnacio Valley High School, Concord.

Members of the 20-member all-star band and the winning high school band will travel to Monterey in September to perform in the 14th Annual Monterey Jazz Festival.

Proposed Budget Due In Fairfax

Fairfax School District trustees will discuss the proposed budget of $1,109,000 for 1971-72 at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow at the district office at 58 Park Road.

The budget proposal is $45,000 more than this year's $1,064,000. According to Supt. H. Reginald Hammond the increase is due to higher cost of supplies, built-in salary increases and added maintenance costs.

No salary raise for staff has been included yet.

Although the budget proposal shows an increase, the tax rate may go down because of increased assessed valuation in the district, Dr. Hammond said.

Why thousands of Americans will spend $6,900 for a Mercedes-Benz that's three feet shorter than American luxury cars.

At Mercedes-Benz, we define luxury a bit differently than most automobile makers.

To our way of thinking, size for the sake of size is not luxury. It is waste.

The Mercedes-Benz 250 Sedan is three feet shorter than the shortest of the domestic luxury sedans.

"Though not a particularly big car, the accommodation is well-planned and quite roomy enough for consideration by the chauffeur-driven executive." —Motor

The engineer is king

Mercedes-Benz is one of the few automobile makers left in the world where the engineer is still king.

Design decisions are made by an engineer, not a styling whiz or a marketing wizard. At Mercedes-Benz, the engineering department still tells the sales department when a new model is ready.

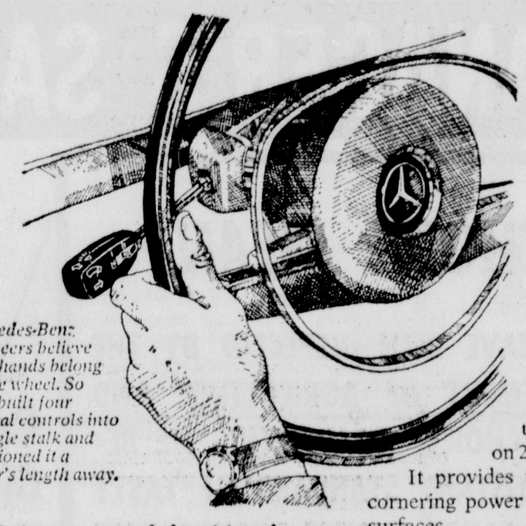
The result is an automobile that has been built to an engineering ideal.

And an automobile that is fundamentally different than any built in the States.

From oddity to necessity

To the uninitiated, this approach may appear to have disadvantages.

Your first time behind the wheel of a Mercedes-Benz is likely to produce a vague sense of disorientation.



Mercedes-Benz engineers believe both hands belong on the wheel. So they built four critical controls into a single stalk and positioned it a finger's length away.

In its recommended position, the seat seems too far from the wheel. And it's too unyielding to be called "luxurious."

But that strange seat position lets you drive with the wheel at arm's length and your back firmly against the seat's. And that gives you better control.

The "unyielding" seat, it turns out, was designed by orthopedic surgeons to give firm support. You'll appreciate it more after seven hundred miles than you do after seven.

If you press the floor switch to get your high beams, you'll get a squirt in the windshield instead.

High and low beams, turn signals, windshield wipers, and their two-speed control all can be operated without taking your hands from the wheel. Or your eyes from the road.

Such oddities, admittedly, take some getting used to. But there's a reason for every one. And, before you know it, the oddities have become necessities.

No domestic sedan...

It is at the wheel a man discovers the performance characteristics that make Mercedes-Benz unique among the world's motor cars. Mercedes-Benz engineers believe that a car's abilities should be limited only by road and conditions—not by its own design. Every Mercedes-Benz has fully independent suspension front and rear. A design concept used, without exception, on 200-mph grand prix cars.

No domestic sedan has it.

Every Mercedes-Benz is equipped with four massive disc brakes. Standard, not optional. Because, to our way of thinking, it's unthinkable to relegate the best brakes you can build to the option list.

No domestic sedan has them on all four wheels.

And every Mercedes-Benz has a steering system so precisely balanced that the car seeks a straight path on its own.

No domestic sedan can match it.

Join the club

But the final word on the distinction between Mercedes-Benz and domestic luxury cars belongs to a group of Mercedes-Benz owners.

Owners so enthusiastic that they've formed thirty-two chapters of the Mercedes-Benz Club of America.

Each year they hold more than 60 local competitions and 3 national rallies.

It's their opportunity, in performance events, to extend their cars to the limits of which a Mercedes-Benz is capable.

Not everyone joins the club.

Mercedes-Benz owners who rally their cars are a relatively small share of our owners. But, then, no domestic luxury car even has a club.

Our pursuit of engineering ideals has placed Mercedes-Benz automobiles among the world's most costly.

With such popular options as power steering, white sidewall tires, and radio with rear-seat speaker, you can spend over $6,900.

And thirteen of our models cost more, including the 300SEL 6.3—dubbed by Road & Track "merely the world's greatest sedan..."—at $16,355†.

But if your tastes do not run to the conventional luxury car, we think you'll find Mercedes-Benz automobiles well worth the price you pay.

MARTIN AND Edith Roach enjoy looking through the cards and notes from longtime friends congratulating them on their 50th wedding anniversary at the home they purchased in San Rafael in 1942. They were married in Auburn in 1921.

GOLDEN WEDDING

A Busy Year For San Rafael Couple

It's been a big year for Martin and Edith Roach of San Rafael. In January their first great-grandchild, Elizabeth McDowell, was born; Roach celebrated his 80th birthday in February, and in May they celebrated their golden wedding.

"Looking ahead, it seems like a long time, but 50 years have gone very fast," Mrs. Roach says about their marriage. Her advice to couples being married now — "Take each day as it comes and try to do your best."

THOUGH THEIR anniversary was May 11, the couple celebrated at a reception and open house at Bermuda Palms Hotel in San Rafael on May 23 and are still receiving cards of congratualtions from friends and relatives, and proudly display their money tree gift and cards at their home at 108 Greenfield Avenue.

Mrs. Roach was born Edith Gildersleeve in Auburn in 1893 and lived near there until 1921, working for the Post Office. Although Mr. Roach was born in Montgomery, Minn., he came to San Francisco in 1912 and the couple met in Sacramento at a boarding home where Mrs. Roach was living while attending business school and where he had previously lived.

"He came there to visit friends and we met," Mrs. Roach explains.

THE COUPLE was married in St. Joseph's Church in Auburn in 1921 and went to live in San Francisco, where Roach was employed with the Pacific Gas Heating Co. He had previously been with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in Sacramento, then joined the Army during World War I.

He fought in Europe, especially France, with the 91st Division, he says proudly, and returned to San Francisco in 1919.

After the couple's marriage they lived in San Francisco until 1938, when Mr. Roach became a civilian employee at Hamilton Field. He served as supervisor of its heating department until retirement 10 years ago.

NOW HE grows flowers, vegetables and tends his orchard at the home the couple bought in 1942. He is the oldest member of the Knights of Columbus here, "60 years," he says, and is a member also of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and Service (Seniors in Retirement). He also belongs to the 91st Division Association.

The couple's daughter, Mrs. Phyllis McDowell, and their grandsons, Marty and Danny, also live in San Rafael. And, of course, their great-granddaughter Elizabeth.

Rib Roasts

The best value in rib roasts is the seven-inch roast, even though price per pound is higher, says Dr. Robert Mandigo, extension meat specialist at the University of Nebraska.

Big For Fall Season

Country maid dresses will be big in swinging London in the fall, according to the British Consul General's office in San Francisco. These two cotton garments in a kaleidoscope of colored prints were designed by Chester Marin of London and are being shown during the Salesman's Fashion Guild Market Week at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco. The midi dress (left) has a smocked bodice in a floral print which is reflected again in the cotton coat. The country maid dress (right) has a ruched overskirt and sleeves. Both are worn with outsize mob caps.

Sorority Has New Officers

Mrs. Robert H. Campillo of Petaluma has been installed president of Gamma Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi for the year.

A two-year member of the group, Joan Campillo served as the chapter social chairman last year. She says that the chapter plans to assist the Petaluma Boys Club next year, although the plans are indefinite, and will sponsor a carnival and car wash session to raise funds.

Mrs. Campillo is also active in McDowell School Parent-Teacher Association in Petaluma, having served as its Newsette chairman and auditor.

A native of Uniontown, Wash., Joan Campillo attended Analy High School in Sebastopol and Ursuline High School in Santa Rosa and Burroughs Business Machines School in San Francisco. She has lived in Sonoma County for 25 years.

Mrs. Campillo and her children, Michael, 10; Mark, 9 and Michelle, 7. Among her hobbies she lists swimming, softball, sewing and painting.

Keynoter To Give Talk Tomorrow

I-J Special Report

PITTSBURGH — William D. Ruckelshaus, administrator for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, will be the keynote speaker for the annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at the Hilton Hotel tomorrow.

The convention will continue through Thursday for the General Federation, which represents 11 million clubwomen internationally and most of Marin's largest women's clubs.

Mrs. Earle A. Brown, federation president, will be honored at a banquet tonight, and the Junior Clubs will present their program Wednesday.

Production Of Farm Goods Up

During the 1960s, production of farm goods in the United States rose 20 per cent even though tillable acreage decreased 6 per cent and the number of farms decreased 26 per cent, according to the National Livestock and Meat Board. Output per man-hour on farms increased 82 per cent.

With less land and fewer farms, increased output has been made possible through greater agricultural production efficiencies — scientific control of diseases, pests and weeds; better land and water management; genetic development of improved, high-quality foods; land fertilization; and faster growth of farm products.

Through modern technology, one United States farmer today is able to provide food and fiber for 43 other people in this country and throughout the world.

Give Wood A Good Cleaning Yearly

To give wood a complete cleaning once or twice a year, it is necessary to remove the built-up layers of wax or polish entirely. After washing, use a clean cloth dampened with mineral spirits or a synthetic turpentine with an oily base. To clean crevices and carvings use a pointed stick wrapped with cotton or soft cloth that has been dampened with mineral spirits. Wipe off and dry one section at a time.

Food Quack

The food quack is out to make a profit at the expense of your health, so learn to recognize him, suggests the Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Nebraska. Check his terminology and watch for such phrases as "wonder foods," "miracle foods," "nature's own foods," "food cures."

Sausalito Women's Club Gives Two Scholarships

The winners, Ann Carr and Susan Gosher, are also best friends and intend to room together at Sonoma State College when they enter next fall.

Ann plans to become a biologist or elementary school science teacher. The daughter of Mrs. Alvin B. Carr of Sausalito, she studied ballet for many years and has appeared in San Francisco productions of "The Nutcracker" and "Swan Lake." She has been a teacher's aide at Edna Maguire and Park Schools and is now employed in Mill Valley until college opens.

Susan, a lifelong Sausalito resident, is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Mills Goshen. Interested in elementary school teaching, sociology and psychology, she has been a teacher's aide at Marin Terrace School in Mill Valley the past school year.

She traveled through Europe last year and from her babysitting and office work earnings will study at the art school in San Miguel de Allende in Mexico for six weeks this summer.

How To Create A Bright Sunny Look

A window washing session will brighten the whole house and give a lift to your spirits, too. Add a little ammonia to a pail of warm suds; use a sponge to wash the panes. Drying with crumpled newspaper creates a sparkling, streak-free finish, says the Cleanliness Bureau.

Vows Are Exchanged At Deer Park Villa

Newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harry Ballou are living in San Anselmo following their wedding May 29 in the garden of Deer Park Villa in Fairfax.

After the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip to Mendocino.

The bride, the former Jean Mae Conklin of San Anselmo, chose her sister Patricia Conklin as maid of honor and Jackie Colton of Greenbrae as the bridesmaid.

Jean, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin R. Conklin of San Anselmo, is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School. She attended the College of Marin and is employed with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in San Francisco.

She is the sister of Mrs. Wesley Olson Jr. and Janet Conklin of San Rafael, Mrs. Ralph De La Montanya of Novato, Ronald Conklin of Fort Banning, Ga., and Patricia Conklin. Mr and Mrs. Alvin Quaini and Mrs. Ruth Conklin are her grandparents.

Robert is the son of Robert M. Ballou of King City and Mrs. Hazel O. Ballou of San Anselmo. Employed in Marin as a carpenter, he was graduated from Redwood High School and attended the College of Marin.

San Anselmo Police Chief Is Married

San Anselmo Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani and Mrs. Beatrice Wilmes of Fairfax were married in Carson City, Nev., on May 28.

After their marriage the couple drove to Mendocino to spend a few days at Heritage House and then on to Gold Beach, Ore., before returning to Marin Friday.

The couple will make their home in Fairfax. It is a second marriage for both.

Teach Safety Rules At An Early Age

Some safety rules are basic — teach your child how to cross the street when he is young by setting a good example yourself, says the Health Insurance Institute.

Remind the youngster when he or she is about to cross a street to look in both directions and to walk, not run. Instruct him never to run from behind parked cars and always to get out of the car on the sidewalk side. Speak matter-of-factly so the child does not become panicky about crossing streets, the institute advises.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Victim Of Nervous Breakdown Pleads For Family's Sympathy

DEAR HELEN:

Many years ago a relative suffered a nervous breakdown. We tried sympathy, then being stern. Nothing helped. Finally we gave up in disgust and ignored her, as we felt most of it was an act and she w a s n ' t t r y i n g to get well. We were angry because she was ruining the happiness of all of us.

I can now understand what she suffered, for in the past 12 years I have had two breakdowns. Only those who have gone through this hell on earth can comprehend what it's like.

Worst of all, you're aware of what is happening and can't control it. Your emotions run wild and the harder you fight them, the more exhausted you are, so in your weakened condition, they really take over.

There's a fear so intense it's terrifying, and death would seem a blessing. Sometimes you appear calm to others, but inside a battle rages. You sit still from panic: If you start screaming, you might never stop!

Psychiatry didn't help. I had to go it alone, and I made it, just barely. But there's always that fear it will happen again — that "hanging on to yourself," watching for the first symptom.

I'm writing this, Helen, because I see o t h e r s "on the verge," and see their confused and often resentful families turning away. These (we) people need symphony as much as we need air. We need someone to understand and love us, to put their arms around us and let us know they'll stand by.

Mental illness is a terrifying thing. We can't cope, hope, or fight it alone. Yet more often than not, we're forced to. — A.D.

DEAR A.:

Let's take your excellent letter one step further: If love, understanding and real communication were ALWAYS present in the family, the incidence of nervous breakdowns might decrease by at least three-fourths. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I was healthy, pretty and 20 when my mother became ill. The other five children were married or about to be, so that left me to care for her and Dad. I quit my job and became a nurse at home.

After her death, my father was ailing, so for seven years I cared for him. I had no social life and no friends.

Dad's death turned me toward a job, but by now the years had taken their toll. Due to my poor health, I am without work for long periods, and my income won't stretch.

What do I hear from my married sisters and brothers? "You can't expect us to s u p p o r t you!" "Why on earth don't you find a husband?" They forget that during the "man-finding" years I was doing my duty — which they nelected.

Am I to be tossed aside like an orphan, now when I need their help? —WEARY

DEAR WEARY:

You d i d n ' t say, but I'm guessing you're under 40 — with half of your life still to live. True, the first half wasn't roses, but the future needn't be all thorns.

W h a t you need is "adjustment time" — a year perhaps to build up your physical and mental health so that you can face freedom and enjoy it.

I believe your family will finance this sabbatical, if you show your determination to become a new woman. Why not ask them? — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Insurance Mail Ads—Watch Out

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — The advertising for one company's health insurance policy sounds attractive:

"Maximum policy benefits for hospital care $5,000, for death from natural cause $10,000, for accidental death $20,000. The big family plan for only $6.25 monthly."

But a close reading of the policy later after payment is made would show that the total amount payable for hospital care in any year is limited to $500 for any one person.

The p o l i c y also limits the payment for any death from natural causes to $2,000 and limits payment for each accidental death to $4,000. An accidental death also must occur independently of any other cause w i t h i n 90 days of the accident.

Another catch is that the full benefits are not available until the policy has been in effect for a certain period of time.

One company mails advertising claiming:

"YOU GET AN IRON-CLAD guarantee which pays you at the rate of $1,000 cash a month beginning the first day for your full stay in any hospital due to accidental injury . . . There are no gimmicks, no exceptions, no exclusions, no limitations, no waiting periods, no ifs, ands or buts."

But a close reading of the policy will reveal plenty of gimmicks and limitations. No policy exists w i t h o u t s o m e restrictions.

The most common — and potentially the biggest restriction — i s a c l a u s e in the policy excluding payment for a certain period for anything that can be traced to a physical ailment that existed before the policy went into effect.

TO PROTECT ITSELF, the company usually requires a policyholder to confess his physical record back to childhood and to state his general condition.

Even the most honest policyholder, however, may not be able to describe his true condition. He may already have a problem developing but not yet apparent to him or his doctor. Yet he may not be eligible for benefits if the company determines it stems from a prior condition.

If a policyholder neglects to include anything in his past record, he may find after many years of premiums that the company will refuse payment because a "pre-existing condition" had not been mentioned on the application form.

THESE ARE ONLY a few of the traps awaiting people who buy insurance by mail. There are many legitimate firms that operate by mail, but it is difficult to tell from advertising brochures which are telling the truth and which are not.

One problem is that regulation of the insurance industry is entrusted to the states which vary greatly in their standards and vigor in monitoring activities.

THE ONLY AREA of federal regulation is in advertising. But the Federal Trade Commission, the agency with jurisdiction over false advertising in interstate commerce, has insufficient funds and personnel to police this huge, thriving industry.

So it has tried another approach: warning consumers of pitfalls. Its latest warning comes in p a m p h l e t called "Mail Order Insurance." It is free from the FTC, Washington, D.C. 20580.

Opening's For Museum Docents

For the f i r s t time in two years the Docent Council of the DeYoung Museum and the Palace of hte Legion of Honor has openings for trainees as museum docents. Many Marin residents were t r a i n e d in the sessions earlier and have been serving as v o l u n t e e r tour guides of the art collections.

Three sections for trainees will open the week of Sept. 12, Chinese art history, history Western art and e t h n i c art. The Chinese and Wester art courses will last 26 seeks, while the new ethnic program studying the arts of Africa, the Pacific, the American Indian, Meso-America and Peru will be held for 14 weeks, prior to the opening of this collection in a new gallery of the De Young Museum.

College credit will be extended through Lone Mountain College. Volunteers may enroll in June through the Docent Council office, De Young Museum.

Don't Mind Look

Don't worry if the meat around the bones of some chickens looks reddish brown even after cooking. It's safe to eat, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture poultry inspectors. Broiler-fryers tend to show this effect because they're marketed young, at 6 to 8 weeks. Their bone marrow has not fully hardened, and the red blood cells seep into the surrounding meat, causing a deep red or brown color.

Working Wife

According to one survey, reported by University of Nebraska home economists, the wife working outside the home spends five hours a day in household work. This compares to an average of eight hours per day on housework for homemakers who are not employed outside the home.

FIFTY YEARS ago Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Russell of San Anselmo were married in Stockton. The golden wedding anniversary was celebrated Saturday at a reception in this honor hosted by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lewis of San Rafael. The wedding took place June 4, 1921.

Russells Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Russell of San Anselmo celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday at a reception in their honor hosted by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lewis, at the Lewises' home in San Rafael.

The Russells were married June 4, 1921, in Stockton, where Mrs. Russell, the former Gladys T u r n e r, was born and reared. Mr. Russell is a native of London and came to Ontario, Canada, as a young boy. He went to Stockton in 1920 to see a friend, and the friend introduced the couple.

Following their marriage the Russells moved to Oakland for three years and then to San Francisco, where they lived until moving to Marin in 1956.

O l i v e Lewis is their only child. They are the grandparents of Troy Lewis Jr. of San Rafael, Mrs. George Menzies (Diane Lewis) of Fairfax and 9-year-old Megan Lewis.

Both of the Russells retired from business eight years ago. They enjoy t a k i n g trips by automobile, Russell being a devoted fisherman. Mrs. Russell's hobby is bridge.

Return Of Cloth Napkins Is Forecast

We may see a return of cloth table napkins for informal family use in the home, if Paul Swatek, author of the "User's Guide to the Protection of the Environment" has his way.

Writing on ecology in Mademoiselle, Swatek suggests the image of "consumer" can be changed to "user" by buying durable, not disposable products, and by avoiding anything that cannot be recycled. This will l e s s e n the amount of wastes, says Swatek.

The Spending Habits Of Boys And Girls

NEW YORK (UPI)—Here's money information — from Purdue University economists who analyzed spending patterns of a group of boys and girls in grades eight through 12.

The spending ranged from $3 to $10 a week and two-thirds of the youngsters had part time jobs. More than two-fifths were employed five hours or more a week during the school year. Allowances were a more common source of money in the lower than in the higher grades.

10 reasons why this free test can help your child this summer.

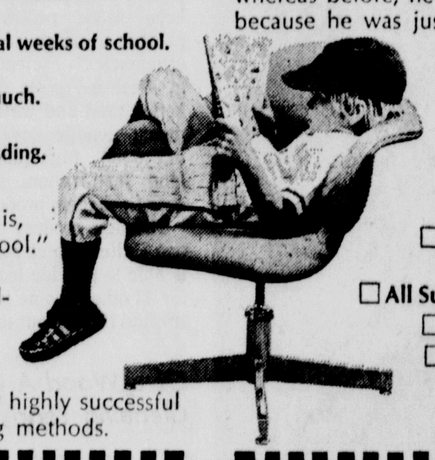
1. Your child is an "A" student making "C" grades.
2. Your child watches too much TV.
3. Your child says, "I have nothing to do."
4. Your child says, "I can't do it."
5. Your child says, "Everybody's ahead of me in class."
6. Your child has been called a "slow learner."
7. Your child gets low grades in conduct.
8. Your child had to skip several weeks of school.
9. Your child daydreams too much.
10. Your child doesn't enjoy reading.

What your child may be saying is, "I wish I could do better in school." You can help your child by enrolling him in the Sullivan Reading Center Summer School Program. The Center offers accelerated learning programs in Math and Reading using the highly successful Sullivan programmed teaching methods.

What Parents say about the Sullivan Program:

Mrs. Henry Tiedemann, San Rafael, Ca.: Daniel shows improvement, most important of all to us, in his attitude toward scholastic studies. He seems more serious and thorough while doing homework and research for projects. What he developed in Reading at the Center seems to be carrying over into his other school subjects.

Mrs. Charles Wendell, San Francisco, Ca.: Private tutoring, interest in the child and patience with the children is a virtue with the Sullivan Centers. Troy has developed confidence in himself now to the point where he will try to read anything; whereas before, he was afraid to say the word because he was just guessing. The teachers at Sullivan treat these children as if they were their own.



Benefits of the Sullivan Program

- ☐ Parents receive home evaluation checklist

Can Opener Tip

Pan To Use

Recipes give size and sometimes the shape of the pan to use. To find the size, measure the pan at the top from the inside of the rim on one side to the inside rim on the other side. Measure the depth of the pan by holding the ruler straight up and down beside the pan.

Asparagus Tips

When buying fresh asparagus, look for stalks that are cold and have a moist butt end. Keep the stalks cold and moist until cooking time. Standard size stalks run about 15 or 16 per pound, and 1 pound serves three persons.

Read Instructions

Read carefully instructions that accompany any small or major appliance you purchase. After learning how to operate same properly you will also save time by using the right method of cleaning.

Use Latex Paint

Clean-up is easy when you use latex paint. After squeezing excess paint from brushes or rollers in water, get them really clean and softly flexible by washing in a pail of warm suds. Riinse again and hang to dry, bristles down for brushes.

Pre-Test Wax

Pre-test any new wax or polish on an inconspicuous area of furniture. The wrong type of product can sometimes change the finish, affect the color or just prove unsatisfactory and require complete removal.

Band Music Livens Up An Evening

MUSIC REVIEW

Concert Of Singing Deserves A Bravo!

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

There's no better way to spend a spring evening than listening to good band music. This was the case Saturday night as the College of Marin Community Band presented its annual spring concert.

Playing before nearly a full house in the college's Fine Arts Theater, conductor John H. Myers presented a balanced program to display the ensemble's better qualities.

After a somewhat unsteady beginning in Richard Wagner's "Prelude to Die Meistersinger," arranged by Theodore Moses-Tobani, the band settled down by the second half with the evening's highlight, "Concerto for Timpani and Brass" by Jaromir Weinberger, featuring Terry Bozzio on the timpani.

Young Bozzio is an exceptionally fine percussionist. He has an excellent feeling with the timpani, and Myer's brass section rose to the occasion, backing Bozzio with fine shadings in the three-part concerto.

Also on the percussion, one of the band's strongest units, had a field day in John Barnes Chance's "Variations on a Korean Folk Song." The quality of the woodwinds in this selection helped counter some weaker playing in the lower brass.

What band concert is a concert without a Sousa march? True to Myer's programming, he selected the "New Mexico March" by the famed composer.

Other selections on the program included "Giles Farnaby Suite," 11 compositions written in the mid-16th Century and transcribed by band by Gordon Jacob, and Aaron Copland's "An Outdoor Overture." It has a true Compland sound, full of percussion dynamics and a rousing conclusion.

It is indeed fortunate that the college has an outlet, especially designed for this type of music and Myers should be congratulated for the high caliber of musicianship he gets from his ensemble. JW

One of the highlights of any musical season in Marin has always been the annual spring College of Marin Community Chorus and Collegiate Chorale concerts.

And last night was no exception to the rule as Dr. S. Drummond Wolff presented the two ensembles, plus four guest soloists, in works by Gounod and Rossini before a full house in the college's Fine Arts Theater.

Shouts of bravo rang through the theater as Dr. Wolff's baton fell on the towering "Stabat Mater" by Rossini, which is considered one of the finest of all choral works, sharing equal status with Haydn's "The Creation."

And rightly so for the ensemble caught the spirit of the "Stabat Mater" from the opening bass choral passage to the towering final "amen."

As usual Dr. Wolff selected his soloists for the agility of their voices individually as well as collectively. And it paid off handsomely in the "sancta mater" which captures Rossini at his best and reminds this reviewer of the intricate quartet passages found in the composer's opera, "The Barber of Seville."

So equal were the soloists that each demands an individual bravo. They were Meg Broughton, soprano; Donna Petersen, contralo; Paul Raabe, tenor, and Richard Clark, bass.

It is seldom that I have found this "equalness" in guest soloists, but it shows the quality of musicianship that can be found in the Bay Area.

Playing equal importance in the "Stabat Mater" was the small orchestra with some very familiar musical names in Marin, including violinist Charles Meacham, cellist Jean Mitchell, her husband, violist Lucien Mitchell and the college's young timpanist, Terry Bozzio. It's too bad the program did not note the orchestra's personnel.

In contrast to the 'lively' ''Stabat Mater, Gounod's "Saint Cecilia Mass" is more somber in nature, but still an excellent selection for any program. The highlight of the seven-part mass is the "credo in unum Deum" which gives the chorus a chance to almost nearly shout the exaltations, intertwined with soprano, tenor and bass solo passages with the orchestra.

While it is not a showpiece "Stabat Mater" scope, it places great demands on the choral passages — handled expertly by the chorus of nearly 200 voices.

It is a shame that such a concert as last evening's is a once only thing, for such excellent music should be heard by a larger segment of the Marin musical going community.

Rowers To Try Again Friday

ENSENADA, Mexico (UPI) — Two British adventurers, their first attempt to row across the Pacific Ocean aborted by stormy seas, plan to try again Friday.

John Fairfax and Sylvia Cook said they spent most of the first few weeks of the initial journey lashed together because of high waves and winds.

"I was seasick every day for the first week,'' said the 31-year-old Miss Cook, who cannot swim. "My teeth never stopped chattering. And I will admit I was scared."

Beautification Chairmen Picked

Gene F. O'Connor has been appointed chairman of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce beautification committee.

O'Connor, an insurance broker, said emphasis will be placed on highway improvements and entrances to downtown.

O'Connor will serve as the chamber's representative on the San Rafael City Council's beautification committee.

Property Split Plea On Agenda

Ross Town Council will consider a request to split the Robert N. Pomeroy property at Pomeroy and Newell roads into three parcels, at the council's regular meeting, 8 p.m. Thursday in the town hall.

The division would result in a 1.58-acre parcel within San Anselmo city limits, but fronting on Crest Road in Ross; the 3.19-acre home parcel including the residence, pool and garage, lying partly within San Anselmo, San Rafael and Ross, and a third, one-acre parcel entirely in Ross.

Also on the agenda are formal adoption of the ordinance changes setting a $100 fine for a false fire alarm due to malfunctions detectors or other causes, and banning parking on certain streets. The council will discuss the Yellow Cab Co. request for a rate increase, and the Marin Kidney Foundation request for permission to hold a fund-raising plant sale on the Ross Common.

Benefit Increase Due Lagunitas Study

The Lagunitas School District board, meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at San Geronimo Valley school, will consider increased medical and health benefits for district employees.

Also on the agenda is study of a preliminary budget and a closed session to consider teacher requests for salary increases.

Park Officials Urge Campers To Reserve Soon

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The State Department of Parks and Recreation has advised campers wishing to stay in a state park campground over the three-day Fourth of July weekend to get their reservations in early.

The department said nearly all southern and central coastal beach parks are filled by advance reservations as are many of the northern and southern mountain parks and central redwood parks.

Campers may reserve state park campsites at any of the more than 230 Ticketron agencies in California.

75 House Members Getting Labor Money

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA) says 78 House members received more than $5,000 each in labor contributions to finance last year's elections.

ACA, a conservative organization, said a total of $1,521,939 was contributed to House candidates. More than $1 million of the amount went to 113 candidates —78 who won and 35 who lost.

ACA said its research staff assembled the list from reports filed with the clerk of the House under federal law and, where required, with state and county offices. Some states do not have campaign finance reporting laws, and federal laws do not purport to cover all contributions.

Thirty winners and 10 losers —all Democrats —received more than $10,000, according to the ACA list.

Those who received between $5,000 and $10,000 included 48 winners and 25 losers.

Only three were Republicans —Rep. Paul N. McCloskey, Calif., $6,015; Rep. Thomas M. Pelley, Wash., $5,950, and Barry Farber, $5,820, GOP and Liberal party nominee, defeated by Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y.

David A. Tunno, loser to Rep. Victor V. Veysey, R-Calif., $23,075; Rep. Lee Aspin, $20,119; Rep. Lloyd Meed, Wash., $19,010; Rep. John F. Seiberling, Ohio, $18,070; Nino Green, beaten by Rep. Philip E. Ruppe, R-Mich., $15,600; Reps. Claude Pepper, Fla., and Edward A. Garmatz, Md., $15,450 each; former Rep. Jacob H. Gilbert, defeated in the New York Democratic primary, $15,150, and Rep. John C. Culver, Iowa, $15,100.

Previously, the ACA had circulated a list showing that labor affiliates had contributed $1,767,044 in 1970 to Senate candidates —33 Democrats, seven Republicans and one independent.

Captain Plans Test Case In Peace March

LAKENHEATH, England (UPI)—U.S. Air Force Capt. Thomas Culver, a military lawyer in the judge advocate's office, says he plans to make a test case asserting his right to participate in peace demonstrations.

Culver, 34, of Santa Barbara, Calif., was restricted to his base last week and said Sunday night he expects to be court martialed.

Culver, a Vietnam veteran with only 11 weeks to go to complete his six-year hitch in the service, was among several hundred U.S. servicemen who delivered antiwar petitions last Monday to the U.S. embassy in London.

He said he was taken from his apartment at midnight Thursday and put under a "state of arrest" on the Lakenheath base, the largest U.S. Air Force base in Britain.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER — Jed Barahal, 15, of 420 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, has been awarded the Marin Symphony Guild's $500 memorial scholarship. A cellist, he performed Saturday in a noontime concert at the Crown Zellerbach Plaza, San Francisco.

Reading Signups Set In Sausalito

Signups will be held at the Sausalito Library beginning June 14 for the annual summer reading program. This year's theme is mythical monsters, from unicorns to basilisks.

Librarian Pat Shepard said each child will be issued a hunting license entitling him to cage not more than two monsters per week for conservation purposes.

Ten Democrats Offer Peace Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Ten House Democrats, in a bill being introduced today, proposed an immediate cease-fire in Vietnam followed by a total and speedy withdrawal of U.S. troops from Indochina.

Rep. John G. Dow, D-N.Y., author of the measure, said the bill would require a cease-fire within 48 hours of enactment of the measure which would require Senate and presidential approval.

Apartment Plan To Be Presented

The plan by McSweeney and Schuppel calls for the units to be constructed at the southwest corner of Ignacio Boulevard and Alameda Del Prado.

The planning staff has recommended a maximum of 184 units.

The commission will meet at 8 p.m. at the community house.

Highway, Cigarette Revenues Shared

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Apportionment of highway and cigarette tax revenue for May to Marin and Southern Sonoma cities was announced today by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy.

In Marin, the county's share of highway taxes was $124,973. The cities' apportionments were: Belvedere, $2,087; Corte Madera, $6,012; Fairfax, $5,373; Larkspur, $7,208; Mill Valley, $8,802; Novato, $20,530; Ross, $2,180; San Anselmo, $8,860; San Rafael, $25,706; Sausalito, $4,398, and Tiburon, $4,431.

In Sonoma, the county received $172,807 and city shares were: Cotati, $1,301; Petaluma, $18,099, and Rohnert Park, $4,442.

Marin County's share of cigarette taxes was $5,983; and city shares were: Belvedere, $611; Corte Madera, $4,691; Fairfax, $1,995; Larkspur, $3,330; Mill Valley, $4,290; Novato, $9,369; Ross, $622; San Anselmo, $4,017; San Rafael, $21,659; Sausalito, $3,276, and Tiburon, $1,978.

In Sonoma, the county received $21,404 in cigarette tax revenue and city shares were: Cotati, $572; Petaluma, $9,466, and Rohnert Park, $1,748.

Flournoy also announced payment of the first quarterly apportionment of revenues from the new highway carriers' uniform business license tax. The tax assesses carriers a license fee equal to one-tenth of 1 per cent of their gross operating revenues.

Proceeds are distributed among cities in the proportion of each city's population to the total population of all cities in the state.

In Marin, the shares were: Belvedere, $34; Corte Madera, $115; Fairfax, $70; Larkspur, $140; Mill Valley, $173; Novato, $415; Ross, $36; San Anselmo, $146; San Rafael, $519; Sausalito, $75, and Tiburon, $77.

In Sonoma, the shares were: Cotati, $18; Petaluma, $344, and Rohnert Park, $81.

Inverness Group Seeking To Fix Up Boathouse

The Inverness Improvement Association wants to use the old Brock Schreiber boathouse on Tomales Bay as a community meeting hall.

Igor Sazevich, architect for the improvement association, will appear before the Marin County Fill Committee Thursday afternoon to ask for permission to repair the old boathouse in Inverness.

The architect also plans to build parking places and a turnaround along the shoreline.

The fill committee will meet at 3 p.m. Thursday in Room 426 at the Marin Civic Center.

Another item on the fill committee's agenda is a request by Neil M. Buchan of Santa Rosa to cultivate oysters in 42 acres of water on the north shore of Tomales Bay between Tom's Point and Vincent Landing. Buchan wants to install a stingray fence and about 5,000 wooden stakes to support baskets in which oysters are cultivated.

The Marin County Fill Committee formerly met at irregular intervals, but will meet regularly hereafter on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 3 p.m. at the Civic Center. Committee members are the county public works director, planning director, and the parks and recreation director.

Irving L. Schwartz, land development engineer in the department of public works, is executive director of the committee.

School Budget On Tap Today

The Mill Valley School District board, meeting at 8 p.m. today at Park School, will discuss a tentative $3,423,000 budget, up from this year's $3,257,655 budget.

Also on the agenda is approval of dental and health insurance plans for teachers and a report on conditions under which the Reed School District will accept a proposed 624-unit apartment project which the Mill Valley district has said it cannot service.

After the regular meeting the board will meet in closed session to discuss contract negotiations with teachers.

Merger Of Health Units Is Endorsed

A task force of the Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council has endorsed the merger of all county health and medical services into one county department.

James F. Reed, San Anselmo city councilman and chairman of the committee, said, that the task force failed, however, to agree on the administrative relationship below Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

The proposed merger would place Dr. Donovan O. Cooke at the top of the new department with Dr. Albrecht as health officer and Dr. John S. Guerrant as program chief for mental health services.

Still unclear in the recommendation is what will be Dr. Albrecht's position with regard to such services as family planning, tuberculosis and veneral disease clinics. She now heads these services.

The new department was proposed last month by Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella.

The proposal came in the wake of accusations of mismanagement in Dr. Albrecht's department by County Administrator Alan Bruce who asked that she be fired.

Dr. Albrecht was subsequently upheld by the Board of Supervisors, and Bruce resigned under fire following the incident.

The task force's report is due to be discussed by the Comprehensive Health Planning Council at a meeting at 8 a.m. Wednesday in Room 255 of the Hall of Justice.

Baar Appeal On Cost Of Angela Trial

The chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors has issued an appeal to civic organizations throughout Marin asking them to help in an effort to get the state to assume costs of the Davis-Magee trial.

Louis H. Baar said in a letter to the organizations that "all the taxpayers of Marin are faced with costs conservatively estimated at over $1 million."

These costs would include pretrial proceedings, jury selection, trial, defense attorneys for Magee, security, crowd control and possibly, jury sequestration, Baar said.

Since the state has so far denied any financial responsibility, Baar urged that letters be sent to Governor Reagan, Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger, Sen. Peter H. Behr and Assemblyman William T. Bagley.

Fire Site Cleanup Under Way

Crews today began cleaning up wreckage from the Duracite Manufacturing Co. plant at 121-123 Jordan Street in San Rafael that burned in an explosive fire Friday.

Damage was estimated at $145,000 in the blaze which was fed by exploding drums of acetone solvent and quantities of resin that Duracite used in manufacturing imitation marble sinks.

Cause of the fire remained undetermined today while San Rafael Fire Marshal Kenneth Mazza, assisted by other departments' officials, combed the ruins.

The flames which briefly threatened to spread to neighboring buildings in the San Rafael industrial district drew thousands of spectators to the scene.

The firm's employees had closed up shop at 4:30 p.m. only 15 minutes before the acetone drums exploded.

It is not known how much insurance was carried on the stock or the building; F. John Dreyfous of Belvedere, president of the firm, could not be reached today.

He previously estimated damage to the 10-year-old building at $85,000 and at $60,000 to the stock. The building is owned by Homer C. Rickards of San Rafael.

Zoning Request Before Council

A rezoning request for an 82-acre residential development will be considered at the Rohnert Park City Council meeting at 7 p.m. today.

A public hearing will be held on the request of Debra Homes, Inc. to rezone 82 acres to multi-family residential planned-development district. The land is located north of the Rohnert Park Expressway, south of Hinebaugh Creek and west of Snyder Lane.

The council will also consider the filing of an application for a grant from the Department of Commerce to finance construction of an overpass of Highway 101 at the Rohnert Park Expressway.

Missing Marin Poet Turns Up

I-J Special Report

NEVADA CITY — Marin City poet Lew Welch, who once described himself as a "former hermit," has returned to this tiny mountain community after being reported missing and feared dead since May 23.

"He was in town Tuesday, conducted some business and left again," said Undersheriff Frank Gallino. "We are no longer looking for him."

The 44-year-old Beat Generation poet left a note two weeks ago saying he thought himself a failure and he was planning to take his own life.

Massive searches over the rough Sierra Mountains by sheriff's deputies, family and friends failed to locate him. The search was called off a day before he returned.

Gallino said he didn't know where Welch had gone or why.

Hit-And-Run Driving Case Due Today

A 37-year-old Novato man, arrested on suspicion of hit-and-run driving involving injury, reckless driving and resisting arrest, was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Novato police said they arrested Wayne Oliver Walton of 400 Alameda Del Prado Friday after he left the scene of an accident in which he was involved at Novato Boulevard and Wilson Avenue.

Walton's car struck the rear of a car driven by Edgar Walter Schattie, 44, of 3 Elinor Court, Petaluma, which had stopped on Wilson Avenue at Novato Boulevard at 10:59 p.m., officers said. Schattie, who suffered neck and back pains, was treated at Novato General Hospital.

After the crash Walton drove west on Novato Boulevard at high speed, crossed the enter line and failed to halt for a police unit, officers said. When he was halted beyond Novato Creek Park, he attempted to flee on foot, police said. Walton posted $1,200 bail.

Ross School Board To Study Clause

The Ross School District board will hold a special closed meeting at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in the district office to discuss a clause in the teacher's contracts.

Supt. Thomas A. Anderson said that the teachers are objecting to the $75-a-day fine for failing to show up for work. This clause has been in the contract for two years, but some teachers are objecting to it now, he said.

Petaluma Man Booked In Battery

Armond Bouchard, 42, of 80 Maria Drive, Petaluma, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of battery.

Police said he was seen at 8:35 p.m. in a parking lot on Western Avenue having an argument with two young men. Officers said Bouchard slapped Jose Arteaga, 17, of 23 Wilson Street. He was booked into the city jail for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Judge Baty To Speak At Chamber Meeting

Judge David R. Baty of West Marin Justice Court will speak at the regular monthly meeting of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Red Barn restaurat, Point Reyes Station.

Judge Baty will speak on the proposed consolidation of the judicial district into Marin Municipal Court.

Belvedere Budget On Agenda Tonight

A $374,525 operations and equipment budget for 1971-72, an $18,285 increase over this year, will be considered at 8 p.m. today when the Belvedere City Council meets at city hall.

Also on the agenda is consideration of a Belvedere-Tiburon-Reed School District summer recreation program.

County Employees' Vote Set On Union Questions

Almost 700 Marin County employees will go to the polls on June 22 to pick either the Marin County Employees Association or the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) as their bargaining agent.

AFSCME is a new union which organized Mill Valley city employees last March and is trying to woo county employees away from the Marin County Employees Association.

Under supervision by the state conciliation service, polls will be set up in the following seven locations: Marin Civic Center; County Corporation yards at Greenbrae, Mill Valley, and Nicasio; 920 Grand Avenue, Marin Juvenile Hall, and Novato Branch Library.

Employees in the following four representation units will vote for either MCEA or AFSCME:

About 350 general clerical and related clerical technicians; about 110 trades, custodial and related employees; about 120 technical services, regulatory and related employees (such as engineers, draftsmen, planners and accountants); and about 100 public services employees (such as librarians, health officials and attorneys).

A separate election will be held simultaneously for more than 50 eligibility workers in the Department of Public Social Services. These eligibility workers will vote either to become a separate unit under Social Workers Union Local 535, or to join the public services unit with either MCEA or AFSCME as a bargaining agent.

Richard I. Uchida, personnel analyst, said that a detailed list of those eligible to vote on June 22 will be drawn up within a week.

More than 200 million calendars were issued in the United States in 1970.

Some Sage Advice Offered On A Very Bad Trump Break

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

What should you do when you know that your opponent's trump suit is going to break badly? Should you tell his parents and all the neighbors immediately? Should you drop a note to his draft board? Or should you just look the other way and hope it isn't catching? If you follow the advice of Dear Alfred, you'll keep the bad news a secret as long as you can. Today's hand may give you the general idea.

HOLDS OFF

West opened the king of hearts, and South held off. West continued with the queen of hearts, and South took the ace.

South naturally led a low trump, and West decided to follow Dear Alfred's advice. That is, West played the eight of spades, keeping the trump break a secret.

Before we go on, let's see what would happen if West just looked the other way and played the three of spades. Dummy's queen would win, and South would not know about the bad trump break. But South would be unable to cope with a 4-1 break unless West had the four trumps.

LOW TRUMP

Declarer would therefore lead the low trump from dummy to the king in his own hand. East's discard would reveal the bad break, and West would take the ace of spades and cash his heart trick. South would then regain the lead and take a finesse with dummy's J-9 of trumps to pick up West's 10-8.

In short, South would make his contract if West sat still and did nothing.

CONCEALMENT

West must practice some active concealment when South leads the first trump from his hand. West should casually follow suit with the eight of spades.

When dummy's queen wins the trick, South is left with the impression that West may have started with the singleton eight of spades. To guard against this danger, declarer leads the jack of spades from dummy.

East discards, and the secret is out at last. It is too late for South to recover, and we have another triumph for Dear Alfred's advice to the lovelorn defender.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♥ - 10 9 7 4
♦ - Q J 6 2
♣ - 9 6 5 2.

ANSWER: Pass.

The singleton worries you, but you may make matters worse by bidding. You would bid any five-card or longer suit, but bidding a four-card suit in this situation may jar you out of the frying pan into the fire.

A Steam Bus Grant Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The federal government has approved a $409,488 grant needed to put three demonstration steam buses operating on the street by January.

Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, announced Thursday the buses are set to be tested in San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties and Los Angeles during the summer. If the tests prove satisfactory, said Burton,

WE ARE NOT KIDDING!

Besides your best place to buy your used parts, we are your best place to buy your used car.

BECAUSE...

1-We have the spare parts to back up our mutually agreed upon warranty.
2-We know the weak parts of most makes & models of cars-after all, that's our business!
3-We have an educated guess as to the degree of success you will have with any car you purchase from us.
4-We offer terms . . . if your credit

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Decade Of Debate On Cholesterol Unresolved On Heart Attacks

HIGH cholesterol levels in the blood increase the risk of heart attack due to hardening of the coronary arteries. Lowering the level with diet, however, does not necessarily lessen the chance of having a heart attack. This is the crux of the cholesterol controversy, a debate that has gone on for more than a decade.

HARDENING of the arteries, including the coronary vessels that supply the heart muscle with blood, is a complex process. Other constituents of blood have been blamed at one time or another. So have changes in the arterial wall resulting from injury and repair. Emotional stress, lack of exercise, heavy smoking, obesity, various hormones, hypertension and heredity also are implicated. This may explain why cholesterol-lowering diets do not always prevent heart attacks.

We know that, in humans, well-developed atherosclerotic lesions contain great quantities of cholesterol. Whether these deposits form because there is too much cholesterol in the blood is a debatable issue. Fat deposits can be produced in laboratory animals by feeding them large amounts of cholesterol. The opponents argue that the l e s i o n s in animals are produced artificially and do not have the appearance or histologic range of human plaques.

IN ADDITION, there is a correlation between the amount of fat in the diet of many ethnic groups and the incidence of heart attacks. Many of these studies have been conducted on people who migrated to another country and have changed their life styles and eating habits.

Physicians who believe in the causative role o cholesterol in heart attacks want everyone to eat less animal and saturated fats, eggs, butter, whole milk, carbohydrates and sugar. In such a diet, saturated fats are replaced with polyunsaturated fats (mainly vegetable oils). But many authorities are not yet convinced that there is enough evidence to support this view.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Jurnal.

HEART AND GALLSTONES

J. S. writes: Can gallstones have an effect on the heart?

REPLY

This is a moot q u e s t i o n among physicians. Some are of the opinion that the infection accompanying gallstones creates extra work for the heart or produces a reflex that narrows the coronary arteries. In these circumstances, removal of the gallbladder lessens the amount of chest pain (angina pectoris).

VALVE DEFECT AND FOOD

F. writes: Does diet play any part (other than keeping down weight) in preventing further heart damage due to a defective valve?

REPLY

Indirectly, in that a high protein diet may help ward off a recurrence of rheumatic fever. The valve is damaged only when this disease is activated; between attacks, food has no effect.

STILLBIRTH

Mrs. K. R. writes: What are the usual causes of stillbirth?

REPLY

Maternal hemorrhage late in pregnancy, toxemia or diabetes in the mother, umbilical cord mishaps, (prolapse, cord about the neck, and knots), congenital malformations, injuries during delivery and Rh incompatibilities. Years ago syphilis was the commonest cause.

English Certificates Presented

Five students of an English class for those who speak another tongue as their first language have been given progress certificates by the Marin Economic Opportunity Council, which sponsored the course.

The awards were made at a party in the Mill Valley home of the course's teacher, Patricia Spicer. The certificates went to Anita Abgrego, Dolores Canas, Hilda Hueso, Antonina Medina and Graciels Povis.

The EOC will continue to offer daytime classes in English as a second language with Julie Larsen as instructor, home of EOC volunteer Mrs. A. C. Anderson, 10 Bella Vista Avenue, Belvedere. Evening classes will be offered in San Rafael. Information is available at the EOC offices in San Rafael.

Cadets For Police Units Are Sought

Police cadets to work and learn in Marin law enforcement agencies are being sought by the county's police-community relations department.

High school graduates between 18 and 25 will be selected to work in various law enforcement agencies for 30 hours a week, with salary, and attend college classes in police work for 10 hours a week.

The purpose of the project is to improve communication between youth and law enforcement, boost police ranks and provide training for young men and women interested in a law enforcement career.

Application may be made through the police-community relations office at the Civic Center.

General Foods Signs With FTC

WASHINGTON (UPI) —General Foods Corp., the nation's largest food processor, has signed a Federal Trade Commission (FTC) order barring false nutritional claims in advertising any of its products, it was announced today.

The agreement, provisionally accepted by the FTC, resulted from a false advertising complaint against a commercial for "Toast'Ems Pop-Ups."

The FTC said the commercial falsely claimed that two Pop-Ups provide as much nutrition as a breakfast as two eggs, two slices of bacon and toast. The Pop-Ups actually "contain substantially less nutrients," the FTC said.

Session Set Thursday On ABAG Counterpart

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Spokesmen for five counties will meet Thursday in Willits to attempt to create a regional counterpart to the Association of Bay Area Governments.

Sonoma County, whose voters decided April 20 to pull out of ABAG, will join Napa, Lake, Mendocino and Humboldt in trying to form the proposed North Coast Association of Governments, according to Sonoma County Supervisor Henry Spomer.

Financing the proposed NCAG will be a major issue, Spomer predicted. Sonoma County has 50 per cent of the assessed valuation of the five counties. But under the proposals in the Hooper Report, it would have only 20 per cent of the association's voting power, he said.

Whatever framework is adopted at Willits next week and eventually by the participating county and city governments must be ratified by the state Legislature and the California Council on Intergovernmental Relations.

The Sonoma County cost factor has been criticized by Supervisor Chairman Ignazio Vella, who is ABAG president, and by Supervisor Meade Nordyke.)

Free Program Of Music Set At St. Paul's

A free program of music from Bach to Poulenc will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael.

The musicians will be violinist Dr. Peter Ostwald, a professor at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco; Flutist Dr. Bernd von Lehmann, a doctor of pharmaceutical chemistry at the medical center, and pianist-harpsichordist Robert Fenton, a student of Alexander Lieberman who attends Lowell High School in San Francisco.

They will play works by Bach, Beethoven, Graun, Poulenc and Roussel for flute, violin, harpsichord and piano.

Nader Report Sees 'Fix' In Antitrust Suit Cases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ralph Nader's "Raiders" say consumers are paying up to $60 billion a year in higher taxes, higher prices and lost work because of the Justice Department's failure to break up monopolies.

Nader and a team of young lawyers over the weekend released a report of 1,148 pages that placed the blame on every administration for the past 20 years.

"Consumers are far more cheated of their purchasing dollar by noncompetitive industries which charge excessive prices than by shoddy merchandise and the street pickpocket," Nader charged in an introduction to the two-volume study directed by Harvard Law School graduate Mark J. Green.

Statistics were cited to show the nation's top 200 manufacturing corporations control about two-thirds of all U.S. manufacturing assets—the same share spread among 1,000 corporations in 1941.

The year-long study found huge business monopolies and oligopolies virtually untouched by government antitrust enforcers because of extreme political pressures, lack of resources and disinterest.

Officials in almost every administration, including Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst, and former Attorneys General Nicholas Katzenbach and Herbert Brownell were accused of political interference. Assistant Attorney General Richard W. McLaren reportedly twice threatened to resign as President Nixon's antitrust chief because of Kleindienst's interference.

The report said the past 11 government attorneys to study General Motor's dominance in the automobile field have suggested an antimonopoly suit but "no division or department hierarchy has overcome bureaucratic cowardice and anticipatory politics to file it," including McLaren. McLaren refused to approve a General Motors divestiture suit though his former economic aide, Leonard Weiss, had speculated such a suit would save GM's customers $1.3 billion and Ford's and Chrysler's $150 million each, the report said.

General Motors labeled the report "a slanted and unjustified attack" on the Justice Department's Antitrust Division and its officials in "an obvious effort to exert pressure" for federal action against the auto industry.

During the period reviewed, GM was sued 18 times by the Antitrust Dvision, a company spokesman said in a statement issued in Washington.

The report recommended abolition of the Antitrust Division and the FTC, and creation of a Competition Protection Agency (CPA) with the best features of both. It also suggested Congress pass a law to break up existing oligopolistic industries, and that a ban be placed on further mergers by the top 500 industries.

The study recommended further that executives found guilty in antritrust suits should spend time in jail, and fines should be higher.

Calling Brownell, Katzenbach and Kleindienst the worst of those "who have disregarded antitrust for partisan gain," the study group said Katzenbach, now an International Business Machines (IBM) executive, told them: "Why not get a political benefit from what you are going to do anyway."

Kleindienst, the man most likely to succeed Attorney General John N. Mitchell if he takes over President Nixon's re-election campaign, was accused of putting "the fix" on McLaren's plan to sue to halt the $1 billion merger of two major drug firms —Parke-Davis & Co. and Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co.

The move was attributed to the fact Elmer Bobst, honorary chairman of Warner-Lambert, is so close to Nixon his relationship is described as "fatherly." Subsequently, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) filed a complaint.

A long list of Capitol Hill politicians who had interfered or attempted to influence antitrust actions was cited, included Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Jidiciary Committee and its antitrust subcommittee and author of much antitrust legislation; and former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., whom the lawyers called "Clean Gene."

Two Youths Hurt in Cycle Crashes

Two Petaluma youths were injured Saturday at 4:20 p.m. when they fell from their motorcycle at the corner of Fourth and F streets, Petaluma.

Novato School Panel To Discuss Salaries

The Novato Unified School District board will consider teachers salaries for 1971-72 at 8 p.m. today at Novato High School lecture hall.

The trustees in March adopted a tentative budget of $9,914,-107, which called for a freeze on salaries, but representatives of the board and teachers have been negotiating in recent weeks.

Nixon Veto On Jobless Plan Seen

BY Benjamin Shore
(I-J correspondent)

WASHINGTON — Marin County's two congressmen believe President Richard M. Nixon will veto a bill passed by the House creating 150,000 public service jobs for unemployed persons.

Reps. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, and Don H. Clausen, R-First District, both supported Nixon in a vote last week to substitute a manpower revenue-sharing program for the Democratic-sponsored jobs bill.

But when the Republican substitute failed, 182 to 204, Mailliard and Clausen then voted for the $5 billion jobs bill, which passed 244 to 142.

"This bill is similar to the one he vetoed last year," Mailliard said. The president vetoed it on the grounds it would create make-work, dead-end jobs.

Clausen added, "This bill won't bring the reform that Nixon wants, so there is high speculation he will veto it."

Neither of the Republican congressmen would say now whether he will vote to override a presidential veto. They both acknowledged unemployment problems in their districts, and said there is a need for some kind of federal program now to alleviate them.

Mailliard said the Republican-sponsored revenue-sharing proposal would have been superior to the Democrats' bill "because it would have brought together all the manpower programs that now are scattered all over."

Amazing Mays Does It Again; Giants Off To Montreal

By JOE SARGIS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Any day now there aren't going to be any words left in the English language to describe Willie Mays, baseball's greybeard who has turned the clock back 20 years.

Sunday, the 40-year-old Mays played all nine innings of the opening game of a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phillies, which the San Francisco Giants lost 1-0, and all of the nightcap, which he broke up personally with a long homer to left in the 12th. To give the Giants a 4-3 win.

The homer was Mays' 13th of the year and 641st of his career and he hit it about 15 rows back in left against a 25 mile per hour wind at Candlestick Park.

Additionally, he made half a dozen good plays in the field while taking over for Willie McCovey at first and finished the long day with three hits in nine at-bats and kept his batting average at .333

"If we all live to be a 100 years old," Giants skipper Charlie Fox said after the twinbill, "none of us will ever see a player greater than Mays. There just isn't any part of the game which he can't play as well as the best or better."

"What is there left to say about Mays that hasn't been said," Lucchesi said. "He's just too much to handle."

Fox said he asked Mays if he wanted to sit the second game out, but Willie refused.

"Heck, I'll play," Mays told Fox. "We have to win this one."

The Giants did, too, for psychological reasons.

The opening game loss stretched their losing streak to five games, longest in two years, and a loss in the nightcap would have cut their National League West lead over Los Angeles to seven.

But Mays took care of all that.

"It's been a long day, but a good one after all," Mays said. "The important thing is we won and we didn't lose any ground while we were having our problems. Sure I'm tired, but winning takes care of that."

The Giants, who open a nine-game road trip in Montreal Tuesday were down 3-1 going into the ninth of the nightcap. Mays opened the inning with a double and scored minutes later on a single by Ken Henderson. That finished Phils starter Barry Lersch and brought on Jim Bunning.

The Giants loaded the bases in the 10th with one out but Bunning worked his way out of the jam. As things turned out, all it did was prolong the agony.

Mays hit his homer off Joe Hoerner, the third Phils pitcher. Rich Robertson, the last of six San Francisco pitchers, picked up the victory for blanking Philadelphia in the 11th and 12th.

The opener was all Rick Wise, who stopped the Giants on three hits, and got all the help he needed on a double by Willie Montanez and a single by Ron Stone in the sixth.

Lost in the shuffle of the nightcap was a fine seven inning pitching stint by Frank Reberger, who finally may have worked his way back into the starting rotation.

Fox wants a fifth starter so that he can give veterans Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry an extra day off between starts.

A capacity crowd of 33,516 saw the doubleheader and pushed the Giants' home attendance total to 445,021 for 29 dates. That's about 150,000 over last year's total for the same number of dates.

Freddie Steinmark Loses Tough Fight With Cancer

ij Sports

Monday, June 7, 1971 Independent-Journal, 29

HOUSTON (UPI) — Fred Steinmark, the small, tough University of Texas defensive back who had his left leg amputated less than a week after he helped the Longhorns clinch the 1969 college football title, died Sunday night of cancer. He was 22.

Steinmark, the Wheatridge, Colo., athlete who became a national symbol of courage and determination in his year-and-a-half battle against cancer, died nearly seven weeks after reentering M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, the hospital where his cancerous leg was amputated below the knee Dec. 12, 1969.

Steinmark started every game for the Longhorns during his sophomore and junior years, and six days before the operation played in Texas' 15-14 win over Arkansas which clinched its No. 1 rating before President Nixon and a nationally televised audience.

At the time of the amputation, doctors said Steinmark suffered from a malignant sarcoma tumor —one of the fastest spreading kinds of cancer. It was discovered during exploratory surgery and amputated immediately.

A hospital spokesman said when Steinmark reentered the hospital April 20, however, that "the problems are associated with the one which originally beset him."

"This is one of the saddest things I've had happen in sports," said Fred Akers, the defensive secondary coach at the University of Texas who coached Steinmark.

"Freddie has left a huge impression on all that have been around him. We all love him quite a lot. And he has certainly been an inspiration to countless youngsters all around the country.

"We will never be prouder of anyone than we are of him."

One man sent Steinmark a gold crucifix he said had been in his family for 100 years. Another sent him a gold medallion and the Notre Dame and Alabama football teams sent him autographed footballs.

Another football came from the Oakland Raiders, who all signed a letter which read:

"The motto of the Oakland Raiders is pride and poise. We feel that you, by your courage, have earned this."

He was praised on the floor of the U.S. Senate by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., as a "courageous Coloradan who, throughout has never betrayed a trace of self-pity."

Despite his comparative slight stature—at 5-10 and 166 pounds he was the smallest starter on the national championship team — Steinmark started every game for Texas

Dickinson Wins In Atlanta

Missed Short Putt Costs Nicklaus On Playoff Hole

ATLANTA (UPI)—It won't faze Lost Tree Village that its most famous resident, Jack Nicklaus, didn't win the Atlanta Golf Classic title. After all, Gardner Dickinson kept it in the neighborhood.

Dickinson, a 43-year-old veteran who has been just a face in the crowd the last couple of years, beat the always-favored Nicklaus on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday when Jack booted a gimmie putt.

"What can I say," Nicklaus muttered chagrinly. "I thought that little old three-footer was going to break and darn if it didn't go straight as an arrow."

"Oh well, you can't expect to win them all," a PGA official sympathized with Nicklaus who had been gunning for his third straight victory since taking second in the Masters.

"Maybe not," Nicklaus replied. "But it doesn't hurt to try."

Nicklaus, Dickinson and Gary Player, who fell out of the lead with a bogey the previous hole, were all tied at 12-under going into the final regulation hole of the $125,000 tournament.

All three cleared the lake guarding the green on the par-five hole with their second shots —Nicklaus landing within eagle range 25 feet to the right of the pin and the other two landing in a sand trap 10 feet in front of the pin.

Nicklaus' putt was three inches short and he settled for a birdie. Player blasted out to within five feet of the cup but lipped his putt to fall out of contention. Dickinson put his sand shot two feet away and he and Nicklaus headed back to the first tee when the putt went in.

Dickinson, whose last of seven previous victories in 19 tour years was in the 1969 Colonial at Fort Worth, was only 10 feet away with his approach shot on the extra hole, while Nicklaus, reigning British Open and PGA champ, overshot the green.

"It was a good wedge shot, but the ball took a bad slip and ran 23 or 24 feet past the flag," Nicklaus said.

Nicklaus rolled up to within three feet and waited. Gardner missed the 10-footer, settled for a par and then got ready to move on to the next hole.

But Nicklaus missed and Dickinson, who had been 53rd on this year's money list with only $21,439 and 78th all last year when he won only $28,471, instantly became $25,000 richer.

'Geritol Kid' Wins Again; Peacock Gap, This Time

Golfdom's "Geritol Kid" strikes again.

Mat Palacio Jr. of San Rafael, resplendent in knickers and 20 pounds lighter than he was four months ago, yesterday won a silver cup for the low gross individual score in the 36-hole Peacock Gap Country Club Invitational Golf Tournament at the San Rafael course.

The 1936 California amateur king and winner of countless other tournaments in a glittering career, the 55-year-old Palacio fired a two-under-par 69 yesterday following Saturday's 72 for a 141 total.

Low net honors in the best ball two-man team competition went to Bill Cardinal and his San Rafael neighbor Dudley Deane. Cardinal, a retired printing company executive, and Deane, a land developer, were 23 strokes under par for the tournament.

Radio disc jockey and sportscaster Frank Dill, also of San Rafael, teamed with guest Ed Fye to tie Bill Nieman and Lloyd Garrison for runner-up honors, each twosome with a 22-under-par score.

The tournament, played under clear skies both days, saw 80 members of Peacock Gap each team up with a guest to shoot for merchandise awards.

The "Booby Prize" for worst score in the tournament went to Don Schweitzer and his guest, Chuck Madson. Dr. Will Demont, a guest of Ray Ham, won a special honor for placing his tee shot closest to the hole — two feet, one inch — in a hole-in-one competition, and Al Newman, Peacock Gap's club champion three years ago, was honored for the longest drive of the tourney, a 259-yarder on the 14th hole.

Palacio, who said he went on a diet four months ago to shed some excess baggage for the 1971 season, teamed with Homer Scott of the Meadow Club near Fairfax to win the low gross team title at the Marin Country Club Invitational in Novato. Today he was to begin qualifying for the state amateur tournament, the very same title he won 35 years ago.

Following are the other leading teams in the low net competition: Stan Parks-Jordan Dell'Era, minus 21; John Janusch-Vic Bradshaw, minus 21; Joe Bregante-Bill Onorato, minus 21; David Nelson-Al Neuman, minus 20; John Walsh-"Red" McKibben, minus 20; Al Nathe-"Bill" Mariner, minus 20; Bob Seymour-Turk Terzian, minus 20; Gale Cook-John Cook, minus 20; Col. Boris Pash-Ed Bott, minus 20.

Vian Collier Sets Mark

Vian Collier, back to track after a winter-long illness, reached the culmination of his long fight back to greatness Saturday to set a new all-time Marin County record in the California State High School Track Meet held at UCLA.

Although Collier ran the best time of his career by two seconds to establish the new all-time mark at 4:15.7, he placed ninth, overshadowed by the awesome track strength of Southern California high school runners.

Chakra Chappell of San Marin also did well, placing fourth in his 880 heat in 1:55.4, to miss placing by one man.

Mike Arago, also of Tam, ran but did not place in the two mile, in the time of 9:27, about eight seconds off his best time.

Collier's mile time broke the old all-time Marin mark of 4:15.7 set by Keith Krieger, also of Tam.

Novato Lacrosse Team Wins Title

The Novato Park and Recreation Junior Lacrosse squad, tied for the Association championship at the end of the league season, defeated the San Francisco Juniors in a playoff yesterday 9-7.

The win, clinching the Northern Lacrosse Association title, ends the second consecutive championship season for Novato.

Blue Wins His 12th

Triumphant A's Return To Oakland

After losing his second game of the season last week to Boston, Blue clipped Washington on four hits Sunday as the A's took an 8-1 victory.

For Blue, it was his 12th win as he avenged an earlier loss to the Senators this year.

For the A's, it was their fifth straight win and opened their American League West Lead to eight games over Kansas City.

Oakland takes the day off today before opening a home stand Tuesday night against Boston.

Oakland got 14 hits Sunday against four Washington pitchers. Rick Monday hit a two-run homer in the fourth inning and Gene Tenace hit another with the bases empty in the eighth.

The A's staked Blue to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Angel Mangual got on by an error, Reggie Jackson doubled, and Sal Bando singled. The A's scored two more in the ninth on singles by pinchhitter George Hendricks, Jackson and Mike Epstein.

Washington's only run came in the third on two walks and a single by Elliot Maddox.

Blue, the major leagues' winningest pitcher, struck out seven in running his league-leading tolal to 115 in 121 innings. He lowered his earned run average to 1.34.

GAME IN ANAHEIM

2 Marin Hurlers On North Team

Tom Olson of Marin Catholic High School and Dave Judnick of Novato High, two Marin County Athletic League pitchers who starred this past season for their respective clubs, were selected by Northern California sportswriters to appear in the third annual North-South High School baseball game on Friday, June 25, in Anaheim Stadium.

Marin Catholic Wildcat coach Gary Hughes had been previously named to coach the North team, along with Jim Hemphill of Homestead High School of Sunnyvale.

Olson, 10-1 on the year, led his team to a first place finish in the Tournament of Champions at Albert Park a week ago.

Judnick, after an incredible year for the Hornets, is now starring on Novato's American Legion ball club. Judnick shared pitching duties with Mike Lamb, and the two combined for nine of the Hornet's MCAL wins.

Among other Northern California players named to the squad is Dennis DeBaar of Kennedy (Fremont) who tied the TOC strikeout record with 16 in a seven-inning game.

KENNEDY GAMES

Record Day In Berkeley

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—The nation's track and field athletes scatter to the winds today but regroup on the West Coast at Seattle in two weeks and Eugene, Ore., in three for the NCAA and AAU championships.

The Kennedy Games, a major tuneup for those two championships, produced nine meet records, including an American mark in the women's mile by Francie Larrieu, last Saturday, and this Saturday the collegiate stars gather at Wichita, Kan., for the USTFF championships and at Sacramento, Calif., for the NCAA college division championships.

In addition, the AAU decathlon championships will be decided at Porterville, Calif., and two days before the start of the NCAA at Seattle, Armed Services athletes will decide their champion at Irvine, Calif. Also on tap this Saturday is a Pacific AAU meet at Hayward, Calif., for open athletes seeking a tuneup for the AAU championships.

Jorma Kinnunen of Finland in the javelin and George Young, the 33-year-old distance star from Casa Grande, Ariz., were among those who set Kennedy Games records, but neither can compete in the NCAA and both probably will pass up the AAU.

However, Kinnunen and Young may be back in Berkeley in July for the big United States-Russia-world track meet. Kinnunen says he may stick around but Young is talking about taking a Mexican vacation and resting the rest of the year.

Miss Larrieu took the women's mile record to 4:41.5, easily beating the old mark of 4:42.2 set by Doris Brown two years ago, while Kinnunen hurled the spear 288 feet, longest throw in the world this year, and Young won the three mile run in 13:10.8, fourth fastest in the world this year.

Kinnunen holds the world javelin record at 304-1 1-4 but up until Saturday in the Kennedy Games he had been unable to do more than 260 legally.

Miss Larrieu, an attractive teenager (19) from Sunnyvale, Calif., says she is ready to compete anywhere and is pointing for an Olympic berth next year, while Kinnunen, his confidence restored, is talking about a new record.

"I feel that I will throw 95 meters (about 315 feet) by the end of this month or July," said the stocky Finn who also plans to compete in the European championships at Helsinki in August.

Young, who is 33, said he held back in the early part of the three-mile because he thought the pace would be a lot faster.

"I don't do that all the time," he said. "It depends on the competition. You run according to your strengths, which doesn't always make people happy."

Young did receive a standing ovation from the crowd of more than 12,000 in Edwards Stadium, though, for a brilliant 56.7 second last leg, truly an outstanding performance.

The other meet records were turned in by Tom Gage in the hammer (233-6), Ron Laird in the 5,000 meter walk (22:56.1), Juris Luzins in the 880 (1:47.6), Tim Heikkila in the high jump (7-2), Dave Roberts in the pole vault (17-5) and Barry Brown in the steeplechase (8:42.8).

Gage, Laird, Brown and Luzins all will be back for the AAU championships and the Russian meet, while Heikkila, Brown, Henry Hines, who won the long jump in 25-11 1-2, Fred Debernardi, who took the discus at 199-4, John Smith, who won the 440 over Lee Evans in 46.1, and Willie Deckard, who took the 100 in 9.4, will go on to the USTFF and NCAA championships, and later the AAU.

Qualifying this year for the AAU is the same as for the NCAA so as to facilitate selection of the teams for the Russian meet and the Pan American games at Cali, Colombia, starting July 30. There are no Pan-Am trials this year.

NEW RECORD — Tom Gage of the New York Athletic Club lets out a loud cry as he throws the hammer for a new stadium and meet record in the third annual Kennedy Memorial Invitational Track and Field Games. Gage's throw of 233 feet, 6 inches Saturday eclipsed the old mark by 11 inches. (UPI Telephoto)

Two Auburn Men Win Riding Test

SONOMA (UPI)—Two Auburn men collected $3,565 Sunday when they won the 25-mile running and horse riding contest over the Mayacamus Mountain Range in the Sonoma wine country.

Jim Lariner and Hal Hall made it from St. Helena to the Sonoma Plaza in 3 hours 48 1-2 minutes to win the first annual Levi's Ride and Tie race.

Second place went to a team of San Francisco firemen, John Holden of Sonoma and Bill Postal of Novato. They came in a minute and a half behind the winners.

The unusual race involves two men and a horse. One man rides and the other runs. When the runner tires, he signals his partner who jumps out of the saddle and begins running while the other man rides.

Tennis

PARIS (UPI)—Top seeded Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, and 19 year old Evonne Goolagong of Australia, Sunday reaped the singles titles of the 25th, $100,000 French Open tennis tournament.

Kodes, a 25-year-old economics student from Prague, last year's winner here, played his usual inspired and accurate game to defeat Ilie Nastase of Romania, 8-6, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5.

Auto Racing

LEXINGTON, OHIO (UPI) — George Follmer of Arcadia, Calif., set a track record of 1:41 in driving his Mustang to victory in the Trans-American Sedan Championship Race at Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course Sunday, his second straight Trans-Am win.

DOVER, Del. (UPI)—Bobby Allison, braving heat over 90 degrees, raced to a record victory Sunday in the first NASCAR 500 mile grand national to be held outside the deep south.

Pitching Keys Softball Games

A fine pitching effort by Tim Becher paced Marin Wheel Alignment to a 4-1 victory over the Squids in San Rafael Recreation Department Adult League Softball last night, while Raw Chicken defeated Don Rumpf Golf 7-5.

In other recreation league games yesterday, Ray Carroll tossed a three-hitter as Marin Supply bested Hub City 2-1, and Bergman Manufacturing scored three runs in the sixth to take Blue Enterprises 4-3.

Marin Supply scored its two runs in the first, and held its opponents to one run the rest of the way for the win.

Hank's Diamond Ring

ATLANTA (UPI) —Hank Aaron received a diamond ring Sunday from the Atlanta Braves with six small diamonds, one for each hundred homers he has hit. There was a seventh in the center to represent the homers he needs to reach Babe Ruth's 714 homers. He now has 609.

live in Lost Tree in North Palm Beach, Fla., although Dickinson says, "Jack lives in the high rent district."

Dickinson and Nicklaus both shot 70s Sunday to wind up regulation play at 13-under-par 275. Player and Lee Trevino were a stroke behind at 276 and there were four at 278, including defending champion Tommy Aaron who had a 67 in the closing round.

Others at 278 included John Miller, Ray Floyd and Steve Reid. Dale Douglass and Bob Lunn were at 279 and Dave Eichelberger was alone at 280.

Sunday's sudden-death playoff victory was the first in three tries for Dickinson who lost similar playoffs to Art Wall, at Ft. Wayne in 1965, and to Floyd, in the 1969 Jacksonville Open.

The Atlanta Classic was Dickinson's 14th tournament of the year. He took second in the Doral Open but otherwise was no better than his tie for 27th in the Bob Hope Desert Classic.

"I've been having a lot of trouble with my putting," Dickinson explained. "This was the first time in a long time that I haven't been plagued by a lot of three-putt greens. Anytime I can avoid that, I'm ahead of the game."

during the two years he was able to play.

During the week preceding the Arkansas game in 1969, and during the game itself, Steinmark complained of soreness in his left leg.

Six days following the come-from-behind Texas victory Steinmark underwent exploratory surgery. Doctors warned him before the surgery began that it could mean losing his leg.

During the surgery the sarcoma tumor — one of the fastest spreading types of cancer — was found. The decision to amputate was immediate. Steinmark was out of the hospital well before his teammates met Notre Dame in the 1970 Cotton Bowl game and he was on the sidelines when the Longhorns came from behind in that contest to win 21-17.

SEATTLE (UPI) —Washington State University coach Marv Harshman has been named to head the University of Washington Huskies.

'Still Best,' Says Canonero Trainer

NEW YORK (UPI) — "He's still the best 3-year-old in the United States!"

With dreams of a triple crown victory shattered and his connection with the horse apparently drawing to an end, trainer Juan Arias still insisted today that Canonero II, his Kentucky Derby and Preakness Winner, was the best of them all.

The Kentucky-bred colt, owned by Pedro Baptista of Venezuela, finished fourth Saturday in the Belmont Stakes behind Pass Catcher, Jim French and Bold Reason. Once again the triple crown proved as elusive as ever. Canonero was the sixth horse since 1948 to win the first two classics in the series but fail in the final event.

In defeat Canonero gained as many admirers as he had in victory and rival horsemen who had expected him to fade out of the picture completely in the stretch readily admitted that the colt ran a game race and was far from disgraced.

Pass Catcher, finally displaying the form owner Peter Kissel and trainer Eddie Yowell always expected of him, won by three quarters of a length over Jim French who was three and one-half lengths ahead of Bold Reason. Then, only a neck behind, came Canonero, tired but game to the finish.

Arias said he knew Canonero faced a difficult task in the 1½ mile Belmont stakes run over a deep and tiring race track. And he blamed the two days the colt had to miss in training, when an infected foot was being treated, for the colt's defeat.

"I knew what a difficult task was ahead of him. He was trained up to the race but I hoped against hope that nothing would go wrong during the race," the Venezuelan trainer said.

"But there was no reserve because he missed that training and unfortunately Canonero was rank (difficult to handle) early in the race, fighting against Avila (Jockey Gusaveo Avila). When I say that happen, when I saw him expending himself needlessly that early in the race I knew he was in trouble. It was too much to ask," the trainer said sorrowfully.

Arias said the missed days, particularly a scheduled 1⅛ mile workout on the Saturday before the Belmont, hurt his colt.

"I thought of scratching him then, of skipping the Belmont and if the infection got worse that was it. But the veterinarian cleared up the trouble and I felt I could get him up to the race," Arias said.

Canonero's future was undecided as Baptista studied the eight offers he has had for his colt. A sale was expected to be anounced within a few days.

"Yes, I would like to remain in the United States and stay with Canonero if he is sold," Arias said. "But I first must return to Venezuela where I have some other horses and I have an obligation to them."

The trainer who also won the Belmont Stakes with Hail to All in 1965 returned Pass Catcher to Monmouth Park early Sunday morning and said the colt probably next would start in the Monmouth Invitational of Aug. 7 or the Travers Stakes at Saratoga on Aug. 21.

The colt, who suffered a hairline fracture of the knee in the Hopeful Stakes last August, was overlooked in the betting and paid $71.00, $21.00 and $10.80. Jim French paid $3.60 and $2.80 and Bolk Reason returned $4.80. Canonero was the strong favorite of the record crowd of $81,036 and was backed down to 7 to 10.

Suburban Auto Splits Twin Bill

Suburban Auto of San Rafael, paced by the slugging of Bill Baxter, defeated Alameda in the first game of a Golden Gate Travel League doubleheader yesterday, but dropped the nightcap 11-7.

Baxter had five hits in the two games, including a home run, and knocked in three more. Phil Gambucci also had five hits for Suburban, which is now 16-11 on the year.

Joe Hystrom was the winning pitcher for Suburban in the first game. With the win, they remain in fourth place.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Sweet Revenge For Vida Blue

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

If statistics are a valid yardstick by which to compare pitchers, then recent suggestions that Vida Blue is another Sandy Koufax are more than idle speculation.

Blue, Oakland's sensational young southpaw pitcher, allowed only four hits in winning his 12th game of the season Sunday as the Oakland Athletics routed the Washington Senators, 8-1.

Blue, who has lost only two games, struck out seven and walked two in avenging his 8-0 opening day loss to the Senators.

With a third of the baseball season gone, the hard-throwing Blue has given up an average of 5.3 hits per game as he continues to amaze American League batters with his blazing fastball. Koufax, who in 1965 enjoyed his best season in posting 25 victories with 382 strikeouts, allowed 5.8 hits per game that year. Bob Gibson, another of baseball's all-time great pitchers, also allowed an average of 5.8 hits per game in his best season, 1968, when he won 22 games and had a 1.12 earned run average.

Only once did Blue allow more than six hits in any one game, that being on May 28th when he suffered his only other loss of the season at the hands of Boston.

Blue isn't going out on a limb by making any guesses as to how many games he'll win this year. "I'd like to win 20 but I'm not going to make any predictions," said the 21-year old lefthander.

The Senators had knocked Blue out in the third inning on opening day to win their first home opener in eight years. But revenge was sweet for Blue as he beat the Senators and their ace pitcher, Denny McLain, for his 12th win, tops in the majors. He now has a 143 lifetime record in the majors and has never been beaten twice by the same club.

In other American League action, California defeated Boston, 5-2, Baltimore edged Milwaukee, 4-3, Minnesota downed Cleveland, 4-3, New York defeated Kansas City, 5-2, and Chicago whipped Detroit, 82 in the first game of a doubleheader with the second game being postponed because of rain.

A pair of towering 400-foot homers by Frank Robinson and Ellie Hendricks' second homer of the year powered the Orioles to victory over the Brewers. Robinson's first homer —hit off Milwaukee starter Marty Pattin —came in the fourth inning and gave the Orioles a 1-0 lead. His second in the seventh inning tied the score at 2-2 and Hendricks immediately gave the Orioles their final lead with his 360-foot blast to right field.

Winning pitcher Clyde Wright climaxed a two-run rally in the seventh inning with a runscoring triple to lead the Angels to victory over the slumping Red Sox. The Angels, who took two out of three from the Red Sox over the weekend, were nursing a 2-1 lead in the seventh when Tony Gonzalez singled and went to second on an infield hit. He scored when Rico Petrocelli threw away Ken Berry's infield hit and Wright followed with his triple to the base of the center field wall that knocked out loser Sonny Siebert.

OLD TIMERS HAM IT UP

Dodgers Win Minus Allen

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Richie Allen, the Los Angeles version of the Invisible Man, went into his disappearing act again Sunday and wound up making the New York Mets' National League Eastern Division lead vanish.

Allen was penciled in as a starter in left field but could not be found at game time. Sc-Dodger Manage Walter Alston inserted Bill Russell, batting .207, in Allen's slot and he responded with a triple, double and single to lift Los Angeles to a 4-3 victory over the Mets.

The loss dropped New York to third place in the NL East behind St. Louis and Pittsburgh and brought the second-place Dodgers to within eight games of San Francisco in the West.

Allen explained his absence, claiming he had ducked into a hallway during Old Timers' Day ceremonies and did not realize the game had started.

Russell's double ignited a three-run rally in the fourth inning after New York had taken a 2-0 lead in the top half of the inning and the young outfielder drove across the winning run in the fifth when he followed Willie Davis' infield hit with a triple.

Elsewhere in the NL, San Francisco beat Philadelphia 4-3 in 12 innings after losing the doubleheader opener 1-0, Cincinnati beat St. Louis 4-2, Pittsburgh edged Houston 9-8, Chicago defeated Atlanta 6-3 and San Diego swept Montreal 8-0 and 8-4.

Lee May had a three-run homer and Pete Rose lashed four hits as the Reds downed St. Louis. May's homer, his 11th, came in the third with Rose and Tommy Helms on base and helped Don Gullett gain his sixth victory in eight decisions.

Willie Stargell drove in three runs and Roberto Clemente knocked in two more as the Pirates welcomed back Manager Danny Murtagh with a victory over Houston.

Stargell, who had three hits, hit his 18th homer of the season with a man on base in the third to give the Pirates a 4-0 lead. They built that to 5-1 before the Astros, with Bob Watson driving in four runs, collected seven runs in the last four innings.

Bill Hands pitched a seven-hitter and Paul Popovich hit a two-run homer as the Cubs beat Atlanta. Joe Pepitone also homered for the Cubs while Henry Aaron smashed his 609th career homer in a losing cause fgr the Braves.

Bob Barton drove in three runs and Dave Roberts scattered nine hits in San Diego's first ga ae triumph and Nate Colbert' grand slam homer boosted the Padres past Montreal in the second game.

McNulty Brothers Win Second Places

The McNulty Brothers of San Rafael, Bill, 16, and Pat, 15, each placed second yesterday in quarter-midget auto races at Sacramento.

Bill was second in the "Heavy A" division while Pat was runnerup in the "Heavy B" division. Pat also posted fast time in the qualifying runs.

Emergency Surgery For Ed Herrman

Herrman was placed on the 21-day disabled list and pitcher Jim Magnuson was called up from the minors to replace him.

Melnyk's Key Shot Not In The Finals

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (UPI) —The most important shot Steve Melnyk played in the British Amateur Golf Championship did not come during Satuday's 3 and 2 victory over Jim Simons of Butler, Pa., in the 36-hole final.

Neither was it in Friday's semi-final, or even the quarter-final earlier that day.

"The most vital shot to my mind was that blast out of the bunker on the 18th green in my second round match against Herb Durham," the 24-year-old public relations executive from Jacksonville, Fla., said.

As he played that explosion last Wednesday, Melnyk was tottering on the brink of defeat after blowing a comfortable lead on the tough finishing holes at the 6,864-yard par 72 course.

Durham, a weekend player from Dallas, Tex., had him dead. He needed only to get down in two from the edge of the green for a par four and a certain win by one hole.

Melnyk, after pushing his second successive tee shot into the troublesome Barry Burn, was in the greenside trap in three.

"I was on the plane home, no doubt about it in my mind," Melynk said. "Then I realized just how much I wanted to stay in the championship. I figured if I play it stiff, there was just a slim chance that Herb might blow it."

And Melnyk did just that. Durham obliged by missing an awkward putt after nervously chipping short. A relieved Melnyk nailed him on the first playoff hole.

"I was never really in trouble after that," the burly six foot 1 1-2 inch Melnyk said.

Certainly, Simons, 21, was never able to really extend him in the seventh all-American final. Melnyk was twice threeup in the morning and only his own errors cut the margin to one after the first 18 holes.

Melnyk, who won the opening hole of the afternoon round for a two-up lead, faltered again just before the stretch. His errors allowed Simons to level on the 27th for the only time since the second hole of the match, but it was only a temporary lapse and he went on to become the 17th American to win the title.

When the match ended on the 34th green, a 238-yard par three, Melnyk became only the 11th man in history to win both the British and American amateur titles.

He won the U.S. event in 1969. The last man to achieve the feat was Bob Dickson, who won both in 1967. Dickson's British championship victory over Ron Cerrudo was the last all-American final.

Holiday Nine, Drake Win DiMag Games

Holiday Magic of San Rafael blasted visiting Healdsburg 8-1 and Drake downed Tamalpais 4-1 in San Anselmo yesterday in the Joe DiMaggio Baseball League.

Catcher Bruce Maglione led Holiday Magic's 11-hit assault with a double and two singles to drive in four runs while Mike Spezzi contributed two singles and two RBIs.

Over in San Anselmo, Drake's George Shawver outdueled Tam's Mark Dawson in a good pitching battle. Each hurler gave up only two hits and struck out eight.

RAREST CAR IN THE WORLD

One of the rarest cars in the world is this Bugatti Type 57SC "Atlantique" Electron Coupe, and it will be auctioned this Saturday at Sotheby, Parke-Bernet in Los Angeles. Here, Judith Landrigan gets the "feel" of the Bugatti, custom made in 1936 for Lord Rothschild and now only one of two known to exist. It was an aerodynamic innovation as well as an experiment in body construction using an aluminum alloy called Electron.

Prices Advance On Exchange: Early Trading Is Moderate

After about two hours, the Dow Jones Industrial Average was ahead a little more than a point at 923.41. Alfred Gourjo, senior analyst for Equity Research Associates, said "the market is going through a period of backing and filling," and he would not exclude testing of the 890 to 900 level on the Dow.

Of the 1,466 issues crossing the tape, 695 pointed higher while 451 retreated.

Advances also topped declines on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading. Among the most active Amex issues were Asamera Oil fractionally higher on 31,000 shares, Cinerama slightly easier on 27,000 shares, and Husky Oil steady on 25,000 shares.

Saks Fifth Avenue A Possible Replacement For City Of Paris

Word is that Saks Fifth Avenue is seriously eyeing the 27,000-square foot Northgate Mall store of the City of Paris for another Bay Area location.

City of Paris had its closing sale last week and is also closing out at Stonestown and on the Peninsula.

Saks already operates two stores in the Bay Area — one on downtown Grant Avenue, San Francisco, and the other in the Stanford Shopping Center, Palo Alto.

But no lease has been signed and at this point Saks must be counted as only one of about a half-dozen firms said to be interested in the City of Paris store, which is considered a prime location.

BUY A PIECE OF ART and return it to the seller in a year's time for 10 per cent more than you paid for it.

So convinced is the Emporium at Northgate that the wildlife art collector lithographs of painter Richard Sloan will appreciate in value that it is guaranteeing the 10-per cent profit to all comers until the supply of prints is exhausted. When they are gone, no more will be available except from one of the owners of the prints and the law of supply and demand will determine the price.

LAURENTIDE FINANCE CORP., San Rafael, along with 750 other Laurentide offices throughout the country, has a new name — C.I.T. Financial Services, taking this from its parent company, C.I.T. Financial Corp. which now has its stock traded on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange.

The company decided to commemorate its listing on the exchange by donating one share of stock to high school students achieving the highest standard in their graduating classes.

San Rafael High School was picked in this area and Frances Coulter, valedictorian of the graduating class is the recipient of one share, purchased on the exchange at $45.50.

JAMES R. BARNEY of San Rafael has been appointed Northern California salesman for Bancroft Sporting Goods Co. He was previously West Coast manager of sales and marketing for Dennison Manufacturing Co. and before that was a salesman for its subsidiary Dennison Eastman Corp.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Devaluation Not Big Worry Now

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Our dollars seem to be in a pretty shaky condition in Europe. Would you discuss the recent crisis and explain how an investor can protect his capital from devaluation? N.D.

A. The international monetary crisis was precipitated by currency speculators who were convinced that the Bonn government was about to up the exchange value of the mark in relation to the dollar. In the subsequent flurry of events, the mark, which had been allowed to float, settled back to an exchange value only 2.5 per cent above the previous level, much less than had been anticipated.

While the equity investor may suffer temporary set-backs resulting from uncertainties surrounding monetary upheavals, he has at least a measure of protection from the effects of inflation.

Although sudden devaluation of the dollar would be interpreted by most individuals as a major calamity, inflation has in fact accomplished this over a period of years. Today the dollar buys 65 per cent less than it did 20 years ago. On the other hand, stocks, as measured by the Dow Jones Industrial Average, have moved up in value about four-fold, outpacing inflation 1.3-to-1.

Inflation is a fact of life which should be accepted but not ignored. The prudent man protects his capital against decreased buying power by making investments which will appreciate in value at a rate at least consistent with inflation. Stocks such as Avon, Eastman Kodak, Polaroid and Tampax would serve this purpose.

24 Million Cans Collected In Recycling Drive

OAKLAND (BW) — More than 24 million all-aluminum cans have been collected during the first 12 months of Kaiser Aluminum's "Can-Do Recycling" program. The volume being turned in by the public is continuing to increase, the firm reports.

"We estimate that during 1971 we will collect some 50 million cans," M. D. Eisele of the company said. "Public support for the program is continuing to expand as more and more people become aware that used all-aluminum cans are worth money."

Last May, Kaiser Aluminum established 18 collection centers throughout the San Francisco Bay Area to which individuals could bring aluminum cans and collect 10 cents a pound. The response to this pilot effort was so positive that late last year the company expanded the concept to other states.

93 Cars Ahead

DETROIT (BW) — American Motors retail passenger car sales in May totaled 24,096 compared with 24,003 a year ago. Dealer deliveries in the final 10 days of May were 10,176 cars compared with 10,156 last year.

Antique Planes To Be Displayed

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Aircraft new and antique will be on display Sunday afternoon at the new American Airlines hangar at San Francisco International Airport.

Under the auspices of the South San Francisco Rotary Club, and to help raise funds for the club's "Rotary Plaza" retirement home, an antique aircraft show alongside a brand new American Airlines luxury liner will be on display.

Tickets may be purchased at the entrance to the east airport area off Old Bayshore Boulevard on Sunday afternoon.

On display alongside the modern jetliner will be a 1928 Ford Trimotor, a J-4 Travelaire biplane, a Stearman PT-9 of 1930 vintage, two Ryan PT-22's in which thousands of young men learned to fly in World War II, a 1940 Luscombe Silvaire, a 1934 Ryan STA, a Waco 10 and a Fairchild 24-R. The aircraft are the property of the Northern California Antique Aircraft Owners Association.

The highest known waterfall is Angel in Venezuela with a drop of 3,212 feet.

Leslie Salt Co. Plans To Move

Leslie Salt Co. has sold its San Francisco office building and will transfer corporate headquarters to Newark, Calif.

Leslie's two-story building at Beach and Jones Streets, near Fishermen's Wharf, has been sold to Bogue, Koch & Papini, of San Francisco, a partnership. The building has been Leslie's headquarters office since its completion in 1950.

The company is constructing a new administration building adjacent to its main salt production plant and refinery at Newark to house the executive, sales and accounting departments. The transfer of personnel and equipment from San Francisco to the new facility is expected to be completed by Oct. 31.

Del Monte Election

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Richard H. Ward has been elected group vice president-finance and a director of Del Monte Corp. He assumes the directorship recently vacated by the resignation of William Herbert Carr, retired group executive vice president. Carr had been a director of Del Monte for 23 years.

Mother's Day Boost Seen By Penney's

NEW YORK (BW) — The Mothers Day observance and an extra selling day during the last week of the month were key factors in J.C. Penney Co. Inc.'s 10.9 per cent sales gain in May.

Volume for the four weeks ended May 29 advanced to a record $310,853,284 from $280,283,046 for the comparable 1970 period, according to Chairman William M. Batten and President C. L. Wright.
